HAPPY MANITOBA FARMERS.

Wm. McDougall Among the Prairie Province Agriculturis

Hon. Wm. McDougall arrived at the Queen's hotel last evening, after a month's tour through Manitoba. The World met hon. gentleman after his arrival and istened for over an hour to a lucid delistened for over an hour to a lucid de-scription of his present convictions of the future of the great pro-vince. Mr. McDougall confined himself almost exclusively to its possibi-ties as an agricultural country. During the month or so of his stay he traveled ex-tensively throughout the province, and as he put it, "slept, eat and talked with many intelligent farmers." He wanted to ac-quaint himself with the various phases of its farming, the effect of the land laws, what the farmers' union was doing, and generally to find out what the farmers t the farmers' union was doing, and rally to find out what the farmers generally to had out what the had been really wanted to make them contented and happy. Mr. MoDougall, after his mature enquiries, came to the conclusion that with the abolition of the tax on farm enquiries, came to the conclusion that with the abolition of the tax on farm implements and certain necessaries of life, a revision of the land laws, a reason-able hope that Jack Frost would keep away from the crops, pooling of their in-ternal interests, and a share of God's blessing, he predicted a life of peace and plenty for the denizens of the great country south of the Saskatchewan. Mr. McDougall collected a vast amount of valuable information, which he will probably put to good use. He delivered an address in Winnipeg after the meetings held by Mr. Mackenzie and Sir Richard Cartwright, and a number of his friends were so pleased with its indepen-dent tones that they presented him with a piece of valuable plate as a souvenir of the occasion. The plate bears the inscription: To Hon. William McDougall, C.B. This is presented at Victoria hall, at Winni-pe, by a few of those who have admired his independence as a politician and ability as a statesman, and who offer it as a tribute to his so (Canada-his native country. Mr. McDongall will attend the opening of the fair to-day and will leave for Ot-tawa to-morrow.
