JUVENILE COURT

Five Boys in Trouble Over I. C. R. Property—Parents too Lenient

Five boys—Ceel and Jack Brown, Otis Northrup, Harold Garnett, and George McCormack—were brought before Judge Ritchie this morning in the juvenile court on a charge of breaking windows, in the I. C. R. elevator, and trespassing on I. C. R. property. They denied having broken the windows, but admitted having played ball in the neighborhood.

His Honor said they were liable to a fine for trespassing on the railroad property, but if their parents were willing to pay for the damaged windows, he would allow the fine, which is a heavy one, to stand. This they consented to do, and the youths were allowed to go.

"There would be no trouble with boys," said His Honor, "if the parents would not let themselves be ruled by them, and would be more strict with them. The father or the mother cannot control a boy or girl at the age of five or six, how is it to be when the child has grown to fifteen, or sixteen, or older? Why, even the young girls are allowed to run the streets, nowadays, with as much freedom as the boys, because the parents are too lenient with them."

TWO RIVER STEAMERS LAID UP FOR REPAIRS

The river steamer Victoria arrived at Indiantown last night rather crippled by the accident near Fredericton reported yesterday when she struck a railway bridge pier and one of her sides was badly damaged. She was able to proceed to Indiantown however under her own steam and arrived late last night. This morning she was towed to Tapley's slip, where she will be repaired. Fred Heans will do the work, and it will likely be a week before she will be on the route again. The Champlain is still laid up at Indiantown.

The Sincennes and Majestic left this morning with heavy cargoes. The Hampton is still making a weekly trip on the Belleisle route in place of the Champlain. The tug Flushing is expected down river any day now with a raft of logs for Glasiers. The water has not risen very much during the last few days.

ST. JOHN NOW HAS A MOUNTED POLICEMAN

The appointment of Patrolman Alex Crawford as special mounted policeman for the city was made today by Chief Clark, and he will go on duty at once. The appointment is in keeping with the resolution passed at a council meeting some time ago, giving permission to the chief to add three men to the strength of the force, and to select one for mounted patrol in the vicinity of Mount Pleasant and Rockwood Park.

It was thought at first that a mounted man might be put in Douglas Avenue, and that neighborhood, but this is not the case, as one of the patrolmen has been selected to cover that district, the other two to cover the other two districts.

ROY MUNROE DROWNED AT SOUTH BAY

Went in Swimming and Was Never Seen After First Plunge—Son of W. A. Munroe—The Body Recovered

While in swimming this morning with six companions at South Bay, young Roy Munroe, son of W. A. Munroe, of Paradise Row, took a cramp, and lost his life by drowning. He started out during this morning with the other lads, and had stopped near the culvert not far from the plant of the Canada Woodware Co. there to enjoy a plunge in the cooling waters. It is said that he did not again arise to the surface after going down once.

His companions at once spread the alarm, and the sorrowful news was sent to his father in the city. Mr. Munroe at once went to the scene of the accident, and remained there. A number of men went to work grappling for the body, and it was recovered at 1:30 o'clock.

Roy was a bright lad of fifteen years, popular with his playmates. His father and mother survive, as well as four brothers, and three sisters. Of the former, Donald, is in New York, where William is in the employ of the public works department here. A sister, Miss Florence, is in New York, while the other sisters are at home.

The young lad was accompanied by his two brothers, two lads named Pupley, another named Fleming, and a boy named McAllister. He was the only one of the party to go in swimming, and after he had plunged in he was not seen again until his body was found about fifty feet from the spot.

Coroner M. L. Macfarland decided that no inquest was necessary and gave permission to the father to have his son's body removed home.

THE WESTERN EXTENSION BRINGS $210

Ferry Boat Sold at Auction This Morning—Purchase of the Newport Likely

After many years of faithful service the ferry steamer Western Extension has passed into the hands of a new owner. The ancient craft was purchased at noon today at public auction, by John T. McGoldrick, for $210.

Only a few months ago the common council voted, by a large majority, to have the boat retained for municipal use, at an estimated cost of about $20,000. Arrangements were made for the boat to be placed on J. S. Ferguson's blocks, Strait Shore, and the work of removing old timbers was commenced. It was found, however, that the vessel was in such bad shape that the mayor ordered the work stopped and later the council sustained the action and it was decided to sell it at public auction.

Auctioneer P. L. Potts conducted the sale this morning and there was quite a lot of interested spectators, but only three bidders. The first bid was $10 from John T. McGoldrick and this was raised to $20 by Alderman McGoldrick. John T. then offered $30 and from that figure $5 and $10 bids were made until the final amount of $210 was reached. P. Mooney took a hand for a few bids, then left it to the others.

The boat was sold just as it stands on the blocks, partly stripped, and according to the terms of sale it passes from the control of the city within five days, the city being responsible for the blockage charges for that time.

The Ontario was sold about a year ago and the sole survivor of the city's navy is now the Yellow, called by many "the $100,000 beauty."

Superintendent Waring and Government Inspectors Olive and Dalton are now in Newport, inspecting the ferry steamer of that name and it is believed that the boat will be purchased as an auxiliary for the service. Alderman Smith, chairman of the ferry committee, received word this morning from the superintendent that he had found the boat all right. It is probable that the inspectors will arrive home this evening and submit their report to Ald. Smith, and if so a meeting will probably be held on Monday afternoon to consider the matter and draw up a report for the common council.

BARK IS AGAIN CLEAR OF TROUBLE

The Emma R. Smith's Affairs Straightened Out and She Has New Register

Out of all her difficulties, and with a brand new register, the bark Emma R. Smith, which was arrested here by a Mobile firm when she was about to clear for New York, some weeks ago, will clear on Monday. This vessel has had a unique experience. She consumed three months on a trip from Mobile to St. John, recently and during that time she got in various kinds of trouble and had no less than five captains.

Arriving here she discharged a cargo of hard pine for J. A. Likely and loaded lumber for New York for Stetson, Cutler & Co. On April 25 she had completed loading and was about clearing when Weldon & McLean at the instance of the Costello Chandler Co. arrested her and negotiations have since been going on.

For a time it looked as if she would be put under the hammer, but all has been arranged to the satisfaction of the Mobile people. The names of the masters who have been in command of the Smith since she sailed for St. John are Captains Kaneva, Southard, Miller, Beattay, and her present skipper, Bendavid. Of the number, Captain Miller brought her to St. John, Capt. Beattay was in command when she was ready to clear in April, and Captain Bendavid is now in charge. The vessel's landing port has been changed from Hamilton, N. S., to St. John's, Newfoundland.
