A win over the probable champions, and by a substantial margin to confirm their claim to being the best team in the league. Reserved seats will go on sale Thursday, a day earlier than usual, to provide for a large crowd expected at this feature attraction.

DULUTH WOULD LIKE N. A. A. O. REGATTA

Veteran Oarsman and Coach J. Ten Eyck Expects West Will Get Big Rowing Event.

NEW YORK, March 13.—The Duluth Boat Club will make a strong effort to have the national regatta awarded to Duluth this season, and the delegates from the western city are coming to New York for the annual meeting of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen at the N.Y.A.C. on March 18, armed with petitions, affidavits and promises of magnificent trophies, and holding out the prospect of the largest entry ever received in a national regatta. If their request is granted, Everybody in the western city, from errand boy to mayor, including the city council, has volunteered to aid in making the meeting a success, and the record of the Duluth Boat Club at the last national regatta at Springfield, where the blue-jerseyed oarsmen captured forty-eight out of a possible fifty-one prizes, entitles the request to serious consideration.

Speaking to a reporter yesterday, Jim Ten Eyck, former national champion sculler, and the coach of the Duluth crew, said that he expected no opposition on the part of rival cities at the meeting of the N.Y.A.C. in speaking of the qualifications of Duluth for holding the regatta. Ten Eyck said: "If the national regatta is awarded to Duluth, it will mean a big boom in rowing throughout the west. There are a great many clubs right around that section—Chicago, Peoria, Grand Rapids, Detroit and St. Paul—that would ensure a big entry list in every event. In addition to this, I have just finished a trip around the western part of the continent, and I received assurances that crews from the farthest points—New Orleans and the coast—would be prepared to enter at Duluth."

The course over which the regatta would be held is on St. Louis Bay, which is a beautiful sheet of water in one of the largest inland harbors in the world. I think that if we get the award, we will have the greatest regatta ever held, for the course is certainly a wonder, and we would have enough room to hold a section of the country alone to surpass the entry list of the national regatta of recent years.

The Duluth oarsmen are prepared to run a special train for boats and scullers, starting from New York and picking up the contestants on the trip to Duluth. In addition to this, a certain proportion of the railroad fare of all the competitors, probably about one-third, no matter where they come from, will be returned to all who appear at the regatta.

The Duluth course is one of the few rowing courses that possess a good grand stand, from which the races can be viewed. The stands on the St. Louis Bay course are capable of seating 4000 people, and the money derived from the sale of these seats will go toward the expenses of the visitors.
