Owing to some difficulty the committee have for interview the supreme chief at Toronto, and the High Court were unable to make any announcement of the meeting sooner. Even the meeting place had been selected and all arrangements made, and delegates were under the impression that Goderich would be the meeting place this year. Under these circumstances the meeting will be held as usual.

JUMPED FROM A MOVING TRAIN.
Fireman Whitehall, of the G. T. R., has a badly sprained ankle, the result of jumping from a swiftly moving train. He was on No. 1 express, due here at 2:55 a.m., the other night, with Engineer Ranahan at the throttle, and on seeing a freight train on the track ahead, and the semaphores against them, he concluded that the train was going to be a smash, and jumped. The freight, however, got out of the way in good time. The train was stopped, and Whitehall picked up in a dazed condition. His ankle pained him badly and he was slightly cut and bruised.

Rev. Dr. Bayne At St. Andrew's.

Rev. G. D. Bayne, Ph.D., of Pembroke, who preached in St. Andrew's Church, at both services yesterday, quite captivated those who heard him by his fine abilities, both oratorical and rhetorical. Mr. Bayne is a man in the prime of life, strong in intellect, buoyant in thought, manly and optimistic in spirit. His fine rich voice and flowing utterances command an attention that never flags while he is speaking. His sentences, often epigrammatic, were admirably direct, their terseness set off by periods of gracefully expressed imagery.

His evening subject—"The Handicapped Man"—was evolved from the life of Ishmael, who, from his birth, was handicapped, because of the unbelief of his parents and the heathen blood in his veins. Afterwards he became more lighter, his hand being against every man and every man's hand against him. Dr. Bayne pictured several men who were handicapped as Ishmael had been, some whose future was dark and gloomy, who lived in the "poverty of life"; others who were held back by the great wealth that is the next worst thing to poverty; still others, whose life was marred by their handicap.

He said: "He makes allowance and compensation for every handicap." Some come into the world more favorably equipped than did others, and it was often asked why a child was thus handicapped? Who had sinned? The child or the parents? And the answer was that neither had sinned; but it was so that the power of God might enter into the life. The law of heredity ruled for good as well as for ill, and no person would have to answer for that which he did not have. The handicaps of a man's life were to be fought and overcome, and not taken as excuses for weakness. The lesson that was to be learned was that God was just; that he made allowances; that his grace could be invoked to fight against all handicaps; that he was worthy of confidence and trust.

MASONIC BRETHREN ARE ARRIVING

To Attend the Forty-fifth Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge of Ontario—Board of General Purposes in Session.

On Wednesday and Thursday the 45th annual communication of the grand lodge, A. F. and A. M. of Canada in the Province of Ontario will be held at the Opera House, Dundas street. On Wednesday evening no session of the grand lodge will be held, and the time will be given over to the local committee, who have arranged with Bro. C. E. A. Carr for eight special motors and trolleys to convey the visitors to the Opera House. Those in possession of blue badges and members of the committee with white ribbons will be permitted on the cars alighted to, and they are timed to leave the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets between 7:45 and 7:15 p.m. A special trolley and trailer will be at the service of the grand officers and members of the board of general purposes. The local brethren and citizens generally will be conveyed to the popular resort as soon after the hour named as possible. The meeting will likely close by 5 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, thus affording delegates both east and west to leave for their homes the same evening. In addition to the election of officers, it is altogether probable that a patriotic resolution will be offered, congratulating her Majesty the Queen (the patroness of Craft Masonry) and His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, the grand master of English Freemasons, upon the success which has attended the British arms in South Africa. The reports of committees and consideration of amendments to the constitution will also occupy the attention of grand lodge for a considerable time. The opening proceedings on Wednesday afternoon will be preceded by the presentation of an address of welcome from the city council, headed by the mayor, Bro. Russell, and members of the city council, subsequently the worshipful masters of the city lodges, accompanied by the D. D. G. M. of London district, R. W. Bro. George F. Morris, will also offer an address, through W. Bro. R. A. Bayly, of St. John's Lodge No. 20. Brief replies to both addresses may be expected from Grand Master Malone, after which routine business will engage the attention of the lodge, and following this will close the annual address of the grand master, which promises at this time to be a document of more than usual interest.

The notices of motion to come before grand lodge are eight in number. These will be passed upon by the committee on constitution and laws, which is composed of Past Grand Masters Walkem, Stevenson, White, J. Hillier, and G. L. Hillier, and R. W. Bro. Dr. Hillier, of Leamington.

The board of general purposes has been summoned to meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon for the consideration of business. This board, from the data submitted to them, proposes the bulk of the business to be dealt with by the grand body, and is composed of

FACTS ABOUT FLOUR.

Made White By Leaving Out the Part Which Helps Digest.

Modern methods of milling separate the parts of the wheat berry that contain the diastatic element, and furnish only the white flour made up almost entirely of starch.

One of the principal elements needed to digest this starch has been left out in this process, and therefore the person who eats much white bread is almost sure to have intestinal troubles, for the starch does not digest properly, and must, of necessity, decay and cause all sorts of trouble.

Grape-Nuts food, on the contrary, is made up of the entire wheat and barley, and the process of digestion as shown in the human body, are exposed as exactly as possible, in a mechanical way, by the use of moisture, time and warmth. No chemicals or other ingredients are used, but the simple methods scientifically arranged.

In this way the starch of the grain is transformed into grape sugar, and the Grape-Nuts food, which appears in a granular form, shows on the outside of this grape sugar, which is not put onto the food from the outside, but is the result of the change of the starch into grape sugar, which works out to the surface, very much as the sap of the hickory or maple tree will frequently show in the shape of white sugar on the sawed-off ends of logs.

A handful of Grape-Nuts held to the light will show the little glittering particles of grape sugar. It is naturally and scientifically predigested, therefore the food agrees with the weakest sort of a stomach. It must not be used in large quantities at one meal, for it is concentrated, and over-feeding of even the choicest food is not advisable.

Being perfectly cooked at the factory, the food can be served instantly, either dry or wet, cold or hot. When wanted hot, hot water, milk or cream can be poured over it. There is a definite, distinct and undeniable gain in nervous energy, and vitality when Grape-Nuts food is used.

EXTENSIVE CHANGES

Among the Managers of the Canadian Bank of Commerce—Mr. O'Grady, of Woodstock, Coming to London and Mr. Dewar Leaving for Hamilton.

The Woodstock Times says: Extensive changes are on the eve of taking place among the managers of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Although no official notification has been received by Mr. O'Grady, the rumor is, however, understood to be correct. The following is the list of managerial positions affected:

Mr. G. de C. O'Grady, of Woodstock, to London.

Mr. Dewar, of London, to Hamilton.

Mr. Roberts, of Hamilton, superannuated.

Mr. McKee, of Walkerton, to Woodstock.

Mr. McMillan, of Toronto, to Walkerton.

By the promotion of Mr. O'Grady to the Canadian Bank of Commerce, London, Woodstock loses one of her most progressive citizens. His removal from the town will be felt keenly in both business and social circles. Mr. O'Grady is a man of business, and a business man. Mr. O'Grady has done much for Woodstock, and he has left his mark upon the business expression of the town. Ever to the front where some benefit for the business people of Woodstock was to be obtained, he was there. He proved his value as a factor on their side. Mr. O'Grady is not only a progressive man in ideas, but possesses a restless energy, which is ever being directed to the interests of the community. Socially Mr. O'Grady was the center of a solar system that warmed everyone coming within the radius of attraction. Woodstock, commercially and socially, loses more than she can afford to in the loss of her citizen, Mr. G. de C. O'Grady.

USEFULNESS OF DRAGON FLIES

They Are Bred and Raised to Exterminate Mosquitoes.

Experiments are to be made within the next month in New Jersey and in one or two other places to see if the turning loose of dragon flies, or devil's darning needles, as the children name them, will not reduce some sections of the country from the pest of mosquitoes that makes them uninhabitable during certain seasons. The "darning needles" are bred in slowly running water. They will not mature under the stagnant conditions which make mosquitoes thrive. It is necessary to keep all fish and frogs out of the nursery of the dragon flies, because nearly all kinds of fish and certainly all frogs consider the hatching insects a delicacy. The dragon flies themselves in the larvae state are fed on cut-up fresh fish. If they don't get plenty of this food they turn cannibal and eat one another up. When the time is ripe they are transported to the mosquito water stretches and then turned loose. C. H. Murray, of the United States fish commission, is authority for the statement that mosquitoes attack and kill baby trout when they come to the surface. It is also held by many scientists that the mosquito may carry a diseased germ from one person to another by means of its cutting and blood-sucking instrument. It is hinted that the spread of disease in this manner is more prevalent than people believe, and thus another reason has evolved for the forming of a dragon fly army. The hammer-head dragon fly, which may be known at once by a glance at the shape of its head, is said to be the most voracious of its kind. One of these creatures was injured accidentally by an experimenter, who had knocked off with a blow at least seven segments of the insect's body.

To test its life tenacity and its appetite as well the seven segments were fed one after the other to the insect. It ate them readily and with apparent relish. If the people living near mosquito pools have not had the forethought to lay in a supply of embryo dragon flies let them sprinkle this spring a little crude petroleum over the surface of the infested water, and the result will be the dying of all the mosquito wigglers that lie in the depths. This means is inexpensive and certain, though far less interesting than the unleashing of a few battalions of darning needles to overwhelm and devour the stinging swarms.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

WILL BLEAK HOUSE TRAVEL?

A wonder-loving American is considering the advisability of purchasing Bleak House, with the object of transporting it to the states for exhibition purposes. A similar proposal was considered some years ago, when an American showman desired to transport Carlyle's old home at Ecclefechan, but, happily, the project was defeated. The purchase price of Bleak
