

TRIBUNAL STARTS REHEARING OF "B" MEN'S EXEMPTION PLEA

Will Not Decide Cases, However, Merely Making Recommendations to District Review Board, Which in Turn Will Make Final Decision.

Over 200 men in London, listed in Category B, will have their exemption plea heard by the members of Tribunal No. 184. The re-hearing of the claims for exemption of these men commences today, and will continue daily until the 14th of the month. Tribunal No. 184 sits at the city hall, and the members are City Registrar R. H. Dignan and Dr. A. R. Finlay. A military representative has not yet been appointed.

All the "B" cases in the city are assigned for rehearing before this one tribunal. Twelve cases daily are allotted for rehearing by the tribunal members.

A decided departure is made in the case of the "B" men from the course followed by the tribunals in hearing the claims of "A" men. The practice was to decide what disposition was to be made of the man's claim.

The tribunal's decisions were final except where appeals were entered against their findings. In the case of "B" men the tribunal will hear the evidence, and will then make certain recommendations to the exemption review board, consisting of the deputy registrar, public and agricultural representatives. This board will set upon the record of the exemption review board, and will not until the final decision.

Not until a B man, who comes up for rehearing, receives notice of disposition from the exemption review board, will he know whether his claim has been disallowed or granted.
