

KINGSTON, 18th June 1813.

Mrs MACEWEN, Montreal.

I again take the opportunity of writing as a post leaves this in a few days.

Colonel Stuart arrived here yesterday, and seemed happy to see me. He informed me that he had seen you at Montreal, and that you were all well when he came away. I have been obliged to sell him my horse, as we are again under orders to march to York, with two hundred men. Major Gordon, Captain Wilson, Clyne, Fox, Hendrick, Johnston, and Rutledge embarked last night for same place. I have sold the horse for my own money, thirty guineas, which is thirty-five pounds currency.

I have given Lancaster (his servant) over to the Colonel with the horse, and if I should buy another, I will not give so much money for one in this country, during the war.

CARRYING PLACE, 23rd June 1813.

Mrs MACEWEN, Montreal.

I again take the opportunity of a gentleman going down to Kingston, to inform you that I arrived here this morning in good health, after a march of nearly one hundred miles from Kingston. Our destination, I cannot at present give you the smallest information of, as the whole of our army is on the march against
