BENEDICTUS QUI VENIT IN NOMINE DOMINI!

At last the hopes and wishes of the past few months have been realized, and we rejoice in the visit of Ottawa's distinguished alumnus, His Grace Archbishop Domett, O.M.I., Superior General. Twenty-seven years ago he was graduated M.A. in the old College building, and from that time his advancement has been as rapid as it was brilliant. First as professor at Ottawa, then as Director of St. Louis College, afterwards as Bishop of New Westminster, Archbishop of Vancouver, and finally Superior General of the Oblates, Divine Providence has crowned him with great honours and great responsibilities. During all these years he has ever manifested the kindest interest in the welfare of Alma Mater, and his visits, though necessarily short, have always been delightful. On this occasion, he comes vested with power and authority over her, second only to that of the Pope himself, and she will enjoy, for several weeks, the benefits and pleasure of his gracious presence. Knowing as he does the
