SIR GILBERT PARKER, AUTHOR OF "BEHOLD MY WIFE," SHOWING One of the foremost novelists of the day is Sir Gilbert Parker, author of "The Translation of the Savage," "The Seats of the Mighty," and many other successful novels. A Canadian by birth, Sir Gilbert Parker knows the Canadian Northwest and its people as perhaps no other writer does. His stirring novels have won him widespread interest because of their powerful appeal and dramatic qualities. In "The Translation of the Savage," upon which "Behold My Wife" is based, showing all this week at the Grand, he depicts the evolution of a supposed halfbreed girl from a state of savagery to a high social position in a British household. Many powerful developments occur during the action, all of which make this one of the strongest stories penned by this gifted writer. Capacity audiences have enjoyed "Behold My Wife" at every performance. day is Sir Gilbert Parker, author of

AROLD LLOYD AMONGST THE BIG FEATURES.

That ace of screen comedians, Harold Lloyd, is billed to take care of the comedy end of the bill, and in his new vehicle "Get Out and Get Under" he venicle "Get Out and Get Under" he stops the show. It all has to do with a Ford, and if you've ever rode in one, owned one or drive one now, see Harold in his "flivver" and learn something new about the "universal" motor. The big parade, with Harold himself which was scheduled for Tuesday at 1 p.m. has been postponed until Thursday at 1 p.m. owing to the inclement weather.

BEAUTIFUL WARDROBE OF ELAINE HAMMERSTEIN IN "POINT OF VIEW" PLEASES THE LADIES. VIEW" PLEASES THE LADIES.

Wonderful gowns, wonderful hats, gorgeous clothes, set in magnificent homes—they never fail to appeal to all the beauty in us—and you certainly see plenty of them in "The Point of View," starring the beautiful Elaine Hammerstein at the Allen today.

A family of blue bloods, for generations regarding the fat of the land as their rightful inheritance, what happens to them when the tide of prosperity turns and they have to look for ways and means of earning a livelihood? If there is a beautiful daughter in the family, they generally count on selling her to the highest bidder in marriage, and so trust to a generous son-in-law to recuperate the family fortunes. Se it was with Marjory Thorncroft. They had persuaded her to accept the advances of the young millionaire from the West, and Marjory thought she was bearing the burden of the world upon her young shoulders. She imagined her love too fine a thing to bestow upon any uncouth Westerner—but it's all in the point of view, as she learned to her advantage.

If you've been feeling glum, down and out, running through stores in quest of suitable Christmas gifts, and want to get rejuvenated take in Margaret Mayo's laughing success, "Baby Mine," at the Majestic. It will send you home with a smile, and feeling twenty summers younger. As the title would suggest, the piece surrounds, darling, dimpled bables and the attempts of the charming wifey to adopt a suitable bundle of joy, and the trials and complications that result when hubby sees no less than three on the scene, and all different; in fact, one an Italian chubby, unite in making this screamingly funny farce the hit of the season. Miss Gwendoline Pates, in her usual finished style, is scoring a distinct hit in the principal role of the charming wife in quest of an adopted child. The piece was evidently written with one object in view, and that to provide the keenest sort of comedy, and as such it lives up to its reputation as the laughing hit of the season. Seats for the big popular matinee today are almost completely sold out, and those desiring suitable seats are requested to phone the box office and make known their wants as soon as possible.

SNATCH MONEY AND STEAL CAR

ALL THIS WEEK AT THE GRAND. Bandits Get Away With Payroll of Big Detroit Firm.

> DETROIT, Dec. 14.—The pay car of the Detroit White Lead Works was robbed of $2,700 at Russell street and Lyman Place this afternoon. Three armed men took the payroll and car. The car had been to the People's State Bank branch at Russell and Lyman streets and was driving away with the payroll, when the three men suddenly appeared, stopped the car, forced out the men and drove away. The money was in pay envelopes in a bag. The car and the bag were recovered by the police at Dubois street and Milwaukee avenue, but the money was gone.

The signals will be mounted on a tall standard, so that they can be clearly seen from any place in the traffic. The policeman on duty will be able to turn the standard at the base, thus reversing the "Stop" and "Go" signals as necessary. There will be red and green lights on them to make them discernible at night.

It is believed that this will prove much more effective manner of handling traffic than the present way, in which the policeman relies entirely on his hands and arms for making the signals. Many motorists have complained that each policeman uses different signs, thus confusing the motorist. This trouble will be eliminated by the "silent Dundas and Richmond street inter-waited two days while the building was replaced.

The earthquake promises to be a spectacular scene in "The Hope," which A. S. Le Vino adapted from the great stage melodrama by Cecil Raleigh and Henry Hamilton. Another episode in this colossal Metro production is a battle in Khyber Pass, India.

Technicians worked two weeks building the street of an Italian city at Metro's sixty-three acre park. Rain prevented filming the earthquake on the Saturday planned for the scene, and the following day wind caused one of the big walls to collapse.

A rollicking Carter De Haven comedy, another interesting Loew pictorial, and an excellent bill of vaudeville completes a tidy bill of amusement.

Tomorrow the one and only Norma Talmadge will grace the screen for the remainder of the week in the First National attraction, "Yes or No," said to eclipse any previous effort of this favorite star.

SANTA CLAUS VISITOR

DURING SOCIAL EVENING Huron & Erle and Canada Trust Staffs Give To Home. Give To Home.

The staffs of the Huron & Erie and the Canada Trust Company held their first winter social on Monday evening. The club-rooms on the top floor, which has recently been renovated, were gaily decorated for the occasion. Numerous gifts were placed on and about the Christmas tree. H. B. Hunter, estates manager, in red robe and substitute face, with a Santa Claus flowing white beard, remembered everyone present. It was his first offence in this capacity, and the staffs are hoping it will not be the last. FAVOR PEOPLE'S PARTY

TORONTO, Dec. 14.-Farmer members of the Ontario Government held a caucus at the Parliament Buildings this afternoon, when Premier E. C. Drury's suggested broadening out of the United Farmers of Ontario to the People's Progressive Party was discussed. No announcement as to the result of the caucus, if there was any definite result thereat, was made. It is understood, however, that practically all the members present favored the Progressive People's Party idea, and that if carried out it should be broad enough to take in all citizens of Ontario whose views would harmonize with those of the Government. Neither of the labor ministers attended the caucus.
