Curling Ice in the City Rinks ✣ Rugby The Season Closes Today ✣ Hockey Pro Players And the Draft

THE CURLERS WILL START PLAY TODAY

Toronto and Queen City Clubs Ask Thier Members to Turn Out on Good Ice.

The cold spell has started the curlers going. At the Victoria and Queen City the brithers of the besom will begin today. The Tcrontos had perceptible ice last night and ask the members to turn out this afternoon and evening, when the five sheets will be in condition for play. The surface was nicely covered with a slippery coat last night, but the members did pot know about it.

The five rinks at Queen City will be in shape for play this afternoon and evening.

At Lakeview they sprinkled the boards in order to tighten the floor and with continued cold weather expect to get going next week.

At the Granite they are talking about the time to start the Tankard and Jerry Laflamme's hand-picked quartet that will be specially groomed to land the new Walker trophy. Burleigh will start on his ice-making next week, weather permitting.

PACIFIC COAST HOCKEY STARTS AFTER CHRISTMAS

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 23.—The Pacific Coast Hockey Association season intended to start on Dec. 7, but will not open until the week following Christmas.

Announcement to this effect was made today by President Frank Patrick of the coast body, who stated that this action was made necessary owing to the failure of various players to have their cases disposed of by the exemption tribunals and that as there was no prospect of securing players until such time as their cases are heard, it would be impossible to start on Dec. 7, the date fixed in the schedule for the opening matches of the circuit.

In announcing this decision President Patrick again stated that the Coast Hockey Association is not applying for exemption for any players.

ODIE CLEGHORN IS OUT FOR THE SEASON

Granted Temporary Exemption, and Loses it if He Plays Hockey.

Special to The Toronto World.

Montreal, Que., Nov. 23.—Harry Hyland, who played centre position for the Wanderers last season and the previous year, has been granted exemption. Hyland will be one of the best men in the proposed new league should he decide to play. Odie Cleghorn is another member of the Wanderers who was granted exemption, but his case is different from that of Hyland's. Exemption was granted to Cleghorn for strictly business purposes until the first of March, but in the beginning the tribunal stipulated that Cleghorn must not participate in any hockey matches this season. Should he play hockey, his temporary exemption will become null and void.

Cleghorn was put in class A and asked for exemption for strictly business reasons. In granting this exemption the tribunal established a precedent that is likely to be followed by others. This, added to the scarcity of professional hockey players, and unless Quebec or Toronto is dropped, one of the local teams will be greatly weakened. If Quebec dropped out Malone and Macdonald will be handed over to the local clubs, one going to each. If Toronto is dropped the players will likely be divided, as a year ago, but even with that there would still be a scarcity of players. Altho there was no official notice given to Hyland regarding his playing hockey, it is hardly likely that he will participate in any of the games, as his appearance on the ice would assuredly bring about an appeal from the military authorities.

FOYSTON AND WALKER HAVE NOT YET SIGNED.

Seattle, Nov. 23.—Pete Muldoon, who piloted Seattle to the championship in the Pacific Coast League last year, has stated that Bobby Rowe and Bernie Morris will be seen in action again this years with the Mets. According to Muldoon, Frank Foyston, captain of last year's team, and Jack Walker, have not yet signed to play this season.

WIND UP THE SEASON WITH GAMES TODAY

Tigers and Caps—U.T.S. and Sarnia for the Junior Rugby Honors.

One of the largest crowds of the season is expected at Scarboro Beach this afternoon when the Hamilton Tigers, intermediate O. R. F. U. champions, clash with the Capitals in the final game of the season. The Tigers are the only team in the series undefeated, having won five straight games, and are confident of adding another victory to their unbroken string. One of the hardest games of the season should be the result, altho it will have no bearing on the championship.

The meeting between University of Toronto Schools and Sarnia Collegiate in the final for the O. R. F. U. junior honors at Woodstock today is causing more than usual interest. This is the third season for the newly-arranged junior series in the Ontario Union, and the 1917 champions, no matter which team wins, will have won the honors twice in the past three years. In 1915, the first year of the series, University Schools finished out on top. Last season Sarnia Collegiate took away the championship. Saturday's meeting is, therefore, one of champions. Both teams have made a splendid showing this season, and a good game is expected.

Excelsiors, junior city champions, take on the Hamilton Tiger juniors in Hamilton today in the first of home-and-home games for the inter-city championship, total points to count.

Reduced fares have been secured from the C. P. R., and tickets may be had from L. Dean, H. Burbidge or H. Scanlan. The team will leave on the 1.15 C. P. R. train from the Union Station. Tickets will be available at both the union and Sunnyside stations from the parties mentioned above.

The following players will make the trip: Ryder, Grass, Benson, Burbidge, Batstone, Horehan, Ward, Wood, Mix, Gallagher, Sidenberg, Leonard, Britton, Shatz, Thompson, Smith, Marshall, Dean.

SOCCER NOTES

At Dunlop's Athletic Field today, the junior intercity soccer championship will be played. The contesting teams will be Linfield, champions of Toronto, and Thistles, the unbeaten champions of the Hamilton Junior League. This is the first junior inter-city game that has been staged, and it is creating an unusual amount of interest in soccer circles and granted favorable weather, it should attract a good crowd. The game is called for 2.30 p.m., and will be in the capable hands of Referee Billy Murchie.

At Varsity Stadium, at 2.45 p.m., Ulster United and Old Country will meet for the fifth time this season, Ulster having won two, Old Country one, and the other one was a drawn game. This game should be a hummer, and will repay a visit to this popular ground, where the game can be watched in comfort. Both teams will have out their strongest lineup, Ulster's injured men have recovered and are now able to take their regular places on the team. Old Country, who have proved themselves capable cup fighters this season (having already won two trophies), are out after the third. Sid Banks will be the knight of the whistle.

GEORGE SISLER PICKED AS BEST ALL-ROUND PLAYER

New York, Nov. 23.—George Sisler, of the St. Louis Browns, has been pronounced the best all-round player in the major leagues. Sisler was not far behind Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker in the American League batting averages this year, and with the possible exception of "Stuffy" McInnis, of the Athletics, he was the leading first baseman.

Sisler's claim to the all-round title is based on his ability to cover each of the infield positions and the outfield. He also has shown undoubted skill as a left-handed pitcher. He is a fast runner, and one of the most intelligent players in the game. The White Sox have no such star, altho Outfielder Jack Collins can play first base in a pinch. Heilman, of the Tigers, who covers right field regularly, also has played first base now and then, while Harold Janvrin, of the Red Sox, can fill any of the infield positions.

McInnis and Schang, of the Athletics, also possess some all-round quality. McInnis probably could cover second, third and short, altho he is best at the initial corner. Schang, a great catcher, has played third base and left field with excellent results. Foster, of the Washingtons, has done good work at short, second and third. Of the Highlanders Peckinpaugh is the only player who can be successfully shifted from short to third or second.

MANY MANAGERS AFTER THE ONE JOB

Owner Rickey Names Twenty-Seven Prospective Pilots for St. Louis Cards.

St. Louis, Nov. 23.—Who will be the next manager of the St. Louis Cardinals? Branch Rickey has simmered down the field to twenty-seven men. He says the name of the successor of Miller Huggins, now pilot of the Yankees, is in this list:

Ira Thomas, coach of Athletic pitchers.
Bill Carrigan, former manager Boston Red Sox.
Jack Coombs, pitcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers.
George Huff, baseball coach, University of Illinois.
Jack Hendricks, manager Indianapolis (A.A.) Club.
George Moriarity, American League umpire.
Jack Miller, second-baseman Cardinals.
Charles (Red) Roolin, ex-manager Philadelphia Nationals.
Bill Clark, coach Princeton University baseball team.
Bill Clymer, manager Louisville (A.A.) Club.
L. W. St. John, athletic director Ohio State University.
Johnny Dobbs, manager New Orleans (Southern League) Club.
Chester Brewer, athletic director Michigan Aggies.
Bob Wallace, former shortstop Browns and Cardinals.
John Ganzel, manager Kansas City (A.A.) Club.
Fielding H. Yost, football coach University of Michigan.
Harry Wolverton, former major and minor league manager.
Joe Birmingham, former manager of Cleveland Americans.
Roy Thomas, baseball coach University of Pennsylvania.
Bill Donovan, deposed manager of the New York Yankees.
Pat Page, baseball coach University of Chicago.
Carleton Molesworth, manager Birmingham (Southern League) Club.
Joe Kelley, scout New York Yankees.
Charles Keischner, former scout of Browns.
Roger Bresnahan, manager Toledo (A.A.) Club.
Carl Lundgren, baseball coach University of Michigan.
Charles Frank, manager New Orleans (Southern League) Club.

"This is a splendid list of men," Rickey said. "Several or them would be managers par excellence for any club in the country. The man I want certainly is among them, and I know the baseball world will congratulate St. Louis if I am successful in procuring his services."

This eliminates such men as Johnny Evers, Charley Herzog, Joe Tinker, Larry Doyle, Pat Donovan, Jimmy Sheckard, Tommy Leach and dozens of others who have been mentioned for the place.

VETERAN LACROSSE PLAYER DONS KHAKI

Vancouver, Nov. 23.—A member of Vancouver's first champion lacrosse team of 1888 in the person of Harry Rankin has donned the khaki and is now on his way across the pond. Pte. Rankin has passed his 52nd milestone. Rankin was one of the best known of lacrosse players more than a score of years ago. He played the home field with Boney Suckling's stalwarts in 1888 and won the first championship. He retired from the game in 1892 when he left the province to take up his residence in the far north. Two years ago he returned to Vancouver and after making several futile attempts to get overseas convinced a recruiting officer that he would be a useful man under arms.
