which Rev. Clarence W. Foreman built his address to the War Veterans yesterday afternoon, on the occasion of the memorial service for the heroes of Ypres. It was a most impressive service throughout, and a fitting tribute to the honored dead and the men who fought for Canada's glory and the defence of the empire.

The parade of the various units took place on the market square at 3 o'clock, and the scene as they formed up at their allotted stations was picturesque and animated. Lieut.-Col. W. G. Coles was in charge of the parade, and Major Chester Butler was adjutant.

At 3.45 the leading unit, consisting of the members of the G. W. V. A., the Army and Navy Veterans, the G. A. U. V. and other ex-soldiers, marched off the ground, headed by the G. W. V. A. band, which wore its new blue uniform for the first time. Next came the nursing sisters and the members of the ladies' auxiliaries of the different soldiers' organizations.

Back To the Year

WOODSTOCK, April 24.—The First Baptist Church, one of the pioneer churches of the city, today celebrated its 99th anniversary. The history of the church dates back to 1822, when it was founded as a chapel. At that time Baptist ministers were very scarce in Canada, and the congregation had a sermon only at odd times, when the traveling representative of the church arrived on horseback. In 1857 the first church was built, which is still being used, although it has been added to and remdelled a number of times. Today's services were conducted by Rev George T. Webb of Toronto.

L. E. Lowman of this city has been to the conducted to the position of inspector of Child Welfare for Western Ontario, and will in the future make his head quarters in London. Mr. Lowman has been very active in G. W. V. A. work in this city, and at present holds the positions of secretary of the local command of the G. W. V. A. and secretary of the local soldiers' aid commission.

Alex Brink, a former pupil of the Woodstock Collegate, who is at present attending Urbana University, Illinois, has been notified from the faculty of the Bussey Institute for research in applied biology at Harvard University, Boston, Mass., that he has been awarded the George H. Emerson scholarship for the next academic year. Edwin R. Murray, the new chief of the Woodstock fire department, has arrived in the city, and will assume his duties tomorrow. For 15 years he has been connected with the Edmonton fire department and has been assistant chief for some time. Chief murray is a native of Oxford. tect Taxpayers from Bandits.

A detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police has arrived in London and will be stationed for some time in the Carling Block, on Richmond street, for the purpose of protecting those who have payments of any considerable amount to make to the federal inspector of taxation for the London district and to guard the premises during the period when such payments are being made.

The quartering of the mounted police in the building is a precautionary measure, which is considered necessary owing to the number of hold-ups that have occurred in recent months within the city and vicinity. The Government is taking no chances in such matters, and is acting on the principle that an ounce of prevention is worth a ton of cure.

ounce of prevention is worth a ton of ourse.

The larger payments in connection with the federal income taxes are now beginning to come in, and are likely to increase as the end of the month draws nearer, and it is well for all those who have income tax to pay to remember that April 30 is the last day when payments can be made without incurring the penalties, particulars of which have already been given.

The detachment is in charge of Sergt Birtwhistle.

BEAUTIFY INTERIOR OF ST. PETER'S AT COST OF $60,000

Bishop Fallon Announces That

This beautiful building was erected through the foresight of the late Bishop that during the 40 years which had elapsed since then no attempt had been made to decorate the interior or to bring it into keeping with the rest of the structure. He asked the congregation to look at the walls for themselves. This, he reminded them, was the house of God. Were the walls fit for the Almighty to dwell within? This was the question which the congregation ought to ask themselves. You have beautiful and artistic stained glass windows in this building, but," declared the bishop, "although the windows may be a dream, the walls are a nightmare. "Would you have walls as unsightly as these in your kitchen? Would you have them quite as bad in your woodshed? And yet this is God's house."

Bishop Fallon said that he expected the matter of the cathedral would be taken by in a few days, and that it would be taken by in a few days, and that it would be taken by in a few days, and that it would be taken by the foreign and the properties of the cathedral would be taken by in a few days, and that it would be taken by the foreign and the properties of the cathedral would be taken by the foreign and the properties of the cathedral would be taken by the foreign and the properties of the properties of the cathedral would be taken by the foreign and the properties of the cathedral would be taken by the foreign and the properties of the cathedral would be taken by the foreign and the properties of the cathedral would be taken by the foreign and the properties of the cathedral would be taken by the foreign and the properties of the cathedral would be taken by the foreign and the properties of the cathedral would be taken by the foreign and the properties of the cathedral would be taken by the foreign and the properties of the cathedral would be taken by the foreign and the properties of the cathedral would be taken by the f

It is expected that the cost of the work in prospect will be in the neighborhood of $60,000, and that a strong effort will be made to raise the sum, so that there will be no delay in going on with the scheme.

LABOR MUST ADOPT BROADER ATTITUDE

Should Reverence Sacred Institutions More, Says Rev. W. R. McIntosh.

In a message delivered to the labor said the church and labor were too often fighting each other.

He would have labor see that the mission of the church was two-fold. It had a message for the individual and a mission for the public. He claimed that the ancient Jews thought of religion as a kingdom on earth while Greeks looked upon it as an improvement of the individual. Jesus Christ, he said, combined the two.

For many centuries the Greek ideal was prevalent, Mr. McIntosh claimed. Men spoke of saving the soul. Now the other mission of Christianity—the establishment on earth of a kingdom of justice and brotherhood prevailed. This mission gives the church and labor a common platform. It was, he said, the cause of much of the great upheaval now felt everywhere.

Men were beginning the speaker con.

tinued, to make a serious application of Christianity to social life. The mission con too soon, or if you want to incompose your chances for a long life, should drink plenty of soft (rain) distilled water daily between life. Then procure at the drug Chances, but sided mainly with the poor and unprivileged. He built his common classes, because He found more reality and more vigor in them. The church upon the fisherfolk and the common classes, because He found more reality and more vigor in them. The upper classes and the religious people had gone to seed. So it was with the church of today. While it was not a class institution, it inclined toward the program of labor for the uplift of man. In the third place, according to Mr. Melntosh, the church had a spiritual mission. Sometimes it was blamed, he said, because it does not advocate the platform of labor. It was not the mission of the church, he said, to advocate a temporary platform of any kind, but to advance a platform of brotherhood and virtue, upon which civilization for all time to come was to be built. It would be found that the efforts of the church dates back to 1822, when it was founded as a chapel. At that time baptist ministers were very scarce in clabor that the specific reform which labor may be advocated today.
