

Division

I do not think the people who elected me sent me to here to kiss the government on all four cheeks.

Some hon. Members: Oh, oh!

Mr. Reilly: That is what my friends down the way seem intent on doing. And, of course, they are doing it regularly every day. Let me mention a few facts. As I listened to the speech of the hon. member for York South I was reminded of something Leacock once said, to the effect that the only statement worth making is an overstatement. A half truth, like a half brick, is a far better weapon for argument, except that the half brick carries an awful lot farther.

The NDP must accept a few facts. Fact number one is that the majority of members of this House are opposed to the sale in question. Fact number two is that last Friday the NDP leader condemned it in the most scathing terms—those are mild words. Fact number three is that they are afraid to vote against the motion, because if the government is defeated they will be wiped out—and they know it.

Some hon. Members: Oh, oh!

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Laniel): Order, please. I invite hon. members to permit the Chair to put the question. It being 9.45 o'clock p.m., it is my duty, pursuant to section 9 of Standing Order 58, to interrupt these proceedings and forthwith put every question necessary to dispose of the motion.

Is it the pleasure of the House to adopt the said motion? All those in favour of the motion will please say yea.

Some hon. Members: Yea.

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Laniel): All those opposed will please say nay.

Some hon. Members: Nay.

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Laniel): In my opinion the nays have it.

And more than five members having risen:

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Laniel): Call in the members.

The House divided on the motion (Mr. Nielsen) which was negatived on the following division:
