

W. A. Patterson's Campaign Sheet Reviewed.

Article Second.

To the Farmers of the County of Colchester.

When I stated in my letter of last week that you had to pay for the delinquencies of manufacturers...

Before I leave this part of the subject I wish to remark that this parliament of the manufacturers...

It does seem strange that your elected representatives should permit this. But there is something stranger...

I must now turn my attention to the Budget Speech of George E. Foster. He opens his "great speech"...

"Sir, the principle of the tariff was discussed in 1878 and never since receding." This statement of the Finance Minister...

This great Political Economist says: "A monopoly granted to an individual or a trading company..."

The price of monopoly is upon every occasion the highest which can be taken, not upon every occasion...

I will now quote the opinion of one of the French Economists: "When a landed nation oppresses either by high duties or by prohibitions..."

Whether we agree with these principles or not one thing is certain we heard nothing of them from the N. P. side of the house in the discussions...

What did we hear? What was the burden of the discussion? Some of the speakers would be very anxious to tempt by his own interest to turn as much as he can both his capital and his industry from the former to the latter employment.

What we heard was that the N. P. side of the house in the discussions of the tariff in 1878 and in preceding years. What did we hear? What was the burden of the discussion?

Orators should, and so, too, many of you believed. These wicked Yankees were offering us goods entirely too cheap and this was going to be the death of you. For this great crime...

The picture held up before your gaze was one of unparalleled and continuous prosperity. These Yankees who bothered you with cheap goods...

It is not only that we have a new Parliament to deal with and support, but it has gone back to the old days of our history, and does its work in secret.

was under discussion to raise the duties from 15 to 17 1/2 per cent ad valorem. Dr. Tupper interposed in his vigorous style and said that it will not be done for it would be entering the thin edge of the wedge of protection.

By whom are we governed? The statements made by Dalton McGarrity at the meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Hall on the 31st ult., that in his endeavour in Parliament to prevent the dual language system from being fastened permanently on the Northwest Territories...

PHILLIPS, THE CLOTHIER, Brick Block, Inglis Street, Truro, N. S.

The Dominion of Canada that we would expect to speak out in thunder tones against this cruel wrong to our country and our posterity, it surely is Colchester. We have the love of religious liberty; we are descended from an ancestry that knew what popish tyranny meant.

Another speaker laid the grievance of the Catholics of the city before the honorable gentleman, pointing out that the requests which they had made to the school board and to the local government, that certain facilities for one year should be granted to the teachers to continue their authority to teach until a settlement of the school difficulty could be arrived at, and that they might be allowed to use one of their own buildings as a Catholic school, subject to the regular inspections of the government inspector, and run in accordance with the regulations of the Protest at school board, had been treated in a very cavalier manner.

In reply to Mr. Laurier's question, one of the delegation said that no complaint had been laid before the Hon. Minister, Foster or Angers when they were here, because the Catholics of Winnipeg did not believe that the government following in the house would give their support to a measure of redress which was personally disapproved of or against the wishes of a large number of them.

"I don't think so," said one of the deputations. "You honor very much," said Mr. Laurier, "but as the question is revived, from your previous remarks, to be taken as a political one, I must ask you to excuse me from dealing now with a question which would take us into politics. You refused to place your signature before the government, and because, as I understand, you think that your petition should be presented to the government at Ottawa with these facts."

"If after careful consideration of both the pros and cons, and that justice is being done, and that it is not a fair hearing, and would be as favorable as a brought before a parliament."

Mr. Laurier said that many of the things that had been said by the deputations were new to him. He had heard of such definite complaints in any petition which had been laid before parliament.

While informing them that he was not prepared to take any action at present, they might rest assured that in the discussions which might follow he would not fail to bring forward the amount of information which he had just now received.

Too Much Tobacco. (Nineteenth Century.) The toxic effects of tobacco among the lower classes in England are comparatively infrequent. The form which the poisoning takes is that known to ophthalmic surgeons as tobacco amblyopia.

Mr. Laurier a Separate Schools Manitoba. During Mr. Laurier's visit to Winnipeg, an interview took place between him and an influential member of Roman Catholic education, separate schools.

There is not a man nor woman in Colchester who believes that there should be two systems of public schools in our Prairie Province. We all believe that the school system which is working so admirably in Nova Scotia, and is so good a model for forcing Manitoba to adopt separate schools against the declaration of her legislature, and to abolish public schools.
