Mal-nutrition under many aliases is killing hundreds of thousands every year

Nearly every disease that is prevalent can be traced to improper food. An ill-nourished body is an invitation to disease. If you are eating heat- and fat-producing foods such as butter, white-flour bread, fat meats, etc., you are neglecting the vital elements of your body—the principles which build muscle, bone, brain, tissue and nerves, the elements which resist the attacks of disease.

To be free from sickness were the third or appropriate to your body. To be free from sickness you must build up every element in your body.
