

Belgian soldiers holding a canal from the Germans a hundred yards away. An interesting kodak snap.

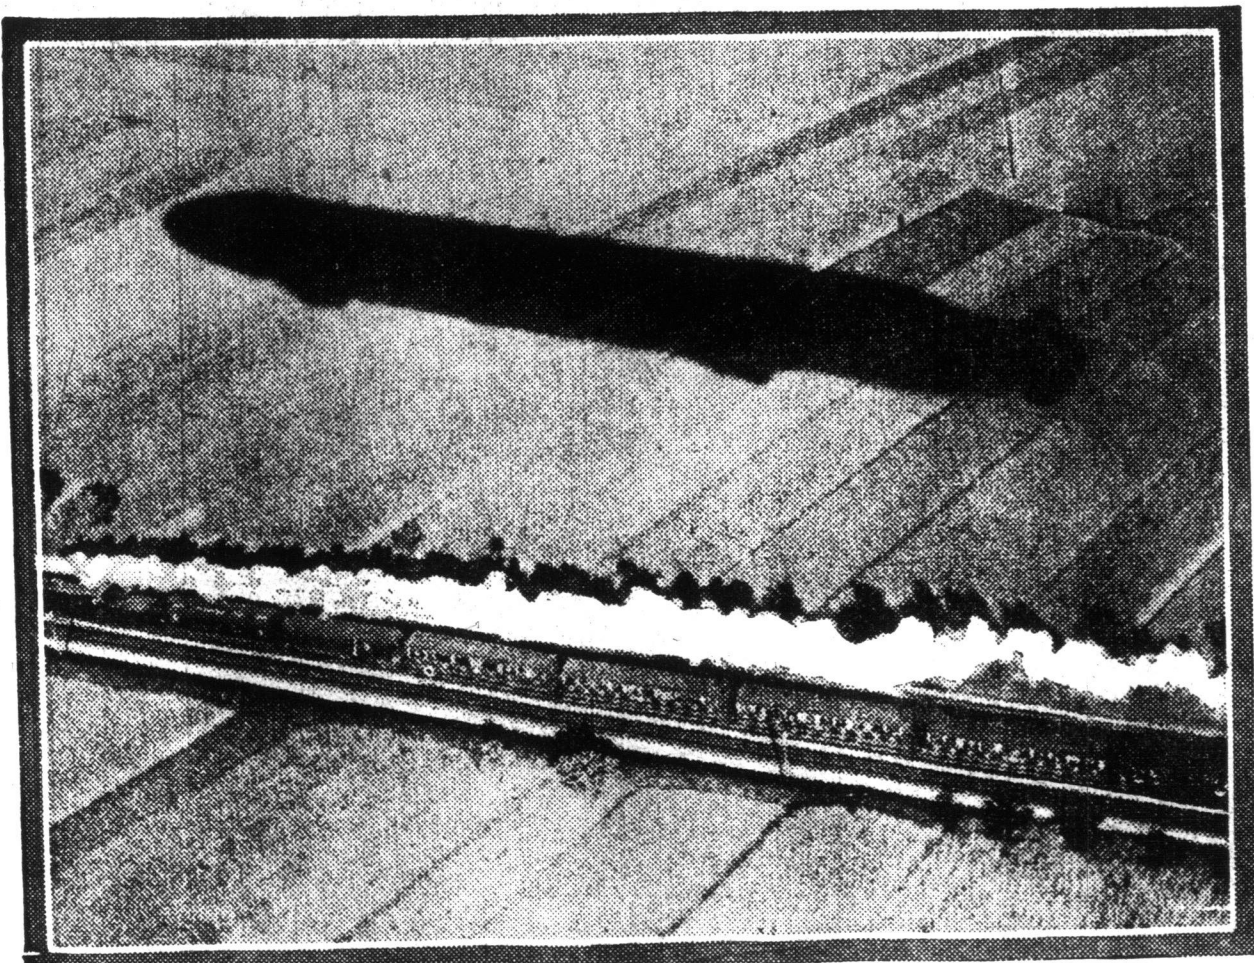

A mascot of the Austrians in Egypt.

French artillery in action—Owing to the great elevation at which the gun is fired a pit must be dug for the gunners.

Amid wine bottles and cobweb—A Soisson's family living in the cellar of their home.

A swift Zeppelin shadowing a train—The "Schwaben"—its shadow on the ground—racing the Offenbourg-Freiburg Express. To reassure you, this particular craft has since been lost.

How the Zouaves—as shown by a party ready for the fray—look in their new khaki uniforms. They still retain
