ETIQUET AND THE PUBLIC INTEREST.

The Hon. John Dryden, Farmer-General of Ontario, and member of the legislature for South Ontario, thinks it is no part of his duty to help the Ontario County farmers (his constituents) to obtain their rights in connection with telephone service. He is offended when the matter is brought under his notice.

What sort of frowns do you think I would cut snoring my nose into a matter that did not affect me? I think it is rather cheeky to come in and ask me that question.

The World tenders its most sincere apologies to Mr. Dryden for troubling him with a mere farmer's question. Mr. Dryden was also asked what he would do if he were approached by a deputation from the farmers.

I don't want to be approached by a deputation. It is not a case for government interference. Private persons are merely taking advantage of their privileges under the law.

Mr. John E. Farewell, K.C., Crown Attorney for Ontario, is an official appointed by the government of which Mr. Dryden is a member. He does not think it is "none of his business."

Advocates of public control of water power ought not to lose sight of the fact that provincial authority and management are the best for all. The province can control water powers in every part of the country—at Niagara Falls for the southwest, the St. Lawrence for the east, the St. Mary's for the north, the Ottawa for the northeast, and so on. It can do justice as between one municipality and the other, as between the towns and cities and the farming districts.

A DEADLOCK OUR ONLY HOPE. The Alaskan Commission likely to prove a fiasco, or worse than a fiasco, with three strong partisan commissioners from the United States and no arbitrator as between the two sides? The Yankee side of the court has already made up its mind. If they can get on the English commissioners, it is said to be harboring a dark design to monopolize Niagara Falls and crush out the industries of other towns.

THE CITY AND THE RAILWAYS. Engineer Jennings has given the city a report which is well worthy of careful study. The report should not be lightly dismissed with the observation that it is too comprehensive, and that its execution would mean very heavy expenditures.

requirements of a city of greater area and a largely increased population. It is not to be supposed that Engineer Jennings looks for the execution of his plans in one mighty effort involving an immense outlay. His scheme is for the gradual working out of civic bonds of wedlock.

An important phase of Mr. Jennings' report is his recommendation that thru railway freight be sent north of the city, thus relieving the congestion to the south. Adoption of this scheme would be advantageous, not only to the railways, but to the city, which is interested in the development of its water front.

HOME FOR INCURABLES. Editor World: Mr. Ambrose Kent, "Influential" deputation and the board, not having responded to my challenge and defiance to them to appear on a public platform, in order that it may be proved who is telling the truth.

Editor World: Seeing that all the railways are entitled to free telephone service, why do not the Grand Trunk and C. P. R. ask for more trunk lines between their inquiry offices and the central office of the Bell Telephone Company, and in that way, enable the public to find out what all trains are on time or not?

Editor World: The World deserves well of the public for its expose of that worst and meanest monopoly, the Bell Telephone Company. While you have the matter in hand, why not take a whirl at them over their action in connection with downtown users of telephones?

Money Left by the Dead. Petition was filed yesterday morning in the Superior Court for the administration of the estate of the late Thomas Henry, deceased, by his widow, Mrs. Mary Ann Henry.

Violation of Contract. The firm of Moore & Orr, nickel-platers, of 81 1/2 West Adelaide-street, have sent a disingenuous letter to the Ontario Electric Co., Ltd., asking them to refrain from carrying on the business of nickel-plating.

Claims to be Quashed. Chief Justice Giesbrecht heard the appeal in Rex (in relation of Francis Elliott) v. Hamilton. Wesley Hamilton was successful in his appeal.

Non-Jury Assizes. In the Non-Jury Assize Court, yesterday morning, Benson Ward brought suit to publish the validity of the will of his mother, Mrs. Ellen Jane Ward, who died in 1894.

Police Court Record. The cases of John and Mary Greenish, charged with neglecting their four young children were adjourned till the 24th inst.

Smashed Plate Glass Front. Yesterday afternoon a horse belonging to J. A. Wells, a milkman, living at 197 Parley-avenue, took fright and ran away.

Edwards and Mtnie. Edward Saville of 5 Brant-place was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective Verney charged with stealing $10 from Minnie Morris, who lives at the same address.

Smallpox in Michigan. Dr. Bryce is in receipt of a letter from the health officer of Michigan, saying that there are 190 new cases in that State since Jan. 1. Smallpox is now epidemic in 121 places.

SON ABDELS PAS PALMINTIFF

Application Granted at Osgoode Hall in Action for Damages Against Street Railway Company.

JAMES RANDALL GETS NEW TRIAL. Appeal Judgment in Spence vs. Mutual Life—Cases in Non-Jury Assizes.

At Osgoode Hall on Wednesday, George Liddard, who was run into by a trolley, while driving across Queen-street, at the Subway, last October, and was seriously injured, moved for permission to have a second trial by plaintiff in the suit for $1000, which was brought against the Street Railway Company.

During the trial, the witness, James Randall of Ottawa fell from a pole on which he was stringing wires for the illumination of the Parliament buildings in the suit, which he brought against the Ottawa Electric Co. and Asham & Soper, the jury returned a verdict for $3000, because the jury failed to answer all the questions, the judge treated the verdict as a dismissal, and dismissed the suit.

Property Will be Sold. The Divisional Court yesterday morning issued judgment, directing that the matter in hand, which was a suit for the liquidation of certain notes amounting in all to over $90,000, issued by the late John Henry by John Stewart, as collateral security on these notes, be sold.

BEST NIAGARA SITES GONE

Private Companies Should Get No More Because They Have All That They Deserve.

HOW TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC. Municipalities Must Be Allowed to Develop as Well as Transmit Rights of Companies.

A special representative of The Telegram, writing from Niagara Falls on the power question, says the best sites for power development have already been taken up, and that any new company would find it difficult to locate on a suitable site without a much heavier expenditure than the existing companies will be put to the river channel in a city fifteen times the size of Toronto; that is, a city of over 3,000,000 inhabitants.

Another suggestion is that the municipalities should demand the right to develop power. While they might not find it necessary to exercise this right of this right, better terms could be obtained by the generating companies.

The towns and cities represented should have rights granted to go into the power business wholesale. That is, each city or town should have an absolute monopoly of the retailing of power within its limits. They could bargain for a block of power at a much better rate than the individual manufacturers, and that is the only way to prevent discrimination, as it is, the power companies across the continent, at kinds of prices, there seems to be no fixed rule and the way is open for much unjust discrimination.

No private power company should be given right to put one single wire in any town or city in Ontario. Any action in this matter should not be taken later than the first meeting of the legislature.

The municipalities should have the right to go into the transmission of power apart from development. This right ought to be granted, and is just a question if all the trunk lines should not be in public hands. This is, however, hardly a practical proposition, in addition to the right of generation, has the right of transmission as well.

There is need of immediate action. The companies at present developing will have rights granted to carry out their plans, and nobody wants to rob them of their property. But anyone who has been interested in the power question, and who has seen the results of the power companies' operations, and all government power, can see that the power companies are not doing their duty to the public.
