THE APRIL NUMBER of the CANADIAN HOME JOURNAL is a credit to that enterprising publication, and in no wise belies its avowed intention of making such succeeding number better than the last. A feature of the month's issue is a very beautiful page illustration of the angel removing the stone from the door of the sepulchre. Paul Caron is the artist. Kate Westlake Yagh contributes another article on the coast of Ontario. The illustration by five photos of the Esauy River. An Easter article for adults, another for children, and the story of the Easter Hare, are appropriate to the season. Madeline Gault contributes another clever story, this time a boy's confession. The Canada Club tells you a lot about silverware. Dr. Bryon contributes another health article, and Dr. J. Wallace Smith deals with the feeding of the food for children. Rev. E. Eymon Young, Jr., tells an interesting tale of a summer in an Indian Village, and the usual music and other departments are complete. The Journal's enterprise deserves your assistance. Boston's Sportsman's Exhibition. We learn from our American exchange that the citizens of Boston turned out in large numbers to honor the New Brunswick visitors at the Sportsman's Exhibition and gave Governor McClellan a splendid reception. The following is a brief report of the affair: Boston, March 23. - New Brunswick day at the Sportsman's Exhibition proved an unqualified success. In the immense auditorium there was a regular sea of faces at 9 o'clock, when Governor McClellan and party were conducted to the stage by the directors of the exhibition and Mayor Quincy received them with enthusiastic applause. Mayor Quincy introduced the visitors, welcoming them to the exhibition. He then introduced Lieut. Governor McClellan, who made some brief remarks, referring to the fact that the province was doing all they could for game protection. He referred to the friendly feeling existing between Great Britain and the United States, and he believed they were drawing closer together. He thanked the directors of the exhibition for their reception and hospitality.

Premier Emerson invited the Bostonians and New England people generally to visit New Brunswick, and he was met with great attractions for tourists and sportsmen. He wanted his hearers to know more of New Brunswick, for many of them thought it was in Nova Scotia. The cordiality of their reception, he said, was such as they would never forget.

Dr. Stockton referred to the relationship between England and the United States, and hoped if he should arrive, they would be found fighting side by side. He hoped the United States would always be standing in the championship of freedom and humanity.

Provincial Secretary Tweedie followed in a witty speech.

A programme of aquatic sports was then gone through with and the guests inspected the exhibition, after which the Lieutenant Governor and party were the guests of honor at a banquet given by members of the New England Sportsman's Association in Paul Revere hall, in the fair building. Governor Wolcott and Mayor Quincy were among the guests.

(Boston Herald, 23.) "God Save the Queen," "The Red White and Blue," "Rule Britannia," and the "Star Spangled Banner" made a Symphony at the Sportsman's show last night, celebrating "New Brunswick Day." It was a dignified interchange of international courtesies between the governors of neighboring states and a highly agreeable meeting all around. Lieut. Governor A. McCallan, Premier of the Province; L. J. Tweedie, Provincial Secretary, and Dr. A. A. Stockton, member of the provincial parliament, formed the nucleus of the New Brunswick party, attended by about 30 men from the province, occupied officially with the government or with the exhibit at the show. They were greeted as they assembled last evening by Mayor Quincy and Adj. Gen. Dalton, who conveyed the regards of Governor Wolcott, detained at the dinner of the New England governors. Gov. Wolcott came in freely, however, and for over an hour was a deeply interested onlooker at the events in the hall.

"God save the Queen," and were duly cheered as the New Brunswick exhibit was passed. Movement was difficult owing to the crush, but at last the party reached a group of chairs in the Indian village on the stage of the great hall, where a brief speech-making session preceded the regular programme.

A pretty incident, much commented on and cheered at the time, was the action of a uniformed member of the New Brunswick party. [Capt. Madouell A. D. C. to Governor McClellan.] As the notes of "God Save the Queen" rang over the hall he came to "attention," held together, eye front, and gravely saluted the hymn to his sovereign.

Mayor Quincy opened the meeting with a neat speech of welcome, and introduced Lieut. Gov. McClellan, who expressed his thanks at the opportunity to commend not only the Sportsman's show, but the chance it afforded to exchange greetings with citizens of a sister state, to meet thus in friendly competition the wholesome, healthy affairs of the woods and streams, to mutually respect each other in the noble cause of protection to the denizens of the forest, to shake hands also with those who, here in New Brunswick, have adopted Boston as their home - these the standards and privileges that would be a highly prized remembrance.

Premier Emerson humorously commented upon some local failings in geography, which often placed New Brunswick as a part of Nova Scotia, but he treated the show had gone far to correct these errors and to reinstate his native province in its proper dignity as a region with traditions and hopes of the future. These were the earliest and latest dates of its opening and closing during the last 75 years. An early opening is looked for this spring.

The new steamer CANADA, of William Thomson & Co.'s line, was launched in the Clyde last Wednesday.

In spite of official and other denials, it is believed that the partial explosion of the Porto Rico is imminent, and it is asserted that the Spanish cruiser Vinuela, when she leaves Havana, will go to Porto Rico in order to strengthen the hands of the Government officials there.

A bill to lower the free importation of munitions of war was rushed through Congress on Saturday.

The Maine Disaster. The official report of the court of inquiry into the Maine disaster has been published and confirms the worst suspicions of the cause of the explosion. After full and mature consideration of the testimony before it the court finds that the loss of the Maine, on the occasion named, was not in any respect due to the fault or negligence on the part of any officers or members of the crew of said vessel.

In the opinion of the court the Maine was destroyed by the explosion of a submarine mine, which caused the partial explosion of two or more of the forward magazines.

The court has been unable to obtain evidence fixing the responsibility for the destruction of the Maine upon any person or persons.

Four thousand homeless persons, few of whom had hope of recovering any of their property, were sheltered to-night in hospitals and public institutions of Zanesville.
