

HUN IS ONLY ONE OF ALL COLORS, SPEEDS AND RACES WHO WON'T PLAY THE GAME

"Once a Hun, Always a Hun," Declares Councillor Peter Wright, of British Seamen's Union, in a Dramatic Recital of Hun Atrocities at Masonic Temple.

"Once a Hun, always a Hun. I have known men of every color and creed, black, red, yellow and white, and the Hun is the only one who won't play the game," declared Councillor Peter Wright, of the British Seamen's Union, in a dramatic recital of Hun atrocities at the Masonic Temple last night.

Wright, a prominent British labor leader, in the course of a stirring address dealing with the brand of justice the German deserves, delivered last night in the Masonic Temple, under the auspices of the Navy League and the London Chamber of Commerce, a dramatic recital of the Hun's crimes against humanity.

Wright, who was assisted by his wife, Havelock Wilson, to come to the Hun in the last four years, has found in the Hun the strength of evidence in the past that he has found in the Hun. "Justice is meted out to the Hun for his barbarism," continued the speaker.

ernment. He was obliged to cook his own food, because of continual danger of being poisoned by German spies. He was continually shadowed, and he was made the acquaintance of a German about whom he had previously ascertained facts. The German expressed sorrow over the war, begged of Mr. Wright to use his influence to put an end to it, and invited him to be his guest for the night. The door connected the handsome rooms. Early the next morning a maid brought a tray containing coffee and tempting food. Peter Wright first made sure that the food was not poisoned, and then, after a half hour, he ate it. He was not from eating the breakfast prepared and poisoned for his guest. He commented, "I was commended for having done one day what had been attempted to be done by honest means for two years by the British service."

Fight to Last Man.
Statements made by the speaker at an address given on Sunday night in Dundas Centre Church were repeated, among these the reply of Dr. Schomann to an appeal that the industrial democracy of Germany try to crush the military autocracy. "Unions are willing to accept a German peace we will fight till every last man and woman in Britain is exterminated."

Visiting the Russian front with a brigadier-general, Peter Wright picked up propaganda literature of being in the Russian lines. In large type the bulletins assured the Russians there would be no annexations, no indemnities, if the Russians would give up the fight and join their fellow-burgers of Germany. Yet when Germany annexed a territory populated by 15,000,000 Russians, not a labor leader in Germany made a single protest, said the lecturer.

Ultimatum of Seamen.
In conclusion, Mr. Wright voiced the ultimatum of the seamen of Britain as follows:
"We will never sail a ship with a Hun on board any more; no raw material will be carted to Germany. We have done without the Hun and want you to do without Germany a little longer. Germany must be treated like a mad dog, like a mad dog with a serum which will be the means of exterminating the last atom of Kultur from her body. She must then, only, will she be fit to participate in civilization."

No Lack of Appreciation.
The meeting was not pressed, the view being taken that failure to applaud as much as the more demonstrative members had the audience desired, was not due to any lack of appreciation.
Responding to a vote of thanks, Mr. Wright stated that his own work was being done in a bit of a haphazard way, as these of the Empire and colonies the roll of soldiers will be enriched that a finer spirit will permeate and flourish in the land.

Water Supply Ample.
The water supply was reported to be ample and of excellent quality, and the quality of the milk supply is above the average. It is understood that a chlorination plant has been secured to keep the water supply in good condition.
According to Sanitary Inspector J. Lutman and his assistant, J. W. Scott, there was a house on Maple street in which 13 adults and 15 children were living. There were 13,323 cubic feet of room in the house, this giving each inmate six cubic feet of breathing space. The house was in a sanitary condition.

The following were the number of cases of disease in the city for the year, and deaths resulting from them: diphtheria, 175 cases, 23 deaths; measles, 1,252 cases, 3 deaths; mumps, 109 cases, 3 deaths; smallpox, 13 cases, 1 death; typhoid fever, 15 cases, 1 death; whooping cough, 4 cases, no deaths; German measles, 4 cases, no deaths; spinal meningitis, 3 cases, 1 death; general diseases, 74 cases, no deaths since July 1, no deaths.

It was recommended that all bakers should be forced to wrap their bread, and that no loaves should be returned after being delivered to customers.
A vote of thanks was tendered Chairman E. H. Russell and H. M. Downes, who acted as chairman and secretary respectively, during the year, especially during the epidemic.

Bazaar of Sisters Well Patronized.
A most successful bazaar was held yesterday by the sisters of St. Joseph at the Sacred Heart convent, in aid of the orphan and aged who are cared for by the sisters, and the patronage of this good cause by Londoners was most generous.

Large crowds were present during the day. Bazaars are popular spots because they are a place to purchase excellent fancy work suitable for Christmas gifts, but the home cooking booth was by no means forgotten, and exceeded the excellent record of other years. All booths were liberally patronized.
The Christmas cake, a handsome four-story affair made by the sisters, was won by Miss Hargitt, Piccadilly street, Hubert Dignan and Miss Mary Burns, a handsome cake, Mrs. E. W. Forrester, a handsome centre-piece made by the sisters.

Lightning and Fire Destroy Barn and Crop at Thorndale.
THORNDALE, Dec. 10.—The barn of Charles E. Chang, lot 1, concession 7, London Township, was completely destroyed by fire after being struck by lightning during an electrical storm about 10:30 tonight. The farm is about three miles west of here.

The crops were also largely lost. The horses and five cows were saved, but the remainder of the farm was lost. By hard work the cattle was saved. The loss is estimated to be about $5,000. Owing to the fact that all the members of the family are ill with influenza, and many neighbors also, much difficulty was experienced in getting help to fight the blaze.

CHATHAM, Dec. 10.—Lieut.-Col. H. D. Smith, general staff officer of this military district, has tendered his resignation to the militia department, to take effect January 1.

BILLS OF NURSING DIVISION LAID OVER UNTIL NEXT YEAR

Ministers Put Case Before the Board of Health.

"FLU" TOOK 187 CIVILIANS

All Bakers To Be Forced To Wrap Bread, Is Recommendation.

On behalf of Mrs. M. Thomson of No. 4 Nursing Division, Rev. H. B. Ashby and Rev. H. H. Bingham spoke briefly at the board of health meeting yesterday afternoon, telling the members of the board why the bills, which No. 4 Nursing Division had introduced, and which it was alleged the board of health had refused to pass, should be paid.

Mr. Ashby reminded the board that 27 nurses of the division had gone to the front, and that money could not be paid for the lives which had been saved through the efforts of this division. He declared that he was backed up in his stand by other men and women of the city.

I feel that it would only be right to pay these bills," he declared. The bills in question amount to $300 and $400, and were contracted by No. 4 Division during the influenza epidemic.

Mr. Bingham hoped that the board would clear up the matter by paying the bills. He said that he had been about twelve funerals within the last year, and had seen the existing conditions, and he could testify to the splendid work done in the homes by the nurses of this division.

The board had declared that it had paid all other bills that had been contracted, but that the bills in question had not been contracted. Mr. Bingham, in reply, declared that the conditions under which the bills had been contracted were abnormal.

Some of the members of the board said that they did not want to establish a precedent. Others thought that to prevent this a grant could be made. Chairman E. H. Russell stated that the nurses had had no funds, and yet they had contracted bills. "Mrs. Thomson is a better nurse than she is a business woman," he remarked. He said that he would like to see the bills paid if it had not been for the influenza epidemic.

Mrs. C. R. Somerville said that the board could not make head or tail of the transactions, and that she had asked if the board would pay the bills if it had not been for the influenza epidemic. Mr. Ashby said that he had understood that the bills were now in the hands of the board, and that the board had not yet decided whether to pay them or not.

According to the report, 187 civilians died during the epidemic, and 67 per cent of these were under the age of 20 years of age. The division provided 2,200 baskets of food for the sick, and 600 loaves of bread. This food was distributed by volunteers, who worked under Mrs. Allan Russell.

The water supply was reported to be ample and of excellent quality, and the quality of the milk supply is above the average. It is understood that a chlorination plant has been secured to keep the water supply in good condition.
