HURON COUNTY ROADS.

Fifty years ago the then citizens of the County of Huron were progressive igh and courageous enough to buy out their toll system and construct a complete road system at a capital cost of $600,000. During that half century the burden of debt has been steadily the burden of debt has been steadily during which time it is expected they lessened, but some debentures yet remain to be redeemed. Some years ago rcpean port of importance, for the purcounty road systems to the extent of one-third of the needed outlay. The act is not retroactive, and thus imposes, in a sense, a penalty on the progressive and enterprising spirit of ear-

The case they present seems to The World to be worthy of favorable consideration, either by special grant or by extending the scope of the act to cover cases where heavy pecuniary engagements have been undertaken, or are now again necessary in a matter admitted to be partly of provincial importance.

THE JAPANESE IMMIGRATION DIFFICULTY.

In its zeal to rid the Dominion Government of its proper responsibility for the present position of the Asiatic immigration difficulty, the chief Liberal organ goes considerably too far. It argues that "Canada could have jeopardized her own place in the empire and the empire's place in the world of nations by refusing to abide by Britain's treaty, but the question was the extent to which the Dominion should sacrifice her own interests for the broader need of imperial strength." This is grotesquely wrong. As matter of fact, the treaty expressly excepte dthe self-governing states of the them to assume its obligations and secure its trade advantages if they so years between the United Kingdom the insurance, but this claim was not and Japan, without affecting Canada, nor did Canada's exclusion from its operations in any way disturb the sta-

DEFENCE HOPES TO PROVE DAVIDS WAS JUSTIFIED

Jealousy Ascribed as One Cause for Murder and Insanity at Time is Claimed.

FREDERICKTON, Jan. 9.—The tria of David, the wife murderer, proceed ed to-day.

Mr. Hazen claimed that the defend would show under the criminal cod that the offence charged could not more than manslaughter. He told in detail of the relation of the Davids and how, on several occasions David had forgiven his wife, and taken her back after she had left him. He said they would also prove that Irs. David had no intention of leaving Nichologs and when she bought her ticket at vid had no intention of leaving Nicholas, and when she bought her ticket at Woodstock to go with her husband it was a return ticket to McAdam Junction. The defence would show that at McAdam Junction the woman had told David that Nicholas' shoe was worth David's whole body, and that she intended returning to Woodstock. This would lead any man of jealous disposition to act quickly. Mr. Hazen urged strongly that homicide under some circumstances was justifiable. some circumstances was justifiable, and the facts in this case practically warrant it. The second ground of defence was that David was not responsible for his actions. A history of the David family showed that the misener's insanty was inherited. prisoner's insamity was inherited. There were experts here to give testimony that the prisoner was subject to fits, and that he was not re-

Two witnesses were then called by the defence, Mrs. Anna Yardid, who testified as to getting money for Mrs. David's return ticket from Woodstock to McAdam Junction, thus showing that Mrs. David had no intention of going further than McAdam, and Mr. Irvine, the ticket agent, who testified to getting the money for the return ticket
