times die as they have lived; that the instant they pass into eternity they become fully awake.

27. DISASTROUS.—A storm sweeping over the land is the fearful figure of the terror of sinners in their day of trouble.

And as sinners cannot stand against a whole wind, no more can the sinner evade the coming destruction.

Distress and anguish are the result. All this must come to him who will not heed the call of heavenly wisdom.

28. THEN.—In this day of calamity and fear, men will pray for mercy, but the day for mercy will have passed.

29. WITH.—The Lord will be with the righteous. Let us be ready to meet him. Let us be ready to meet him. Let us be ready to meet him.

30. THE.—The Lord will be with the righteous. Let us be ready to meet him. Let us be ready to meet him. Let us be ready to meet him.
