This manure is so combined, that the Amusonia and other festilizing gases are absorbed, fixed, and are given out to vegetation only as it requires them. No rot, mildew, worm, fly, nor other insects can approach it—an important consideration to farmers generally, but particularly in cotton and potato planting. It will be found admirably adapted for the growth of Cane, Cotton, and Tobacco, in the West India Islands, and renovating, restoring, and fertilizing such lands as have been worn out and abundoned.

March 28. Analysis of the Water of the Georgia

Analysis of the Water of the Goorgian Spring.

I have made a careful quantitative analysis of a quantity of this Water seat me by the Proprietor of the Spring, Captain Kaina. It is a Saline Water, containing earthy Chloride, with portions of Bromids and Iodide, thus resembling the Plantagenet Water, from which it differs chiefly in the presence of a partion of Sulphates, which are not often met with in Waters of this class in the Province. It has a specific gravity of 1008.78, and contains is one pould avoirdupois, the affixed quantities of the following substances:—

Grains.

Chlorid of Sodium. Chlorid of Potassium.
Chlorid of Potassium
Chlorid of Calcium
Chlorid of Magnesium
Bromid of Magnesium
Iodid of Magnesium
Sulphute of Lime
Carbonate of Lime
Carbonate of Magnesia .02016 .01904 1.35044 2.08600 2.54016 Carbonate of Magnesia...... Carbonate of Iron..... Traces .14350 76.87015 Chemial to the Geological Con Office of the Geological Survey, Montreal, May 26, 1851.

Montreal, May 26, 1851.

Having compared 7. 8. Hunt's, Esq., anoftyon of the Mineral Water of the Georgian Spring with the analysis made by him of the Plantagenet Spring Water, I may mention that the Water of the Georgian Spring contains all the ingredients found in the Plantagenet, with an addition of Sulphane of Limb, differing flowever in some respects as the quantity may opinion of the effects of the Georgian Water, in order that an, opportunity might be afforded me of speaking more confidently of the departages to be derived from its employment. I have witnessed beueficial results from its use, see an aperient, sincerial derangement attendant upon the early measure of pregnancy. I have me doubt that the Georgian Spring Water derangement attendant upon the early measure of pregnancy. I have me doubt that the Georgian Spring Water will be found equally beneficial in the care of thesemanism, Serolais, and Drapopue Aiments, as any other Mineral Wester met with in the vicinity of this cary.
