Paine's Celery Compound The Great Life Renewer and Health Giver.

A Noted Physician's Opinion.

{ Paine's Celery Compound was the crowning production of America's most eminent Physician—Professor E. E. Phelps, M. D. Such a physician could only give wha was worthy of his great and elevated character to suffering humanity. His best urs were devoted to the perfecting of what is now known in millions of homes in Britain, Europe and on this continent as Paine's Celery Compound, nature's food medicine for the nerves, brain and blood. After our long winter and late spring, a host of people of every age have been left in a week, languid, and depressed condition of health. The nerves are unstrung, the body is emaciated, the blood is stagnant and impure, digestion is faulty and constipation is doing its deadly work.

Your safety, health and future physicial happiness demand the immediate use of Paine's Celery Compound, whose marvellous virtues are recognized by our ablest physicians, many of whom make personal ase of it in their homes: Dr. A. W. K. Newton, writing to the proprietors of

Paine's Celery Compound, says:
"The formula of Paine's Celery Compound led me to give it a personal trial, and I was much pleased with the result. I prescribe it for men and women who have no appetite, cannot sleep, and for the weak and rundown. For this condition, and for disorders of the blood and nerves, it has no equal. It is the best possible remedy to keep up one's strength and energy during Ottawa, May 16 .- The first batch of supplementary estimates were brought down-by Mr. Fielding in the House yesterday afternoon. They amount to $96,618, and are on account of legislation. The items include $8,000 for reporting and printing of debates, $15,000 for publishing debates, $10,500 for sessional clerks, and $18,278 for the sessional staff of the sergeant-at-arms and $25,000 for printing and paper, etc. Mr. Fielding promised that the rest of the supplementary estimates would be brought down in a few digs.

The Paris Exposition.

Mr. Fisher, in reply to a question, said last night that Prof. Robertson had gone to Paris to fix up the storage exhibit of Canada. E thing was now in shape.

In reply to Mr. Taylor, Sir Wilfrid said that the Fox Bay settlers had received notice to quit Anticosti from Mr. Menier. The Government had offered them land near Lake Winnipeg or Lake Winnipegosis and they had accepted it. The Government would see that their transportation was paid.

Sir Louis Davies resumed debate on Much regret is felt here that a license for selling liquor was granted to the hotel. The Christian and clared the House had acted with under the hotel was represented desired to investigate the West Huron and Brockville elections at 3.25. He declared the House had acted with under the hotel was represented desired to investigate the West Huron and Brockville elections at 3.25. due haste in referring these election cases to the Elections Committee last year, because that committee about the most inefficient body eing to decide a question of fact. committee was peculiarly qualified to decide a question of law, but a ques-tion of fact was beyond it. His ar-guments against the committee were: The British Parliament had with-drawn all questions of fact from such a body, the personnel of the commit tee changed daily: the law provided properly constituted controverted lections court. Sir Louis declared that Mr. Borden was to blame for the position the matter was in to-day. Because of his negligence, the resolution was brought up three and a half months after the opening of the session. The dovernment was in no wise to

He was interrupted at this point by Mr. Borden, who said that the only person who repeatedly said "Stand" when the motion to grant "Stand" when the motion to grant an investigation came up, was Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It was the Prime Minister's duty, as custodian of the honor of the House, to have taken the first opportunity to send the cases to the committee, as had been done last year. (Opposition applause.)

Sir Louis Davies, resuming, said that Mr. Borden's resolution was couched in such equivocal terms that the Government had to reject it or swallow it whole. It linked West Huron and Brockville. Many members thought West Huron should be investigated, but not Brockville. He then reviewed the evidence, and in the case of Brockville concluded that there was shown no corrupt act, for which any man could be punished. Sir Louis Davies, resuming, said

A Nasty Crack, This.

Mr. Borden--Official ballots were in the hands of Liberal workers.

Sir Louis retorted that the House had to prove a distinct and positive them. No charge the company of the compa propped up by cushions, suffering intensely from an aching back, in agony if he tried to stoop—all caused by chronic kidney trouble, that no medicine helped till sed Electric Bitters and was wholly cured by the es bottles. And to prove a distinct and positive statement of wrongdoing. No charge that been made against the returning officer in Brockville in the affidavit read by Mr. Borden — the new element in the Brockville case. Sir Louis denied that Mr. Borden had been ashamed to read more than a paragraph from the document. Besides, Judge Morgan has characterized Pritchett, the maker of the affidavit, "a self-convicted liar," To ask the House to act on such evidence davit, "a self-convicted har. the House to act on such evidence was an insult.

Again the Cry of Courts.

In conclusion, Sir Louis summed up his remarks, and declared that all parties should be relegated to the courts already provided by law. If the matter was refereed to the committee, persons already tried and acquitted would be again placed on trial. This would violate one of the first principles of criminal law.

Mr. Powell at Work.

Mr. Powell (Westmoreland) accused Mr. Powell (Westmoreland) accused the First Minister of dilatoriness in appointing an Elections Committee, in order to burk the inquiry. He reminded the Government that the procedure taken last year should have been followed this. Why did the Government alter its policy? At every stage the Government opposed. The resolution was side-tracked by "stands at the request of the Government." Mr. Powell then reviewed the evidence, and said all these facts made him believe that there had been a deep laid plot to steal elections. For ears the turning of a Conserva majority in a constituency to a Conservative minority had made Conservatives suspicious that there was a wide spread conspiracy on foot. He wide spread conspiracy on foot. He proposed to trace that conspiracy. He read Donald McNish's confession in the West Elgin election. That confession showed that the same old gang that worked in West Huron had plied their trade in West Elgin. As they had no political influence the only conclusion was they were there to stead the they had no political influence the only conclusion was they were there to steal the election. Mr. Powell then read three affidavits made by Thomas Pritchett, ex-alderman, of

He challenged the Government to arraign Pritchett if they believed his evidence was false. He declared

The Government challenged.

With these affidavits before the House, Mr. Powell challenged the Government to refuse an investiga-tion. These affidavits, and the evidence already adduced, proved beyond a doubt that McLean, not Holmes, was M.P. for West Huron, and White, not Comstock, had been elected in Brockville. These things were food for thought, and required action on the property of the Covernment. action on the part of the Govern ment.

Attitude of the Ministers.

He reverted to the attitude of the Ministers before the committee last year. When Cummings had been convicted out of his own mouth of stealing ballots, Mr. Blair withdrew from the committee, declaring he needed no further evidence of fraud. But to-day it was left to Sir Louis Davies to stand as godfather to this clique, composed of Farr, et al. Today Sir Louis tried in vain to hoodwink people in order to protect the villainous gang, because, forthsooth, he may have shared in the spoils He called upon the members of the House Attitude of the Ministers. called upon the members of the House to uphold the purity of elections, and asked if it was possible that Sir Wilfrid, who held the honor and in-tegrity of the State in his hand, had not courage to grapple with the members of his own Cabinet, who desired to shield the gang from Rome, May 16. — A terrible accident, resulting in the death of from 30 to 40 persons, took place yesterday at Roneiglione, on the Lake of Vico, during a celebration of the fete of St. Lucie, whose chapel is on the shore of the lake.

Two boats filled with young people capsized while returning from the chapel, within three hundred yards of the landing stage. Only 13 person were saved.

Old Man Blake Released,

Kingston, May 16. — Thoma Blake, a prisoner in the Kingston Blake, a prisoner in the Kingston Penitentiary, was taken to Perth yesterday morning by Keeper Beau-pre. A year ago Blake, who is about 70 years of age, was sentenced to the penitentiary for the remainder of his penitentiary for the remainder of his life for murdering his wife. It was held that Blake was insane at the time he committed the terrible deed, and efforts have since been made to have him released. The Department of Justice finally decided to discharge the prisoner, and to place him in the hands of the Perth authorities, so that he might be sent to an insane hospital. Blake is quite harmless now, and as quiet as a child.
