Inter-Collegiate Regatta. Playing in Excellent Form.

Toronto, Ont., June 29.—A big surprise was sprung on the spectators of the golf championships on the Toronto Golf Club links this morning, when A. E. Austin, of Lambton, beat Douglas Laird, of the Toronto Club, with five holes up and four to play. Laird was looked to be a sure fixture in the final round. Austin is a young fellow who won the championship of the Lambton Club a week ago.

Mr. George S. Lyon, the Olympic champion, made his third successive 76, and beat F. R. Martin, of Hamilton, by two shots. On the last hole a distance of 210 yards was made by Lyon in two, Martin coming along with one shot more, thus making Lyon, who previously had a lead of one hole, two holes in the lead. In the second consolation prize competition, S. M. Glassco and J. H. Auger were even on the last green, but Glassco won the next hole.

The scores are as follows:— Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 28.—Cornell University regained her prestige in intercollegiate rowing affairs to-day by winning with utmost ease the 'varsity eightour and freshmen eight-oar races in the inter-collegiate regatta.
