Kemal Pasha.

Kemal Pasha, the head of the Angora (New Turkish) Government, and leader in the conflict with Greece, is one of the three men of giant stature who has risen in the East since the close of the Great War. He is the personification of the Turkish people, and like all Turks, whether pasha or peasant has always been a soldier. In age he is forty-one, holds the rank of Field Marshal, and is vested with the title of Ghazi (the victorious). All the highest military honors that his nation and faith (Moslem) can confer upon him are his. He is the type of officer-politician whom only the Turkish Army could produce. Mustafa Kemal was born in Saloniki, but hails from Larissa, Thessaly. During the war he was divisional commander in Gallipoli Peninsula, but disagreeing with his German Chief of Staff, he was sent to Syria where he began secretly organizing branches of the "Society of Liberty" amongst the Arabs. Realising, however, that these would never become the nucleus of a Turkish revolutionary movement he finally succeeded in getting himself transferred to Saloniki, where he merged the Society of Liberty into the Society of Progress and Union. Eventually he created the Nationalist movement in Asia Minor and so was ready for the striking of the hour when his forces could be set in motion. That hour has since struck and with the utter rout of the Greek troops by the Kemalists, Europe is confronted with a situation perhaps unprecedented in history.

The aim of Kemal Pasha was the revision of the Treaty of Sevres, and this was almost accomplished by diplomatic means when Greece rejected the modification proposals, and shortly afterwards began offensive operations, the objective of the Hellenic armies being Eskişehir. The initial operations have been thus briefly described: The offensive started March 23, 1921, Greek troops of the southern group advancing toward Afion Karahissar, which was their objective, while the Northern groups were ordered to invest Eskişehir. Incidentally the two groups were to destroy the Turkish railway leading from Afion-Karahissar to Konia, and also the line that connected Eskişehir with Angora. Both groups reached their objectives, but the connecting group of Kutahia, forming the centre of the Greek advance, failed to march in conjunction with the others, and thus the whole operation was frustrated, the Greeks being obliged to fall back on their bases, losing almost four thousand men in killed and wounded. While the Turkish losses must have been equal if not more. The railroad remained in the hands of Mustafa Kemal, as well as the moral advantage of that battle, which Turkish diplomacy endeavored to use by every means. The second Greek offensive was launched on June 10, 1921, and on July 16-17 the battle of Kutahia was won and the Turks badly beaten. All that has followed since then has been told in dispatches, and now a most critical situation has arisen. All Europe is interested and must take immediate steps to restore peace or to keep the belligerents within their own boundaries. The destruction of the city of Smyrna adds to the complexities of international action. The concentration of the British fleet at that seaport shows that Britain is closely watching events. Further the invitation to the dominions to send contingents proves that an Imperial display of force is contemplated. Whether or not the portents indicate another bloody conflict, every precaution should be taken by Western Europe to avert a war which might involve every nation in the Eastern and Western hemispheres.

Newfoundland's Answer

WILL DO HER BEST IF NEEDED.

That Newfoundland will do her best if her services are needed was the answer which the Executive Government have sent to Great Britain in reply to the message asking for the co-operation of the Dominion in the event of war in the Near East. That it will be necessary to send a contingent from the Colony is, however, believed to be unlikely. A member of the Executive told the Telegram to-day that the message from Great Britain was in the nature of a feeler to determine and demonstrate to her Allies and enemies, the solidarity and integrity of the Empire.

Heroic Sentiments of Prime Minister.

AS EXPRESSED TO COLONIAL OFFICE.

When approached by the Colonial Office in London as to the position of Newfoundland in the event of another war, Sir Richard Squires, K.C.M.G. made this significant and characteristic reply, according to a cable received from London.

"Newfoundland does not want the British Empire to get into another row, but if there has to be a row we want to be in it."

Notable Events in History.

BATTLE OF POITIERS.
On the 19th September, 1356, Edward III, King of England, defeated the armies of King John of France at a spot five miles north of Poitiers, from which the battle gets its name. The French loss was over 11,000 killed and wounded and 2000 prisoners, among them being the French King and one of his sons, who were brought to London, and there treated by their captor in a manner becoming their royal rank.

DEATH OF PRESIDENT GARFIELD.

James A. Garfield, President of the United States 1880-81, was shot by a madman named Guileau on July 2nd of the latter year, and died on September 19 following.

Attending Conference.

DELEGATES LEAVE FOR TORONTO
By today's express most of the Newfoundland representatives left to attend the General Conference of the Methodist Church, which is being held in Toronto. The delegates are:—The Rev. W. J. Morris, (President Newfoundland Conference.) Ezra Broughton (Secretary.) L. Curtis, S. Bennett, H. C. Copple, and E. C. French; Messrs. J. Leamon, W. H. Peters, A. Soper, A. Vatcher, L. B. Clarke, and A. G. Hudson. Several of the delegates are being accompanied by their wives.

Caught in Storm.

FISHING BOAT FOUNDERS.
The following message, reporting the loss of a fishing boat and a trying experience of the crew was received yesterday afternoon by the Marine & Fisheries Department, from Magistrate Duggan, LaSalle:—"Stanley and Peter Philpott of Point of Bay, Exploits, returning from the fishery, were caught out in Saturday night's storm. Their boat, with 50 quintals of fish on board, foundered and the men reached here in their motor boat Sunday, after a terrible experience."

New Governor Dines Lord Morris.

In a letter to a friend in the city received by last mail, Lord Morris states that he had luncheon in London with Sir Wm. Allardice, K.C.M.G. Lord Morris states that our new governor is of the type that will likely prove popular. He did not state when His Excellency would be leaving for here.

Tariff Commission Meets Board of Trade Council.

A PECULIAR SITUATION.

The Tariff Commission, appointed during the last session of the Legislature, met the Council of the Board of Trade yesterday afternoon for the purpose of arranging for the taking of evidence on the proposed tariff changes. Several recommendations were proposed by the Council. The instructions issued by the Commission are apparently not definite, and very little progress is being made. The problem is a big one, and embraces the reclassification of the present schedule so as to have the same tariff items under one heading, and at the same time, have a more equitable tax on the articles, without reducing the total revenue. For this purpose, a comparison of the classification of the articles under consideration and its relation to similar articles, both under the proposed and old rate has to be made. An example of this may be given in the case of meat. At present, Fresh Meat pays a duty of 2 cents per pound, plus tax, super tax, and sale tax, and Salt meat 1½ cents, also plus extra taxes. Should the duty be equalized by reducing that on the fresh meat on a par with salt meat, what effect would it have on the combined imports? That is a question to which an answer will embrace the whole rescheduling of the present tariff, with the possibilities favoring an all round increase.

Archbishop Roche at Petty Harbor.

CONFIRMATION ADMINISTERED.

On Sunday last His Grace Archbishop Roche, accompanied by Rt. Rev. Messrs. McDermott, V.G., and Father Rawlin, drove to Petty Harbor where the Sacrament of Confirmation was administered to about 180 children. Mr. Andrew Hearn, of Petty Harbor, and Mrs. Wm. Hearn, of Maddox Cove acted as sponsors. After the ceremony His Grace addressed the children exhorting them to be true and faithful members of their Church. His Grace also thanked the people of Petty Harbor for the wholesome reception accorded him and he congratulated Rev. Dean Tierney on the excellence of the parish. The people of the parish had made great preparations for the reception of the distinguished visitors and arches were erected at various places and a lot of bunting was displayed. The arrival of the party was greeted with salvos of misquetry.

Wireless Not Working.

NEW INSTALLATION FOR RAMEA.

The Wireless Stations between Ramea and Burgeo have not been working for some time, to the great inconvenience of exporters at the former place. Certain reasons are given for the non-maintenance of Communication. It is expected however, that in a short time new and more powerful apparatus will be installed at Ramea, which will then work with Ramea. At which place also, a station is being put up, and from thence by relay to Cape Race. This will be a decided improvement and more satisfaction to merchants and fishermen enroute.

"The Poetry of Flowers"

Like the power of music is interpreted to fit a thousand moods or purposes. To the sick, to the sad, to the gay,—to the friend we love or esteem, regardless of the particular occasion—Flowers are always appropriate, always acceptable, and always understood. ### Our Local Paps

HIS DIARY.

Sept. 18th.—Much talk of war all the day and the cause of it that the British Government did send to the Dominions to ask if they would send forces to Turkey, if it so happened that they were needed. So all the people in the city to make much of it and some to say how there will be a war greater than the last war. This I do not think will come to pass, but my wife might be frightened and would have me promise that I stay at home if the call comes, which I will not do, and think it is because the wretched tears how she will not be able to dress so well, when I am not by to give her money. The weather turned mighty cool and the autumn, indeed, with us. At night, discoursing with my wife about our house and many new things, we contemplate doing.

S. P. A. Tag Day.

The funds of the Society Protection Animals, who maintain an Inspector, Mr. Jonas Barter, are lower than for many years, the treasury being exhausted. The directors have arranged with the lady supporters of the Society to organize a tag day for Saturday, Sept. 23, and the ladies under Mrs. J. B. Mitchell as convenor are kindly undertaking this work. In order to interest the children of the eighteen city schools in the work of caring for those who cannot speak for themselves, the Society has asked the co-operation of the schools to send fifteen representatives each to assist in the work, as well as appealing to Scoutmaster R. Furlong for the Boy Scouts. A cycle patrol will also be a feature of the day and it is expected to have 250 gallant lads and lassies act as collector Saturday morning at the tag stations. The general public is asked to contribute generously as the services of the S. P. A. are given freely to all classes—they speak for those who cannot speak for themselves.

Storm at Clarendville.

HORSE AND COW KILLED.

Serg. Chetrell, who has just returned from Clarendville, bringing up a prisoner, states that a terrific lightning and thunder storm was experienced there on Saturday night. The storm broke at 10.30 o'clock and lasted until early Sunday. Very little damage was done except that a bolt entered the barn owned by Mr. Joseph Long and killed his horse, cow and a cat. Mr. Long, who is the owner of the hotel at Clarendville, did not discover his loss until the morning when he went to let out his animals. The side of the horse was singed from the lightning but there were no marks on the cow. Pieces of the cat's fur were scattered over the cattle stalls.

Bud Worm Moth

FOUND AT WHITBOURNE.

The spruce bud worm of which so much has been written lately is apparently spreading far from its first haunts, near Nagle's Hill. All the coniferous trees in the eastern section of St. John's out to the salt water are showing signs of the insects ravages and the same condition may be observed in the western section, along the Broad Cove line. Moths of the species have also been observed in the houses at Whitbourne and no doubt but in a short while the trees in that vicinity will show the presence and ravages of the pest.
