

Household Hints.

Never let tea boil. For rough hands, use lemon juice. Strong lye cleans faded pork barrels.

Tepid milk and water clean oilcloth without soap. Have as much fruit always on hand as you can afford.

A hot shawl held over furniture removes white spots. Smoke dried mullin leaves in new clay pipe for bronchitis.

Sprinkle sassafras bark among dried fruit to keep out worms. Pop corn is a good lunch for Sunday nights with milk for drink.

A handful of hay in a pailful of water neutralizes smell of paint. To make a carpet look fresh, wipe with a damp cloth after sweeping.

Clean tea or coffee cups with scouring brick; makes them look good as new. Cover plants with newspapers before sweeping. Also put a little ammonia upon them once a week.

Washing pine floor in solution of one pound of copperas dissolved in one gallon strong lye gives oak color. Remove flower pot stains from window sills by rubbing with fine wood ashes and rinse with clean water.

Mixture of two parts of glycerine, one part ammonia and little rose water whitens and softens the hands. Corn husks braided make a serviceable and handsome mat. The braids to be sewed with sack needle and twine.

A cheap support for vine before a window in a prairie country is a branch of a tree. Dig a post hole a short distance from the house and set your branches. Train your vines like this.

To Wash Chintz.—Make a lather of the best soft soap, add one tablespoonful of vinegar and a pinch of salt to every quart, a large proportion to rinsing water; rinse quickly and the color will be as good as new.

BLACK CASHMERE.—The best way to cleanse black cashmere is to place the dress or goods in strong borax water, make lukewarm. Let it remain in soak all night. Then take out and hang on a line to drip until nearly dry, when it may be pressed off. Do not rinse or wring.

IRON RUST FROM LINEN.—To remove iron rust from linen, apply lemon juice and salt; expose to the sun. Make two applications if necessary. Then, when perfectly dry, rinse in clear cold water. Lemon juice can only be used on white goods, as it takes out printed colors as well as stains.

HOMEMADE YEAST.—Four large potatoes, four tablespoonfuls of flour, two of sugar, one quart of lukewarm water; soak one yeastcake in a cup of water while you are mixing up the rest; put it in a warm place 12 hours; then it is ready for use; one cupful makes five loaves; keep in a cool place.

TO RENOVATE SILKS.—Sponge faded silks with warm water and soap; then rub them with dry cloth on a flat board; afterwards iron them on the inside with a smoothing iron. Old black silks may be improved by sponging them with spirits. In this case the ironing may be done on the right side, thin paper being spread over to prevent glazing.

FOR FRECKLES, THE FOLLOWING LOTIONS.—1. Muriato of ammonia, half a drachm; lavender water, two drachms; distilled water, half a pint; apply with a sponge three times a day. 2. One ounce of lemon juice; quarter drachm powdered borax; half drachm sugar; mix and let stand a few days in a glass bottle; then rub on hands and face occasionally.

STAINS FROM DRESSES.—Stains from fabrics may be removed by moistening the spot with a solution of Epson salts in a few drops of hot water. Rub it in well the first time and then moisten again. Next fill a tin vessel with boiling water and set it on the steamed place a few minutes, and afterwards wash out in soft water. It is advisable to have articles thus treated washed immediately.

COCAINUT CAKE.—Two cuppowdered sugar, three eggs, one cup sweet milk, three cups flour, two teaspoonfuls cream tartar, one teaspoonful soda. Bake in layers. Filling.—Whites of three eggs, beaten to a stiff froth, and one of powdered sugar, to which add one-third of a package of desiccated coconut.

BLACKER WEDDING CAKE.—One pound powdered sugar, one pound butter, one pound flour, 12 eggs, one pound currants, well washed and dredged, one pound raisins seeded and chopped, half pound citron, cut into strips, one tablespoonful cinnamon, one nutmeg, one teaspoonful cloves, one wineglass brandy. Cream the butter and sugar, add well together before adding half the flour. The spice should come next; then the beaten whites, stir up in alternately with the rest of the flour, last the brandy. Bake two hours in deep pans lined with buttered paper. This cake will keep several months. To make a plainer cake, take half the quantity of fruit, seven eggs, and three-fourths of a pound of butter.

POISON IVY.—As several cases of poisoning have occurred from the handling of this seemingly harmless plant, we publish the following recipe, which is said to be an unfailing remedy, and may prove very useful to some of our readers in the future.—Put ten to twenty drops of bromine in one ounce of olive oil or glycerine and apply three or four times a day, especially on going to bed. The bromine is volatile, so only a small quantity should be made.

Jane Grey Swinshelm is out with fresh condemnation of the corset; "Man, in Christian civilization," she says, "sees no beauty in the female form unless there is a notch all around it, like that with which a woodman denudes a tree. The deeper the notch the better is he pleased, and in making this notch for his admiration and convenience a woman as surely, if not as shortly, takes her own life as the woodman takes that of the tree."

Cold and Heat.

Women make a mistake in trying to increase their comfort in hot weather by covering the arms and neck as lightly as possible, while the trunk, certainly in part, has five, six, eight or ten thicknesses of covering. In a congregation of ladies dressed in this way and gentlemen dressed in broadcloth throughout, every lady will be fanning herself and occasionally suffering with heat, while the men, apparently entirely oblivious of the weather, are at liberty to give undivided attention to the sermon. Men do not bear heat better than women by constitutional endowment, but by reason of the fact that they are so clad that the lungs are free to take in abundance of oxygen, and the blood free to flow to every part of the system. Besides the circumstance that the woman can only half breathe, and their clothing piled up on some parts causes too much blood to accumulate there, and consequently those parts lightly covered have too little blood, and as a matter of course they must suffer.

By securing to themselves greater uniformity in the distribution of the clothing and making it loose and easy, ladies lose their dread of summer's heat and of winter's cold as well; for there are multitudes of well-to-do women in this country who have never known what it is to be dressed comfortably warm in cold weather.—[Dr. H. N. Austin.

Teeth Retained by Drinking Water. A well-known dentist called the attention of a reporter to the effects of Allegheny River water on the teeth of a large portion of our citizens. He stated that there were more persons afflicted with white decay or crumbling teeth in this vicinity than in any other city in which he had practiced. The teeth of those afflicted with this form of disease were generally very white, and they gradually crumbled into powder. He attributed the great prevalence of white decay here to the absence of lime in the drinking water. People suffered from acidity of the system, and lime was the alkali which would benefit them. In the eastern portion of Pennsylvania, or rather in countries where the people drank "hard" water, they generally had hard and sound teeth, but in communities where "soft" water was used the opposite result was found. He advised the drinking of lime-water by people troubled with white decay.

Water Bouquets. I raise quite a variety of flowers, consequently I am quite fond of making bouquets. One I think very handsome is the water bouquet. The smallest flowers are the prettiest. I generally take sweet slyssium, fuchsias, rose geranium leaves, and perhaps a pink or two, arrange them in a small bouquet, wind the stems closely together with thread, then leave about a finger length of thread, to which fasten a small pebble, also fasten tin foil around the stems. Get a pail of water, a glass tumbler, and a small plate, put the plate in the bottom of the pail, your bouquet in the glass in the pail upside down upon the plate, raise up your plate, and if all the air is out of the glass, you will have a beautiful bouquet to adorn parlor or school-room. Scholars are always anxious for something new.

Golden Opportunities. How lamentable that we should go through the world misunderstanding one another; letting slip golden opportunities for glimpses into men's better nature, which might have knit our hearts to theirs in a brotherhood of love, and drawn the veil of charity over faults which, in our blindness, seemed to us without a virtue to balance them. Angels turn sorrow away from this soul-blindness of ours, and fends laugh over the final fall of despair which our helping hands might, at such moments, have averted. Well for us all it is that He, who is himself without sin, more merciful than man, sees gathering tears in eyes that we deem hard and dry.

Doesn't Change Nature. Some people fear that marriage will suffer if we establish female colleges, but this is a mistake. The president of Vassar college (for women) was asked whether the wisdom the young ladies acquired made them look down on that miserable creature man as a deplorable object, to which he replied with a smile, that "man was the first institution the first woman ever knew," and she will in future as in the past look up to him. To prove that the young ladies can learn Greek and master trigonometry and still think of marriage, all I have to say is that three of the graduating class go to their homes to be married this summer.

These are Solid Facts. The best blood purifier and system regulator ever placed within the reach of suffering humanity, truly is Electric Bitters. Inactivity of the Liver, Biliousness Jaundice, Constipation, Weak Kidneys, or any disease of the urinary organs, or whoever requires an appetizer, tonic or mild stimulant, will always find Electric Bitters the best and only certain cure known. They act surely and quickly, every bottle guaranteed to give entire satisfaction or money refunded. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by J. Wilson. [4]

The Tricycle & Co.

The girl on a tricycle has already made her appearance at the summer resorts. As observed at Newport, she sat between two wheels, which were connected by a short axle-tree, on a kind of saddle-astride of it, but not so circumstanced as to make divided garments necessary, as in riding a horseback, man fashion. Her feet reached down to treads, and her hands were employed in steering by means of a device connected with a low front wheel. Her posture was not that of sitting, however, but her figure was suspended nearly perpendicular, and her legs were moved a great deal like those of a horse afflicted with springhalt, or a swimmer treading water. Her knees came up high with an action more productive of good exercise than of grace. And yet she was a symmetrical and pleasing traveller. The prescribed costume is soft, thin flannel, with a blouse waist, and a skirt reaching just to the gaiter tops. It is obvious that the latter could not be steadily maintained, in view of the high treading required to work the tricycle, without some special modification of the garment. This want has been supplied by taking an idea from the equestrian habit. Lengthwise of the skirt in front two gussets are set in at points where the knees will protrude into them in riding.

Kind Words. Give the young and struggling a word of encouragement when you can. You would not leave those plants in your window-boxes without water, nor refuse to open the shutters that the sunlight might fall upon them; but you would leave some human flower to suffer from want of appreciation or the sunlight of encouragement. There are a few hardy souls that can struggle along on stony soil—shrubs that can wait for the dews and sunbeams—vines that climb without kindly training; but only a few. Utter the kind word when you can see that it is deserved. The thought that "no one cares and no one knows" blights many a bud of promise. Be it the young artist at his easel, the young preacher in his pulpit, the workman at his bench, the boy at his mathematical problems, or your little girl at the piano, give what praise you can.

How to Make Children Moral. I sometimes think that instead of beginning, as we do, with a whole heaven and earth embracing theory of duty to God and man, it might be better to adopt with our children the method of dealing only with each particular instance of moral obligation emphatically as it occurs; with each particular incident of life, detached, as it were, from the notion of a formal system, code, or theory of religious belief, until the recurrence of the same rules of morality under the same governing principle, invoked, only in immediate application to some instance of conduct or incident of personal experience, built up by degrees a holy precedent that would have the force and efficacy of law before it was theoretically inculcated as such. Whoever said that principles were moral habits spoke, it seems to me, a valuable truth, not generally sufficiently recognized or acted upon in the task of education.—[Mrs. Kemble.
