and neglect their health. A man passes a restless, sleepless night, gets up dull and headachey in the morning, goes to the breakfast table without an ap-petite, bolts what little he does eat and rushes away to business. He is drowsy and nervous by turns all day and forces himself to work against his will. He takes five minutes for lunch and not a minute to rest afterward. He goes home at night utterly fagged out and with no appetite for supper. The idea of taking medicine or even taking a little rest never enters his END OF THE RATE WAR. The C. P. R. announces that it will restore its regular passenger rates on the That is Attracting the Visitors at the Exhibition This Week-A 25th inst. This means that the fares between most of the important railway doubled after that date. of the effect that the low rates of the past few months have had on the rail-way companies' receipts would be inter-esting and instructive information. The railways probably received less under the low rates than they did when the regular rates prevailed, but we do not believe the shortage was any very large amount. In spite of the low passenger tariff that has been in force for six months or more, the income of the C.P.
