THE CARDINAL'S VISIT.

He Meets with an Eathustastic Reception in St. Patrick's Academy-Floral Tributes to His Eminence.

Quite a stir was noticed in Catholic circles Tu sday when His Eminence Cardinal Tascherau arrived here. This is the second of his visits since his elevation to the dignity of a Prince of the Church, and at his last visit—when conferring the pellium on Archbishop Fabre—he was tendered a public reception. Yesterday His Eminence was met at the Dalhousie square depot by a deputation from the clerpy and congregation of St. Patrick's, comprising Rev. Father Dowd. Rev. Father Ouislicierpy and congregation of St. Fattick's com-prising Rev. Father Dowd, Rev. Father Quioli-van, Rev. James Callag au, Rev. Martin Cal-laghan, Rev. Father Toupin, Rev. Father McCallan, a large number of French Canadian McCallan, a large number of French Canadian clergyman, Hon. Thos. Ryan, Mr. J. J. Curran, Q.C., M.P., Mr. Edward Murphy, Mr. James O'Brien, Ald. Farrell, Mr. B. J. Caughlin, Mr. Mr. Owen McGarvey, Mr. J. H. Semple, Mr. Mr. P. Ryan, and a large number of others. The Cardinal was accommanied by his secretary, and

M. P. Ryan, and a large number of others. The Cardinal was accompanied by his secretary, and after the members of the diputation were introduced, His Eminence proceeded to St. Patrick's presbytery, and immediately called upon Archbishop Fabre at the place.

At 5 o'clock His Eminence visited St. Patrick's academy, on Alexander street. The visit was a red letter day in the history of this, one of the leading educational establishments in Canada, and will be remembered for many a day by the rupils and by the Cardinal, who seemed deeply touched and rejoiced at the seemed deeply toucked and rejoiced at the bearty welcome tendered him by the pupils. His Eminence was seated on a throne at the head of the spacious audience hall, and the children and young ladies, to the number of children and young ladies, to the number of some two hundred, all dressed in white, were sested in front. As His Eminence entered the hall the pupils, who formed an orchestra playing on violins and five pianos, played the "Sacred College March." A fiscal greeting of beautiful and rarest flowers was tendered to His Eminence by the little girls. The pupils then joined in the grand chorus "Sit Nomen Domine Benedictum." An operetta was prepared specially for the occasion and was repared by the pupils. Three young ladies dressed to represent angels and named Patrice, dressed to represent angels and named Patrice, Josephine and Marie, spoke the libretto of the operetta and sang the solos, while about thirty sweet little singers joined in the chacuses. The entertainment was a beautiful one and the poetry and music of the operatta of the sweetest kind. The following address was also rend to His Eminence by Miss Charlotte Lane:

To His Eminence, ELZEAR ALEXANDRE TAS-(HEREAU, Cardinal, Archbishop of Quebec:

May it please Your Eminence,-Many and varied festivals have been celebrated within these walls. They have oft re-echoed to the tones of love and gratitude and delight. Filial affection and deep respect mingled in our hearts have, at times, filled them to overflowing with sweet emotions; but, to.day, a higher degree is reached; joy unbounded, reverence most deep, animates each and every one of the happy in-mates of this house. For the first time our annalist shall proudly inscribe upon her page the name of the highest diguitary of the Mother Church of this fair continent.

Vour Eminence, wonder not atour emberance.
We are the children of Erin, and in our souls lies deep a fount of feeling triple like the immortal shapprock, our emblem. "Tis admiration mortal shamrock, our emblem. 'Tis admiration for noble deeds, gratitude for favors received, reverence for the Priest of God. The presence of Your Eminence in our midst has unsealed that fountain, and to day the waters gush forth unchecked as we recall the heroic acts of your youthful ministry to our fathers exiled from their native land and stricken down far away from kindred and from home.

We would fain say more, but the striking coincidence of this happy occasion now directs our thoughts. "Tis the month, almost the festival, of the Holy Rosary! The fifteen roses in the fairies' fragrant crown symbolize mysteries doubly dear to every child of "La Congregation de Notre Dame." They mark not only the years of a chiepiscopal labors, but also the number of Your Eminence's illustrious predcessors in the ancient Sea of the Saintly de Laval. in the ancient See of the Saintly de Laval. Does not this point most clearly to the solution of our problem:—How express our thanks, in what words say our gratitude? Oh, yes! and to Mary we shall go; at her shrine we shall kneel, and there, mid the sweet murmur of kneel, and tholy "Aves,"

We'll breathe in accents low, but true, the wishes fond May nowels in your pathway strew the roses choice of May we, your children, one and all, our Convent Mothers, too, Around your throne, in Mary's realm, a Rosary be to Thus pray the favor'd little ones that gladly round you Awaiting look and word and smile, your hand uprais'd to bless.

For well we know the precious gifts, more precious ne'er have been,
Than those you'll call from heart most pure of our Glorious Rosary Queen.

Congregation de Nothe Dame. St. Patrick's Academy, Oct. 4, 1887.

His Eminince, after the programme had been concluded, addressed the pupils in a quite familiar manner. He remarked:

I am neither a poet nor an orator, nor even a musician, and yet I can and do appreciate the simple and innocent poetic effusious, the playelocutionary varieties and the decidedly masterly p and executions of the lady pupils of St. Patrick's Academy, under the direction of the Congregation of Notre Dame. I imagined myself to be in a garden of flowers, so profusely have the dear children of Ireland flung them about me on all sides. I am much consoled that they are but the fascinating and enchanting expression of the Christian virtues implanted in your youthful hearts by your excellent mistresses. Once more in your midst I am a child again, and seem to forget the responsi-bility of a Prince of the Roman Catholic Church, so cunningly have you stolen away my mind from the cares of life, to relish with you the sweets of an age ever dear to me, but into whose sweet waters I can no longer hope to cast my old and time-beaten bark. As a mark of my sincere and undying gratefulness, I appeal to heaven to bless you, and now, prostrate as you are in my presence, I invoke upon you my blessing, and also on your dear Irish pa rents, whose solicitude for your religious training is one of the brightest features in their

IRISH NOTES.

HOW POLICE AID THE MOONLIGHTERS-STARTLING EVIDENCE OF A CRIMINAL-ANOTHER BRAVE CONSTABLE-A HUMILIATING POLICE.

Dublin, Oct. 5 .- Callinan, the moonlighter who was one of the party that killed Constable Whelehan at the Sexton homestead at Lisdonvarna on September 11, and who has turned Queen's evidence, was to-day taken to Enn's to testify against his accomplices in the tr'al admitted that he har planned a funder moonlight raids in Kerry and Clare. He said that he had been in the pay of the police for the last five years, and that he had received from Constable Whelehan, just before the raiding of Sexton's, a small sum of money in payment of his share for arranging the raid. This statement caused a great excitement in court. While returning to jail the prisoners were cheered by the crowds in the streets. The police charged the crowd and used their batons freely.

Dublin, Oct. 5.—The work of eviction was continued at Gweedore to-day. The inmates of Widow Bowles' houss stoutly resisted the evictors by throwing boiling water upon them. The bailiff demolished the house, and the chimney having tumbled the debris took fire. Seven persons were arrested. Owing to the hostile demeanor of the spectators, the police were or-dered to prepare to fire, whereupon Constable Haughrey advanced and threw down his rifle, declining to obey orders. THE CALIFORNIA DISASTER.

CONFLICTING STORIES ABOUT THE CAPTAIN'S CONDUCT.

St. IGNACE, Mich., Oct. 5.- Joseph Lago, Grat mate, Paul Santery, fireman, and Adelard Brinet, wheelman, of the 1st propeller California, who were supposed to have been lost, reached this city last right. They were swept ashone some distance above the scene of the wreck. The mate says the California's hulwarks were knocked out by realing nia's bulwarks were knocked out by rolling burrels of pork, and the sea came in filling the hold so as to put out the fires. The engine stopped at 12 o'clock and she foundered at 1. He gives the following list of the lost: Miss Pappa, Indies maid; young Connerton, son of Mrs. Connerton, of Detroit; another fireman named Harny; Arthur Hazard, the cabin boy; Robert Hill, second cook; Billy Tough, fireman; a lady passenger named Miss Membray; George Foley, purser; a watch-man named Joe Ard, and a deck hand, name unknown. The sea has gone down and the wreck was visited to-day in search for the bodies. The craft lies in thirty feet of water and will soon break up. Peter McMann and others openly charge the captain with deand others openly charge the captain with deserting them. He says that after the cabin collapsed and those inside succeeded in breaking away through the window he saw the captain, the engineer and two ladies in a large boat a considerable distance from the ship, and that considerable distance from the ship, and that he refused to return when called. Other memhers of the crew say the same, but not so open ly, and if their theories are true the captain must have left the ship long before the cabin collapsed. No effort was made to organize men into a boat crew, boats were not even ready for lumphing, and it was "everybody for him-

QUITE ANOTHER STORY.

MACKINAC CITY, Mich., October 5,-Mrs. Connerton, who was saved from the wrecked California yesterday, is loud in her praise of Capt. Trowell and his crew. She thinks they did all in their power to save their vessel. Mrs. H. Blood, the stewardess, and the second engineer were caught under the cabin roof changes were caught under the cabin roof when it collapsed and were imprisoned nearly half an hour before they were released. A hand satchel and trunk picked up on the beach identify the young lady passenger who was lost as Miss Minnie Membray, of Sackett's Harbor, N.Y., where her mother resides. Miss Membray and Cornelius Connerton, of Detroit, were the only passengers drowned; seven of the crew were drowned. The body of Navier Dant, deckhand, was washed ashere two miles abuse here. The was washed ashore two miles above here. The names of some of the lost are not known. The bodies of eight victims of the disaster have been washed ashore at Cecil Bay and McGulphin's Point. Teams have been sent for them. Among them are those of the purser and chambermain and Miss Membray, of Sackett's Harbor, N.Y.

Tononto, Oct. G .- Eleven of the crew of the ill-fated California arrived here to-night. They all speak in terms of praise of the conduct of Capt. Trowell, and say it is absurd to charge Capt. I rowall, and say it is absurd to charge him with deserting them, as the vessel went down almost instantly. They were trying to beach her, and each had on a life-preserver in case of emergency. They attribute her foundering entirely to stress of weather, as she had been knocked about all day on Monday by the violence of the waves.

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 6.—A. J. Pappa was notified to-day by the Toronto agent of the line to which the ill-fated propellor California beonced that his daughter's remains would reach here on Saturday morning.

A PLEASURE SHARED BY WOMEN ONLY.

Malherbe, the gifted French author, declared that of all things that man possesses, women alone take pleasure in being possessed. This seems generally true of the sweeter sex. Like the ivy plant, she longs for an object to cling to and love—to look to for protection. This being her prerogative, ought she not to be told that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the physical salvation of her? It banishes those distressing maladies that make her life a burden, curing all painful irregularities, uterine disorders, inflammation and ulceration, prolapsus and kindred weaknesses. As a nervine, it cures nervous exhaustion, prostration, debility, re-lieves mental auxiety and hypochondria, and promotes refreshing sleep.

> THE LEAGUES DELEGATES GIVEN A HEARTY WELCOME.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. - A reception was given at Cooper Union to-night to Sir Thomas Henry Grattan Esmond and Arthur O'Connor, two nembers of the Irish parliamentary party, who have come to this country to present the'r cause ing the meeting, he said he wished some of the English Tories were present to witness the meeting he was addressing, so they might know whether American sympathy or aid for the Irish cause was wanting nere. Of the 60,000,000 of people in the United States 10,000,000 are either of Irish birth or Irish descent. It is Victoria (hisses) the population of Ireland decreased from 8,000,000 to 5,000,000, while the population of Great Britain increased from 21,000,000 to 35,000,000. After giving a history of the Irish Land and National Leagues and of the Coercion bill passed by the Liberal party, Mr. O'Connor said the Premier, who exultantly announced the arrest of Mr. Parnell, has since introduced the Home Rule bill. The tide of popular feeling in favor of Ireland is rapidly rising in England, but there is still a trial before the Irish people. Their spirits were never more buoyant, their determination more litred than now and even the Tories admit that firm than now, and even the Tories admit that even Home Rule is only a question of time. Ex-Judge Noah Davis read resolutions declaring that the citizens of New York protest against the policy of the Tory Government as a blot on the civilization of the age, denouncing the recent slaughter at Mitchellstown, excreasing sympathy for the efforts of Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Parnell, and extending a greeting to Messrs. O'Connor and Esmonde. They were adopted with cheers.

BRUTAL MURDER OF A PARALYZED WOMAN BY A DRUNKEN HUSBAND.

Quebec, Oct. 5 .- Last week, it will be ra membered, a despatch was sent saying that Mrs. Michel Vaillancourt, of River John, eight miles from this city, had died under suspicious circumstances. The coroner's inquest was comnence i yesterday and concluded to-day, resulting in a verdict of manilaughter against the husband of the deceased. In consequence of the rumors which were current concerning the cause of death, the Rev. Mr. Holfman, Cure of Charlesbourg, refused to allow the body to be buried until certificate had been obtained from the corone or a medical doctor, and as the deceased had had no medical aid for the last twenty-three months, since which time she has been para lyzed, this could not be obtained until an in quest was held with the above verdict. body of the deceased presents a frightful sight, According to the doctors it is covered with bedsores and vermin. BULLDOZING BULGARIA.

RUSSIA AND TURKEY UNITED UPON COERCIVE MEASURES. St. Petersnurg, Oct. 5.—M. De Giers, minister of foreign affairs, has written a letter to Chakir Pasha, Turkish ambassator to Russia, announcing Russia's acceptance of the Porte's proposal to send an Ottoman commissioner to Bulgaria to act in conjunction with a Russian lieutenant general of princely rank, but instead of the latter being subordinate to the Otteman commissioner, Russia proposes that the Ottoman commissioner shall have second rank. Russia also proposes that the term for which the appointments be made shall be four months instead of three, as mentioned in the lorte's proposal. According to some reports, Russia urges that the question of the participation of Rounelian deputies in the effect on of a prince of Bulgaria by the Sobracje be submitted to the consideration of the Powers, while according to other reports Russia insists that the Roumelian deputies shall not sit in the Sobranje. The Porte's acceptance of the Russian General Ernroth as lieutenant-governor of Eulgaria is regarded as pledging Turkey to support the Russian proposals, involving, if necessary, Turkish initiative action in Bulgaria.

WHAT IS WM. O'BRIEN? OPINION OF A CANADIAN PRIEST NOW IN LURGAY, C'Donoughue, ex-Judge and exceedingly brilliant theorist; but as an Noah Davis. S. J. Moany, Governor Biggs, of Delaware; Michael Gaven, of Memphis, Tenn., and other well known gentlemen. Sir Thomas and Mr. O'Connor were escorted from their hotel to the hall by the 69th Regiment, the Hibernia Rifles, and members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. Charles A. Dana, of the Sun, presided. In opening the moeting, he said he wished some of the execution or sound judgment. The views of such persons as he was brought into contact with in Ireland he seems to have reported with a somewhat literary accuracy, as a man would do who falled to grasp the meaning of what w. a charles A. Dana, of the Sun, presided. In opening the moeting, he said to him and tried to convey to his readers the exact words spoken, in the hope that they would understand what was incomprehensible to himself. There is in this way a certain fidelity in Baron de Grancey's notes of travel; but it is, the fidelity of the parrot, that repro-duces what it hears without being aware of the signification of what it utters. Mr. de Grancey is a remarkable instarce of the blissfulness and omniscience of igeorance.

Abbi Emile Piché, a Canadian priest, who has been in Ireland for the past five years and who has just written a book to refute certain theories expounded by the Baron, and to which reference was recently made in these columns. This same Liberty loving priest, who has had considerable opportunity of studying the wrongs under which Ireland suffers, having recently been asked by a c tizen of Ottawa as to his opinion regarding Wm. O'Brien and as to whether he was a rovolutionist or a liberator, has written the follow ing letter :-

LURGAN, Sept. 11, 1887.

My DEAR FRIEND.—The city of Ottawa merits a crown for having accorded hospitality to that disinterested patriot, Wm. O'Brien, who is filled with a courage almost unheard of in this century of joy and prosperity. In our days when politica consists in securing for one self a good place on the Government benches and in giving to one's friends and relatives last-ing jobs, it is an extraordinary thing to meet s man such as O'Brien, who is eacrificing his whole life for his country and who distributes to the poor, the following morning even, the sums which popular acknowledgement have presented to him. No, this is no longer the fashion, I know it. Invitations to a ball are more agreeable than the tyrannical arrests for having told the truth and condemned iniquity. It is easier to stand, head uncovered, before a judge and to receive his sentences of eviction for thousands of families than to say to him, "Non licet." "This is not allowed, sir," O'Brien has preferred to follow another line of conduct and has preferred the "non licet" of the Gospel to the Herods of Dublin Castle. He has preferred to stand by the oppressed poor, to serve them as father and mother and to make himself the echo of their sufferings. A convinced and practical Catholic, be loves his poor people in a christian manner, unknown to the editors of La Lanterne of Paris. His respect for authority is as great as his love for the oppressed. The poor Irishmen who come to us in Canada have never asked to go there and would have willingly remained at home if misery and tyranny had not shown them-It misery and tyrainy had not shown themselves so cruel toward them. The day when Ireland will be legislatively free and prosperous the Irishman will cease to fill the ports and cities of America, and, more respected by others, he will cease also to mix up in all political agitations to secure power. He will find in his own country sufficient to satisfy his lepitimate ambition and his national apritudes. bition and his national aptitudes.

One day an American was obliged owing to a heavy rain to enter a restaurant in Paris. At the hotel keeper's request the American agreed to have a drink and called for a glass of and a cake. When the American had finished lunch the proprietor presented himself and said:
"It's three francs, sir."
"What! Three francs for a glass of wise and cake?'

a case?
"Yes, sir," was the auswer, "for you see this fine furniture, this gilding, fine glasses and statues; all this costs money."

"Leave that aside," responded the American, because I did not ask for the ornaments, and it is foolishness on your part to try and make me pay for articles that I was not looking for."
Thus the Irishman, pursued by a shower of oppression, is forced to take refuge elsewhere when everyone invites him to partake of some thing—at his own expense—and to the profit of the country that receives it. Then, under the plea of acknowledgement, we try to force him to favor this particular party, to aid this particular ministry, to pay for this particular improve-ment. Paddy answers, sometimes: "I asked for none of that, and if you will only send me home that is all I request."

THE CHOLERA VICTIMS IN NEW YORK.

New York, Oct. 6.-Rev. Dr. Maynard, who was a passenger on the Alesia, says: "We were about twelve days out when the plague broke out. A young Neapolitan died. It was given out that heart disease was the cause, and there was at the time no grounds for supposing other wise, and yet in some unaccountable way all on wis, and yet in some unaccountable way all on board ship, who had previoudly been unusually cheeful, became seized with a misgiving. I have no doubt that the condition of mind of those people had a good deal to do with the swift headway which the disease made after it began its work. They stemed as limp as rags. They made no struggle with fate, but sat or moved about li-tlessly and lifelessly, and seemed actually to invite death by their dread of it. The discipline on board was perfect, and the doctor and his assistance were untiling in the doctor and his assistants were untiling in their efforts. The captain maintained his joility of demeanor throughout the entire trial in a manner which I now confess was inspiring. There were no more funerals after the first. The concealment of the true state of affairs lasted but a short time, and the victims were given to the deep one after another. I believe that no one really knows how many died on board; every day brought its list of fatalities

VICTORY FOR THE LEAGUE.

THE CHARGE AGAINST EDITOR SULLIVAN DIS-MISSED. Duelin, Oct. 6.-The trial of Lord Mayor Sullivan and Mr. O'Brien for publishing in the papers respectively controlled by them reports meetings of suppressed branches of the of meetings of suppressed branches of the National League, opened at the Mansion house this afternoon. The Lord Mayor was driven to court, followed by John Dillon, ex-Lord Mayors Gray and Dawson, ex Sheriff McDona.d and others. The city marshal led the civic dignitaries, who were all arrayed in the full robes of office. Mr. O'Bri-n joined the procession soon after it started. The streets through which it passed were throughed, and the Lord Mayor and passed were thronged, and the Lord Mayor and Mr. O'Brien were the recipients of a great ovation. Policemen wandered singly through the crowd. A cordon of police surrounded the

After the case had been called a warm dispute occurred between the police attendants in the court and Mr. Dillon, M.P., and High Sheriff of Dublin, arising from the desire of the lutter to place the city sword and mace before the magistrate. The police attempted to prevent the placing of the city emblems on the table, whereupon Mr. Sexton and other municipal officers seized the sword and attempted to place others seized the sword and attempted to pince it there by force. The police and municipal officers struggled for possession of the sword, while the spectators in the gallery cheered Mr. Sexton and exhorted him to "hold on." After a few minutes both sides desisted, a compromise was effected and the sword was placed on the case will be called to morrow.

Mr. O'Brien did not enter the court to answer the summons against him. The case of Mr. Sullivan was proceeded with. Mr. Carson appeared as counsel for the Crown and Mr. Timothy Healy appeared for the defence. After hearing the defence, the court dismissed the case, on the ground that the Crown had not proved that the meeting reported in the Nation was a meeting of a suppressed branch of the National league.

The spectators and crowd outside were wildly enthusiastic over the decision. Mr. O'Brien's case will be called to-morrow.

DUBLIN, Oct. 6.—The Freeman's Journal publishes to day four columns of reports of National league meetings held on funday in the counties of Clare, Cork, Kerry and Wexford. At all the meetings resolutions were passed denouncing the attempts of the Government to appropriate the league and the prosecution of Management of Management of Management of the Covernment to the countries the league and the prosecution of Management of the Covernment to the countries the league and the prosecution of Management of the Covernment to the countries the league and the prosecution of Management of the Covernment to the countries of the Covernment to the Covernment to the countries of the Covernment to the Covern suppress the league and the prosecution of Mr. O'Brien and Lord Mayor Sullivan of Dublin. PRESS OPINIONS.

London, Oct. 7.-The Chronicle (a Government organ) referring to the trial of Lord Mayor ment organ; reserving to the trial of Lord Mayor Sullivan, of Dublin, says: It is impossible to deny that the break down of the first prosecu-tion under the Crimes Act must seriously damage the prestige of the Government. The whole case against him seems to have been prepared by Dublin Castle, as if they were stage-manaring one of the farcical scenes in an opera bouff. What makes matters worse is that in this instance we cannot blame a partisan jury for untoward failure of justice. The acquits! of the Lord Mayor was ordered by a paid magistrate of the crown, whose professional interests could not possibly tempt him to be lenient to the prisoner, against whom the Crown was proceeding. The Post, another Government organ, says the counsel for the defence very properly insisted upon every part of the case being strictly proved, and through what we cannot help thinking was inexcusable management, the case of the Crown broke down.

The Times says: It remains to be seen whether legal advisers of the Government have left themselves equally unprovided with eviience which would settle the issue in their favor n the case of the meetings illegally reported in this week's Parnellite journals. If so, it cannot se denied that a grave error of judgment has been committed.

The Standard says: The Nationalists and their friends have a perfect right to rejoice at the ridiculous collapse of the proceedings against Mr. Sullivan.

The News says the dismissal was because the leral talent of Dublin Castle was unable to comp y with the requirements of the law. Dublin, Oct. 7.—The Express (Conservative) states that the magistrate who heard and disnissed the case of the Government against Lord Mayor Sullivan, was fastidious in his interpre-tation of the law. The paper deprecates yester-day's proceedings, and characterizes the result

The Freeman's Journal prophesies a similar result for all future attempts of the Government to prevent the publication of reports of National League meetings.
