of the country as a whole. He says that in the course of his travels the same gratifying sentiment was noticeable. The people appeared to be contented and prosperous, to be satisfied with the existing conditions, and to be in favor of returning the administration which had done so much to bring about "good times." Despite the fact that the opposition press was making much of the tour of J. A. Macdonald, K. C., the leader of the Liberal party in British Columbia, and his first lieutenant, W. W. B. McInnes, the majority of the meetings which in the course of his travels the says and the country as a whole. He says ing that the delay was partly due to its predecessor, had extended the limit. That held recently at Nelson," he said, was a distinct disappointment to the Liberals. The proceedings had been unmarked by any enthusiasm what-ever and the gathering had broken up ever and the gathering had broken up without a single cheer "for the party, or for the King." Much the same had occurred elsewhere. In fact Mr. Green was doubtful whether Mr. Macdonald would be able to carry his own constituency, Rossland. The indications were that he would be defeated.
