Local Hunters Return from North with Fice Deer and One Moose.

WELLINGTON.—A very interesting meeting was held on Friday, Nov. 18th, in the Liberal-Conservative committee rooms. It took the form of an afternoon tea, with Mrs. W. R. Munro, president of the Liberal-Conservative County Association, as entertainer. The meeting opened with singing "God Save the King". Mrs. G. E. Matthews, president of the local association, introduced the speaker to the guests. Mrs. Munro urged women to use their franchise. Women as a whole have had their first vote in municipal affairs, and provincial, and now in federal. She urged the women to vote intelligently, to keep their temper, and above all, not indulge in personalities.

Then the speaker explained some of the issues of the day. She pointed out that the Senate was a necessary organ of government, keeping the balance in case there were frequent changes in the parties in power at Ottawa. And these Senators need to be men of stability and experience. "Why cry change? Our present Government shows itself efficient in the several issues, as transportation, postal system, charities between countries, Indian reserves, temperance, etc."

"The expenses of the country are derived in a perfectly legitimate way from tariff, excise taxes, and the four great industries, forest, mine, fisheries and farming." Mrs. Munro then discussed the policies of the three parties and the organization of the U.P.O. was explained. First they maintained class government, then group government. Group government once failed when seven groups tried to rule the two Canadas. Two parties alone survived her struggle. The two most liberal in their viewpoints, the Liberal-Conservatives and the Reformers, or, as later known, the Liberals. Mention was made of the charges laid at the door of protection, which are due to other causes entirely. Also of the inquiries into the railway situation, the Grain Growers' probe, and a more recent one into the affairs of the U.P.O. Co-operatives.

Finally Mrs. Munro asked her audience as voters that after they had made a thorough study of the affairs at issue, that if they could consistently do so, to support the Conservative candidate, Mr. John Hubbs, and through him, the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen. At the conclusion of the address lunch was served and a social hour enjoyed by all.

The Consolidate School Board met on Monday night, and plans and specifications for the new building were considered and it is understood that invitations for tenders will be issued this week.

At the Friends Meeting House on Monday evening, there was an interesting lantern lecture delivered by George H. Bycraft, of Coldstream, Ont., on the work of the American Friends Service Committee in France, Serbia, Germany, Austria Poland and Russia.

The lecturer, who was dressed in his service uniform, has been engaged in the work in France one year. The photographic slides shown on the screen gave some idea of what the people in these countries suffered during the war, and since the armistice and in conclusion the present deplorable state of Russia was referred to.

The English Friends began relief work in France in September, 1914, then at a later date, American Friends joined in the work of relief. It has from the first been a work of reconstruction, and, as far as possible the idea has been to help the people to help themselves, as this is the truest charity. Substantial portable houses were erected for French peasants. The French Government gave Friends lumber for their construction and they opened two factories in the vicinity of the forests in southeastern France. At the close of the war a special region was assigned to the Friends for reconstruction. It was eighteen miles west of Verdun and stretched northward from Clermont.

Within a year a number of villages were restored to activity. The first thing essential in every village was to make it possible for the return of the farmers. Houses were therefore the first consideration. Following this other things were provided at cost price, household furniture, farm implements, rabbits, chickens, goats and other live stock. CRUSHED BY DOOR

Dominic Fitzpatrick Suffers from Concussion of the Spine

Lindsay.—A distressing accident occurred on the farm of Mr. Hillary Fitzpatrick, West Ops, when his oldest son, Dominic, sustained serious injuries. Mr. Fitzpatrick and his son were engaged in cement work at the base of the silo, when a heavy barn door, became detached from its hinges, and fell. Mr. Fitzpatrick was struck by the door but was only slightly injured, but his son was crushed beneath the structure and a pile of stones. His father lifted the door, which had securely pinned his son to the earth and it was seen that he was severely injured. He was placed on a stoneboat and drawn to the house. The members of the family were in town when the accident happened so the assistance of neighbors was secured and the injured boy was made as comfortable as possible. His injuries were of such a nature that a priest was summoned to the bedside. Two physicians on arrival found that the unfortunate boy had sustained very severe cuts and bruises about the back and was suffering from concussion of the spine. His whole body from the shoulders down is paralyzed and although he never lost consciousness his condition is very serious.

POWER SHUT OFF.

Wind Blew Part of Incinerator Stack Off—No Serious Damage.

KINGSTON.—The electric power was shut off in the city when twenty-five feet of the steel smoke-stack at the incinerator was blown off in the windstorm. The guy wires, formerly supporting the stack, fell across the lines, running into the city power station. No other serious damage was done to the station, and only one wire was broken, belonging to the Bell Telephone Company. While the lines were being removed from the power wires, the service had to be disconnected. For some time it has been the intention to remove the stack and build a new one as it has become very shaky, and the least puff of wind was liable to blow the whole affair over.

SHOOTING RENewed

BELFAST, Nov. 22.—Shooting was renewed during dinner hour today in Ballymacarrett district. One man was shot dead and another was wounded.

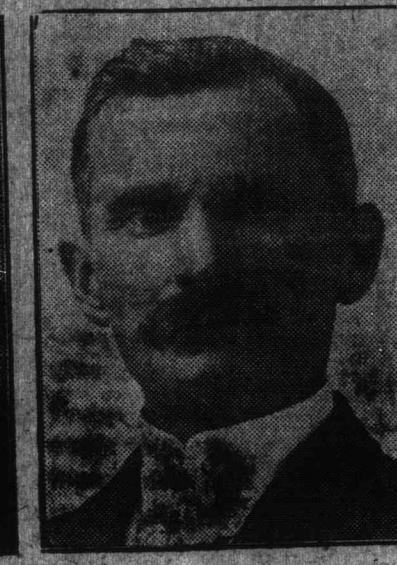

These who heard the lecture and saw the slides certainly got a wider vision of the Christian service, and the need for such. Rev. J. U. Robbins, the Methodist minister, kindly furnished the lantern and put through the slides.

The hall, which is located on the second floor of the building next to the post office and general stores, was so crowded with the followers of the U. F. It is stated that after the people had left the building, the floor went back into place again, and the props dropped out.
