COAL MINERS' LINING UP.

Things look more ominous in the anthracite region. If the present actions of President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers mean anything they mean that he is lining up and inspiring his men for a fight and if his public utterances mean anything the coal operators must recede to a great extent from the present position they now hold or the fight is not far distant.

Mr. Mitchell is now in the midst of what the reporters up there style "a whirlwind campaign" through Pennsylvania preliminary to a convention of the miners to be held in December when some new demands will certainly be made upon the operators. There is little doubt that they will again ask for the recognition of their union, so that they may obtain formal contracts, regulating their dealings with the mine owners. It is also likely that they will demand a reduction in the hours of work, and an increase in wages in every department of work. Mr. Mitchell's speeches indicate that he will endorse these demands and, judging by the enthusiasm of his meetings, the men will contend as stubbornly for them as they did for what they considered their rights in the last strike.

If they do the anthracite region will see a strike greater and of longer duration and with more disastrous consequences than even the last great struggle. For the operators claim they will close the mines rather than make any more concessions, especially in the nature of recognition, and both the operators and the miners are better prepared for a long war than they were before.

In the anthracite country the United Mine Workers' organization, according to President Mitchell, has from fifty thousand to sixty thousand paid up members in good standing with national bodies. Besides that there are a large number of men who keep up with their locals but who are not heard from at headquarters. By the time his tour closes he hopes to have fully 100,000 men in the district and national union, and perhaps 120,000 in the locals. At the time of the inception of the strike of 1900 the organization there had something more than eight thousand members in good standing. When the strike of 1902 began there were between forty thousand and fifty thousand members. So a general strike now would call out almost every miner in the district. And the organization claims to have a fund of almost five million dollars.

On the other hand the operators have accumulated large stocks of reserve coal, enough, it is said, to run their railroads for two years.

The outlook, in the event of a strike, is not pleasant for the consumer. For the operators claim they will close the mines rather than make any more concessions, especially in the nature of recognition, and both the operators and the miners are better prepared for a long war than they were before.

Through the fiercest battles of the war the Mikasa, Togo's splendid flagship fought her way unharmed only to perish ignominiously, lying at anchor in a home harbor. This is the third piece of hard luck of this kind for the Japanese. One of their finest cruisers was sunk during the war in collision and another was blown up by mine.

In this instance, however, there must have been something more than bad luck. Somebody is generally to blame when an accident occurs on board a battleship and undoubtedly an investigation will be made. Meanwhile for the loss of their finest battleship the Japanese will be consoled by the fact that they still have their greatest admiral.

The Anglican Synod, now in session in Quebec, appears to be suffering from a severe attack of appendicitis.

"NOBODY CARES."

The Woodstock Sentinel, which is supposed to reflect the views of Mr. Carvell, the member for Carleton, seems disposed to sneer at Mr. Costigan and his long letters explaining why he left the conservative party.

"Nobody, we imagine, cares a crooked hawbee whether Mr. Costigan desert the conservative party or the vice versa," says the Sentinel. To make this statement more contemptuous the Sentinel proceeds:

"The facts are that he was an office holder for many years under the old regime, of which he was one of the leading principals, and when his party went out of power, lent his support to the liberal government. He claims to have good and sufficient reasons for the change. That being the case, it is the business of nobody to pry too closely into the why and the wherefore."

But what about Sir Wilfrid's promise of a senatorship to Mr. Costigan? Does the Sentinel question the statement that the promise has been made?..Sun.

GOD'S LANTERNS.

When day is gone and shadows creep,
And on my candle clear stars gleam,
I watch them as they shine so bright,
When all around is dark as night.

And then, I think, God must have seen
How very dark it would have been
If there had been no light to show
The proper way men had to go.

For they would often lose their way
If no sun shone in the day;
They would be full of dread and fear
In all the dark with no one near.

And so He put His lanterns out
That men might see their way about,
And weary travelers who roam
Might find through Him the right way home.

WEDDINGS.

DONALD-HACKETT.
A very pretty wedding was celebrated on Tuesday evening, Sept. 12th, at the home of Mrs. John Hackett, Lombard street, when her daughter, Miss Margaret Birdie Hackett, was united in the bonds of holy matrimony to Alexander Benjamin Donald, of this city.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Pritchard, B. A., B. D., pastor of the Congregational church, Union street, in the presence of over forty guests. The bride costume consisted of white crepe de chene over white tulle. Miss George D. Carpenter, of Jersey City, N. Y., acted as bridesmaid and wore a gown of green tulle. The bride was given away by her cousin, H. W. McNelis, of St. John.

W. W. Donald, brother of the groom, acted as groomsmen. After the ceremony dinner was served, the dining room being prettily decorated with cream and white daisies.

The popular bride couple were the recipients of many presents which are both useful and beautiful. They will reside on Lombard street.

LORDEN-GORDON.

Percy James Dotten, of Pictou, N. S., and Miss Ethel Gordon, of Cambridge, Mass., were married Tuesday evening, Sept. 12, by Rev. W. S. Pritchard, B. A., B. D., at his residence, 153 Paradise row. The bride was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Wm. Gordon, of Cambridge, Mass., and the groom by Archibald M. Fraser, of Pictou, N. S.

PITTSBURG LEADS

IN RACE SUICIDE.
PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 12.—A table of births and deaths in Pittsburgh during the last fourteen years, prepared by Dr. D. B. Boice, city physician, and the Bureau of Health shows a startling decrease in the number of births notwithstanding a large increase in population.

"The figures show race suicide is a fact," Dr. Boice said. "In 1881, the year when Pittsburgh was one of the larger cities of the country. There is also another feature. At the present advanced age the physicians save fifty per cent. more babies than they did ten years ago. The advance made in science has reduced the loss of cases to a minimum. Taking this into consideration, together with the increase in population and such a decided decrease in the birth rate, it shows that something is radically wrong. President Roosevelt is right in his theories on race suicide."

In 1881 there were 7,067 births, the rate a thousand being 23.1. In the same year there were 5,532 deaths, the rate a thousand being 23.6. The table is complete to the end of 1904, which shows a decrease in the birth rate to 21.74, more than seven per cent. The death rate is decreased from 23.61 to 18.77 from 1881 to 1904.

The figures for the first three months of this year are surprising. In 1881 the excess of births over deaths was 1,235. The figures for this year indicate that and the conditions are reversed, there being a decrease of twenty-three births from the death rate.

CANADA WILL SUPPLY
THE WORLD WITH IRON.
OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—Dr. P. L. F. Heroult, technical director of the French-Electro Metallurgical Society, who has immense works at La Paz, France, where aluminum and steel are produced, is now in the city.

He said in an interview today that in ten years Canada will become a great metallurgical country. There will be an iron industry larger than any other in the world. It will be the same with iron as with wheat. Canada will furnish to the world its iron supply. Iron can be produced cheaper here than in any other country.

PHILOSOPHY OF THE ORIENT.
(The Sketch.)
Once when the Shah of Persia was a guest of English royalty he went to see the Derby run. The dusky ruler noted the intensity of the enthusiasm when some thoroughbred in a close finish beat his field. He was quite curious about it. "Why are the people making all the noise?" he asked.

"Why, don't you see that Scando won the Derby?" answered the prince. Then with gravity observed the potentate: "Were they not already aware that one horse can run faster than another?"

LOCAL NEWS.

Money saved on glasses from D. Boyner, Optician, 61 Main street.

Mary, the seven year old daughter of Officer McNamee, had her arm broken in two places last evening. She was playing with some other children on a neighbor's doorstep, and either fell or was accidentally pushed off and her right arm broken at the elbow joint.

Dr. G. A. B. Addy set the limb, but the little one will be prevented from indulging in play for some months.

That little matter between the Street Railway Company and the Lancaster highway board relating to the extension through Fairville has not yet been settled. Negotiations are still going on, and the prospects for a peaceable settlement are about as bright as when the matter first came up. It is understood that the company are now of the opinion that the legislation of last session so changed conditions that the line into Fairville does not appear to be such an enticing proposition as it at first seemed.

There was a splendid gathering at the Chipman House last night. The three Christian Endeavor branches represented were Congregational, Baptist and Methodist. Rev. John P. Floyd presided. The leader took up the subject for the evening, namely, Surrender. After a very earnest and able discourse, which was listened to with great attention, the meeting was left open for members to take part. Miss Fowler sang a solo.

There now remains but one case of diphtheria in the city, that of Miss Frances Price of Britain street. Of the six cases which occurred in this month one has resulted in death, two have recovered, two are in the isolation hospital and one remains in quarantine in the city. The outbreak coming chiefly by one place on Britain street created some alarm for a time, but this has now passed away, and the board of health states there is no danger of any epidemic.

On Saturday next the C. P. R. will from St. John to the west a hasty excursion, which will be practically a homecoming excursion. The tickets sold are for the return trip, good for sixty days, with the privilege of extension upon payment of a small amount. There are not a great many people left in the country who want to go west, but the C. P. R. officials are anxious that from the three provinces there will be about one hundred and twenty passengers. There will be two cars provided for them at St. John.

Last evening a very enjoyable concert was given in the school room of Exmouth street Methodist church, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. The following took part: Miss Minnie Myles, violin solo; Miss M. Maxwell, Miss R. Elderkin, recitations; Master P. Bonnell, M. G. Brown, and Miss Knott, vocal solos; Misses Knott and Verinder, duet; Mr. Stratton, clarinet solo; Harry Solo, C. Holter. The concert ended with a dialogue from Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch, in which the following took part: The Misses McDiarmid, Gandy, McMurray and Laura Sandall, Gordon Stevens, Kerr Bonnell and H. S. Slagge. Robert Myles, M. P. P., was in the chair.

Harry Lowe, driver for the Portland Rolling Mills, met with a painful accident yesterday morning. Mr. Lowe was handling some old iron and dropped a heavy piece upon the second finger of his right hand. The finger was almost completely severed, the end hanging only by the skin.
