

or fashion. Pepto-Mangan (Gude) is one of the most dependable remedies of this class and its hematopoeitic properties are well known. Under its use the cellular elements of the blood are rapidly increased, and the whole physical condition is greatly improved. The various organs resume their functions and the distressing and dangerous effects of hæmorrhage are safely and properly overcome.

BEDSIDE EXPERIENCE.

The best test, both pharmacological and ethical, for a medicine is bedside experience. For what avail is a laboratory product based upon a fine-spun theory in chemistry if it does not work out results in the laboratory of Nature, the human body? Or why wrangle over the "ethics" of a remedy which accomplishes results in healing disease? To heal one's patient is the best ethics.

THIRTY-NINTH SESSION, 1907 - 1908

The Thirty-Ninth Session opened on Tuesday, September 3rd, 1907, and continues for the eight months following.

The College building is admirably suited for the purpose of medical teaching, and is in close proximity to the Victoria General Hospital, the City Alms House and Dalhousie College.

The recent enlargement and improvements at the Victoria General Hospital have increased the clinical facilities, which are now unsurpassed. Every student has ample opportunities for practical work.

The course has been carefully graded, so that the student's time is not wasted.
