FRENCH CAN DEFEAT ARMED GERMAN CROWN PRINCE British Force in France 440,000--Canadian Eye-Witness' Story COLLAPSE OF ENEMY'S DEFENSE GALIPIOLI SEEMS IMMINENT

WELSH MINERS COMPELLED TO STAY AT WORK

British Government Will Not Tolerate Strike or Lock-Out.
POWERS ARE SWEEPING
Announcement in House of Commons Was Received With Cheers.

LONDON, July 13.—At today's session of parliament the president of the board of trade, Walter Runciman, aroused the house to cheers by the statement that, in view of the failure of the South Wales coal owners and miners to reach an agreement on the wage dispute, the government had decided to apply to the mining industry the Munitions of War Act. This makes it an offence to take part in a strike or lockout unless the differences have been reported to the board of trade and the board has referred the matter for settlement by one of the methods prescribed by the act.

PLAN TO RESTORE BALKAN LEAGUE

Venizelos of Greece to Reorganize Confederacy to Support Allies.
QUIETNESS IN RUSSIA
No Belief Entertained That Teutons Will Seduce Roumania.

LONDON, July 13.—In the east the operations are entering a new phase, the Roumanians having been successful in their counter-offensive against the Austrians in the Carpathian region. They have taken new positions in the hills to the north of this town and apparently are waiting for the Austrians to make a move. It is not expected that this will be long delayed, for General von Mackensen has had time to receive reinforcements and supplies of guns and ammunition. It is his next great effort to secure control of the Lublin-Chelm Railway.

WAR GAVE STIMULUS TO CITIZENS' REGISTRATION

Nearly Every Nationality Under the Sun Represented in Rush.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 13.—The war has stimulated the registration of naturalized citizens of this country. During the past year there have been 35,000 throughout the country and there will be more this year than last. In fact in Winnipeg alone during the past six months there have been over one thousand registrations. It is a rush to the registration offices by immigrants who have become naturalized, but since the war began the registration has been more than ever before.

THE TRAIN OF PUBLIC OWNERSHIP

Everybody is getting aboard the "government railways" train, subscribing to the slogan that public ownership is the only way out of the transportation problem and the middle caused by over-building railways that has come to Canada. The loudest witness in the box is the Grand Trunk, which has been simply turning handspikes to get in on the new train service—Toronto to Winnipeg—that started last night. We give the old lady credit for her quick action. The G. T. R. staff is so much in evidence in the timetable, in the hand-billing, in the shouting, that we begin to suspect that Mr. Chamberlain is trying to get in the wagon before Bill and Dan and the Canadian Northern can get up to the ticket office. It's funny how catching the measles can be.

The mileage of the new route is: Grand Trunk, from Toronto to North Bay, 227 miles; Timiskaming and Northern Ontario, from North Bay to Cochrane, 253 miles; government system of railways, from Cochrane to Winnipeg, 776 miles. The Dominion, the province and the company are sharing in the venture and are anxious to make it a success. The line opens up a vast territory in Ontario for settlement, and does much to make Toronto, rather than Montreal, the traffic center of Canada. But, most important of all, it spells government ownership and operation of railways, and foreshadows nationalization. A big railway man in the city yesterday said that nationalization was bound to come. The train that left last night under the new route had a meaning, he said, which no thinking man could overlook.

But last night was only a beginning. We must join up the Transcontinental and the Intercolonial with a railway system that will furnish grain traffic from the west, and give connection with the towns and cities of the east. The Canadian Northern will do this, and can be acquired on terms made by the government. So can the Grand Trunk and the Grand Trunk Pacific, if they are willing. But the big thing is to get the Northern first and then complete nationalization will readily follow.

LONDON, July 13.—Sir Max Aitken in his eye-witness report says:
"Dominion Day, after several days of heavy artillery fire, our troops were relieved and the headquarters moved to the north. Here a trench line was taken over from a British division, and here for the present we must leave them. When Dominion Day came they remembered with pride that they were the army of a nation and those who were in the trenches displayed the Dominion flag, decorated with the flowers of France, to the annoyance of barbarians who riddled it with bullets."

Gallant Attack Made Upon Strong German Fortified Position Near La Bassee, in Co-operation With a British Division—Took Dorchester, But Later Fell Back.

OTTAWA, July 13.—A thrilling account of the exploits of the first Ontario Battalion of the Canadian expeditionary forces is given in the eye-witness narrative compiled by Sir Max Aitken of the Canadian record office at the front.

The narrative, which is a continuation of the story of the orchard battle which began with the fighting in the middle of June. The narrative follows:

About this time (the middle of June) a British division was directed to make a frontal attack on a fortified place in the enemy's trench line, known to our intelligence staff as "Stony Mountain."

The 1st Canadian Ontario regiment, commanded by Lieut.-Col. Hill of the first brigade, was detailed to secure the right flank of the British division by seizing two lines of German trenches between Stony Mountain and another fortified place known as "Dorchester," which was 150 yards to the south. The intensive task to be thrown back to the trench line men got their would depend upon the advance made by the British division.

Working Parties Detailed.
Working parties of the 2nd and 3rd Battalions of the first brigade were told off to secure the lines of trenches and to connect them with our trenches and finally to make the defensive flank.

After a few days of preparation the first Canadian battalion, Ontario regiment, moved up, and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon the battalion reached our line of trenches opposite the position to be attacked, when the 2nd Canadian battalion, under Lieut.-Col. Walter, which was holding the trench position, withdrew to the right to make room for them.

The trench line on the right of the attacking battalion was held by the 2nd and 4th Canadian battalions as far as the La Bassee Canal with the

GERMANS STRETCH CHAIN ACROSS FRONTIER BRIDGE

GENEVA, via Paris, July 13, 1.30 p.m.—Without previous notice, the Germans have stretched a chain across the frontier bridge at Zurich, a Swiss town on the Rhine, 18 miles northeast of Aarau. Since Sunday the German frontier guards have exercised an exceptionally severe control, and it is almost impossible to cross the frontier. It is supposed that these measures have been taken in following recent attempts at espionage.

FOUR TRAWLERS SUNK BY HOSTILE SUBMARINE

Crews Landed at Lowestoft, One on Emerald, Which had Been Attacked and Left.

LOWESTOFT, Eng., July 13, 7.50 p.m.—The crews of four Lowestoft trawlers, the Woodbine, the Purple Heather, the Speedwell and the Merlin, which were sunk by a German submarine, have been landed here. The crew of the Speedwell came in on the trawler Emerald, which was attacked by a submarine and was abandoned, but did not sink. After leaving their own vessel, the crew of the Speedwell sighted the Emerald, and, boarding her, brought her to port.
