Japan Will Take Action.

Emigration Laws Will Be Enforced to Check Exodus to America.

Willapa Completes Surprisingly Fast Passage—Shipping News of a Day.

An entirely new solution of the Japanese immigration problem is suggested in advice brought by the N. P. steamer Sika, these being quite in line with those referred to at the coming of the Dalny Yokok. The Japan Mail (Kokohama) and the Kobe Herald then were quoted, as quite concurring in the necessity and desirability of Canada adopting more or less restrictive measures as applied to Asiatic immigration. Now the Kobe Chronicle is heard from in an announcement that the people and government of Japan are determined upon action look- ing to a thorough enforcement of the laws limiting emigration from Japan to America. As a result of the operations of the labor contractors in Japan have been abruptly suspended, and already the steamship companies note a marked falling off in the volume of passenger traffic. The Sika had fewer Japanese than any other Oriental arrivals in two months, and following ships are said to have also dropped a large part of their immigration business. To quote the Kobe Chronicle: "There are now eight emigration companies doing business in Japan, and reaping a harvest out of the business of shipping Japs to America. It is understood, however, that the government will shortly overhauled the proceedings and general affairs of these companies in a thorough fashion, and crush with no sparing hand the abuses that now prevail in the majority, if not all, of the companies." This action, the same paper says, has been taken none too soon, for by misrepresentation and fraud have been sending thousands upon thousands to America, the companies making big dividends as a result of the exodus across the Pacific. Statistics are given to show that the Japanese now abroad from their native land number 72,000, and coupled with the figures in the United States, the total number included in these are 20,000 millionaires, who have been smuggled into the Korean peninsula under the guise of coolies.

Steamer Willapa Completes a Fast Trip To and From the West Coast.

Halt a day in advance of her schedule the steamer Willapa returned from the West Coast yesterday, with a passenger list composed almost wholly of mining and sealing men—the former interested in various promising properties at Al- bert, West Bay and the River, and the latter having been engaged in the completion of crews for the Behring Sea hunting. The list included Col. G. H. Hayes, from the Yukon; Mr. J. A. Bernier, Dr. E. Hall, W. B. McKinnon, who have been looking over the Bonthron mine at Elk River; J. Dalby, from the Seattle mine, Captain Cole and Byers, J. Ritchie and A. Yalleau.

SITUATION ON THE FRASER. Candidates in the Constituencies on Lower Mainland.

In Dewdney, the Premier has a champion in the person of Mr. Whetham, whose first essay in the political field there was a contest with Mr. Whetham, who, by a term in the legislature, has so established himself in public confidence that an emphatic endorsement by the electors of the district is looked upon as a foregone conclusion. The riding of Chilliwack presents an almost equally interesting case. Ashwell, a leading merchant and old resident, represents the united opposition; while those disposed to take stock in the Premier's propaganda seem favorably divided between S. V. Vedder, who accepts Mr. Martin and all his works, and Mr. C. W. Munro, the nerve man who subscribes to the promise of works only, and repudiates Martin, the man. As under normal conditions the constituencies are of the Premier, Mr. Ashwell's prospects are of the brightest. In Richmond, Mr. Martin so far lacks a champion, Mr. Kidd's good sense leading him to resist the persistent efforts of the Premier. In fact, after Mr. Martin's shameful violation of his written compact with Messrs. Kidd and Kellie, it would be strange indeed if the late member for Richmond should be found placing any further confidence in him. In fact, however, that for several weeks Mr. Kidd has permitted the circulation of rumors of his possible support of Mr. Martin, without the emphatic contradiction now said to have been made on his behalf, must tell against him. The opposition candidate is M. B. Wilkinson, a well known farmer and canneryman, held in high esteem in the district. Mr. Wilkinson is now reeve of Richmond, and during his term of office he has been prominent in public affairs. He is now making an active canvass, which promises to be crowned with success.

In Delta, there is a three-cornered fight, which promises to retire the ex-speaker, Mr. Thomson, who appears to be one of the lonely survivors of the People's party. John Oliver, of Mud Bay, is out as a Martin candidate, and this division of forces on the other side of course works to the substantial advantage of the Conservative opposition candidate, J. W. Berry, Langley Creek. Mr. Berry settled in the district at comparatively recent date, but he has rapidly come to the front, and with a connection as a merchant and farmer he has made for himself a host of friends. Mr. Berry had made a reputation as an energetic, progressive business man, and could usefully serve Delta in the legislature.—Westminster Columbian.

THE CROWNING OUTRAGE. What is Thought in Boundary Creek of the New Appointment.

Our special despatch from Victoria stating that J. C. Brown, of New Westminster, was to have been sworn in as minister of finance today to succeed Ryder, and the rather well authenticated rumor that George Washington Beebe is to be retained for a man that has a better political standing show conclusively that neither the Lieutenant-Governor nor Hon. Joseph Martin has the slightest regard for constitutional methods. It shows that in order to form a government two men were given official approval. It was well known that neither had any chance of securing the approval of the electors. The Dominion government insisted on the election being held, and an early appeal made to the electors. Beebe and Ryder were then used as warmink pants for others who did not find it convenient to join the cabinet. As a writer in the News-Advertiser very forcibly put it: "The assent of three parties will be necessary to the accomplishment of what is nothing more or less than an outrage on constitutional government and on the people of British Columbia." The first of these is no less a personage than the Lieutenant-Governor, who would thereby tacitly admit to Asiatic restriction, and the second were merely shams, made to prevent interference from Ottawa. The second party to the scheme is the Premier, who by his actions has placed the Lieutenant-Governor in a position happily without precedent in the history of Canada. The third party to the scheme is the Premier, who by his actions has placed the Lieutenant-Governor in a position happily without precedent in the history of Canada. The Premier is a man who has no scruples as to the means he will employ to reach his end. He has no regard for the rights of the electors. No sophistries or jesuitical arguments can brush this aside. By aiding an unscrupulous Premier to complete the scheme laid out when he put two dummies into office, he must be regarded by the public as just as culpable as he is and to have as summary justice administered to them when the opportunity comes at the polls. It is not surprising under such circumstances we hear already of hesitancy on the part of investors; of the commencement of emigration—previously arranged—being postponed until the results of the elections are known.—Greenwood Times.

Liberals Are Divided.

Annual Election of the Victoria Association Cause Fierly Feeling.

There was a hot old time at the meeting of the Liberal Association called for last evening in the A. O. U. W. hall for the purpose of appointing officers for the current year. George Riley, a veteran in the Liberal ranks in British Columbia, was turned down for the office of president, W. J. Hanna, a strong Martinite, being elected by a vote of 60 to 47. When the anti-Martinites saw that they were in a minority most of them left the hall and the Premier's followers elected the other officers as under: First vice-president, Dr. Lewis Hall; second vice-president, A. B. McNeill; and executive committee, John G. Brown, John Jardine, John Macmillan, W. J. Hardaker, James Bell, Ald. Brydon, John Taylor, Thomas Tubman, Dr. E. Hall, W. B. McKinnon, S. Sea, H. Catterall, J. R. Giscombe, Jas. Tagg and J. S. Murray.

MEETING AT KAMLOOPE. Messrs. Deane, Cotton and Fulton Address the Electors of North Yale.

A public meeting was addressed at Kamloops Monday night by Messrs. F. J. Deane and P. C. Cotton, of the so-called provincial party, and Mr. E. J. Fulton, the independent candidate. The report in the Inland Sentinel are devoted to Mr. Deane, while Mr. Cotton and Mr. Fulton are passed over in a few paragraphs. With equal modesty Mr. Deane claimed "there were two distinct parties in the field—that Mr. Martin and the other side of the provincial party, though he magnanimously admitted that there were a "number of independent candidates besides." He claimed that the provincial party had been economical and had put into effect a great deal of legislation for the benefit of the masses. Mr. Fulton stated that he came out not only against the present government, but against the "provincial party" and against the "provincial party" and against the "provincial party." He thought, a month ago as a catch phrase that sounded well. He considered that the present government was practically the same as the provincial party. Mr. Martin had practically been the leader of that party, and we largely responsible for the passing of the majority of the legislation. The fight between Mr. Martin and the provincial party was mostly on personal grounds, and they could fight it out in that way. Mr. Cotton's speech was confined to the charges made against the late Senator government by Mr. Martin. An invitation was given to any supporter of the government to address the meeting, but this met with no response.

RESIDENT ENGINEER. Victorian Appointed to an Important Position Under Dominion Government.

Mr. George A. Keefer, C.E., has received the appointment as resident engineer of the Dominion public works department in British Columbia in place of Mr. J. R. Roy, C.E., recently appointed secretary of the department. Mr. Keefer has been a resident of British Columbia for 30 years, working on the C. P. R. during construction and afterwards receiving the appointment of his superior of bridges for the company. He came to Victoria in 1884, and opened an office, although he spent much of his time in the Mainland carrying out a number of large works, including dikes and bridges. He will go to New Westminster immediately to take up his new duties.

It is curious to note that the French color manufacturers are not credited with one new product this year, while the Dutch, Swiss and Germans are fully represented with a generous quota.

JUDICIOUS ADVERTISING. One Instance of What Printer's Ink Can Do When Wisely Used.

"We expected a rush, but nothing like what actually took place," was the remark made yesterday by Mr. Williams, of B. Williams & Co., clothier, who recently removed their place of business from Johnson to their spacious new premises on Yates street. The phenomenal business done on their opening day was the subject of the conversation, and Mr. Williams states that for the day his sales represented upwards of $2,000. "I have never before," he says, "made such small purchases. Mr. Williams is a firm believer in newspaper advertising, as readers of the paper will remember, and he has not lost the advantage of this medium of reaching the homes of Victoria, with the result that during the entire day of yesterday, the business was so large that the doors had to be locked to ease some pressure of the numbers of eager purchasers. Mr. Williams did what some forget to do—backed his advertisements with a faithful performance of each promise, and he found the Mainland in the shape of a magnificent patronage.

The Secret of Health

The health of the whole body depends upon the blood and the nerves. Therefore a medicine that creates new blood and supplies the necessary materials for rapidly rebuilding wasted nerve tissues, reaches the root of many serious diseases. It is these virtues that have given their wonderful power to conquer disease, and caused the miraculous cures that have startled the scientific world. Thousands of cases have demonstrated that this remedy is an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of la grippe, pale and sallow complexions, and all forms of weakness in either men or women.

But you must get the genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Imitations never cured any one, and other so-called tonics are but imitations of this great medicine.

A SEVERE CASE OF ANEMIA. Mrs. J. Sinclair, of Rockway Valley, Que., writes: "I have suffered more than my share from the agonies which accompany a severe attack of rheumatism. I was first attacked with the disease some four years ago. The trouble gradually grew worse until finally I was confined to bed, and could not turn myself. I was not able to put my hands to my head, and every bone in my body ached, and pained if I dared to stir. I was run down and felt very weak and wretched. I took several bottles of medicine prescribed by the doctors, but it did not help me. I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills highly recommended that I got a few boxes, and before I finished them I saw I was gradually gaining health and strength. I kept on taking them for a couple of months, when every pain and ache had left me, and I was enjoying the best of health. I am never troubled with rheumatism now, and I have to thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for my release. I always recommend them to friends who are ailing."

BLOEMFONTEIN TO THE VAAL

An Officer Describes Country Through Which Roberts Has Advanced.

The following is a timely description of the country that the British are now traversing between Bloemfontein and the Vaal river. It is from an account by an officer now in the field: "The railway, which runs N. N. E. from Bloemfontein to the Vaal river, passes with scarcely a curve or a tunnel through a monotonous or a tawny, rolling plain, occasionally diversified in the more northern districts by comparatively low ranges of hills, which are themselves surmounted by singular replicas of the crags about Capetown known as Table Mountain, the Devil's Peak, and the Lion, only much less elevated. Here I may remark that, as regards the mountains, most maps of the Free State are in error; the range, and especially indicated are often little more than rising ground. The level areas are treeless, save for scrub; nevertheless, save for the temporary streams of the rainy season; untilled, save for nature's pasturage of square miles of luxuriant, waving grass; here and there a very few isolated homesteads, or kraals; and tooldees, save for the sparse cattle and the unsalubrious game. Lord Roberts must therefore rely upon his own transport for supplies. The population, and hence also the traffic, are little more than nominal. Not a road in the path in the shape of a straight line of railway will be easily repaired. Cart tracks may be struck out almost at will on the fairly firm pastures, and as soon as these become rutty the difficulty is immediately obviated by a small semi-circular divergence of route.

It appears, therefore, improbable that Lord Roberts in his advance towards the Vaal river will meet with any lion in the path in the shape of a formidable defensive position from whence the Boer forces could for any length of time bar his way. There are no vital strategic features connected with the Tugela river, to the Man-

BRIEF WORLD NEWS.

Anti-Foreign Society Spreading in China—France's Open Wound Still Hurts.

News has reached Berlin that the anti-foreign society known as the Big Knife is spreading among the population of Shantung and is favored by the Chinese officials. The Hanover Courier confirms in an article evidently inspired the statement recently published in the London Standard on being asked how she would act if an Anglo-German war broke out, replied: "I know only one question," meaning Alsace-Lorraine. The article concludes as follows: "It was not a Continental confederation against England, but a crusade against Germany that was in the air."

The wedding of the Crown Prince and Princess Sadako, a daughter of the Kaiser family, at Tokio on Thursday, was a simple ceremony. The contracting parties drank cups of wine before the altar in the imperial palace. The foreign residents presented an address.

The Toronto Telegram's London cable yesterday says: "The Morning Post correspondent says the Eastern Extension Cable Co. is willing to sell its Australia to Cape cable if the Imperial government wishes to purchase it. This is the proposition made by Sir Sandford Fleming to the Australian colonies interested in the cable service some years ago, and means to settle the cable question still in dispute."

The Ontario government has placed two additional night watchmen at the parliament buildings, Toronto, owing to a number of anonymous letters which have been received since the dynamite outrage on the Welland canal, intimating a possible attempt to blow up the cable. The latter will pass a similar resolution during the present month, and the incorporation assembly will meet at Edinburgh in October.

Francisco Abatto, convicted of murdering Genere Deffe, was hanged yesterday at Camden, N. J.

The Toronto and Kingston Presbyterian synod, has passed a resolution deploring the growing political corruption in Great Britain, and urging members of that church to maintain such a high tone of character as will raise them above all suspicion of political corruption.
