

Here are Related Facts and Fancies Concerning the Activities of Individuals and Organizations, the Home, Fashions and Other Matters.

NEW IDEAS SEEN IN NEW YORK STORES.

A ruff of red in white or colors surrounding a square of sheet linen constitutes a novel feminine handkerchief.

A close-fitting turban of navy blue high-breasted makes you wonder as to the probability of bolka-dotted birds; but a closer examination reveals the use of white paint. Two long white feelers undulate backwards, one on each side.

That hot summer days require a minimum of attire is believed by those who wear undergarments of net, made beautiful by applications of lace and ruffles of net and lace.

A simple sport dress of cool white china silk is partly hidden by a sleeveless, sweeter of loosely woven orange silk.

A banding of Roman striped ribbon lends itself to the patriotic use of the national colors.

Lord Northcliffe, the famous British journalist, who succeeds Arthur J. Balfour as head of the British war mission to the United States, likes to pay tribute to his "plucky little Irish mother," and the part she played in his early life and the example she gave him.

His father, Alfred Harmsworth, whose name he bears, was a barrister who upon his death left his wife and six children practically penniless. The mother, formerly Miss Geraldine Mary Moffett, of Dublin, faced the situation with true Irish pluck and succeeded in keeping the family together and giving them an education.

Alfred, the eldest, was the first to break away to help his mother, and his rise in the newspaper world of London has been so stupendous that he has been called an "Aladdin."

Another son of the "plucky little Irish mother" has also risen to fame and fortune since the difficult days when she worked hard to keep her little family together. This is Sydney Harmsworth, Baron Rothemann, a younger brother of Lord Northcliffe, and like him a journalist of world influence and many times a millionaire.

The Lady Worker's Club, opened in London in December, 1914, as a place of relaxation and rest for daughters of the war.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 1 and granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 2, granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 3, granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 4, granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 5, granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 6, granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 7, granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 8, granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 9, granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 10, granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 11, granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 12, granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 13, granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 14, granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 15, granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 16, granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 17, granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

Another lot on the northern shore of the New Canada River, known as Lot No. 18, granted to Thomas Hatheway by the Crown on April 1, 1852, contains 110 acres more or less.

HOME-CANNED CHILI.

From Nebraska comes this recipe: "I want to tell you about a little experiment that I worked out the other day. While we were canning beef I decided that I wanted to make some chili corn came to can."

"I boiled three quarts of dry beans, ground five and one-half pounds of beef, one-half pound of suet, and five small peppers. I mixed the above with three quarts of seeded tomatoes, and cooked all thoroughly before packing into jars for canning."

"Imagine my astonishment when I learned that I had thirty pints of chili corn which would have cost $6.30 to buy factory-canned—Farm and Fireside."

Since July 1914, the number of wage-earning women in England has increased by 1,073,000. A million of these are doing what was formerly regarded as peculiarly men's work.

Most of them are engaged on skilled labor or other responsible work, such as the railway, bus service or tramway and postal service.

Amusing mistakes happen in "calling up" men for conscription. In London, England, papers were served on five months old baby, none knowing quite how the mistake occurred.

In another case, it was found that a man alleged to be evading service, had died in 1881, and if living would have been 103 years old.

English papers have been recording with interest the fact that a qualified woman lawyer from Manitoba, Miss Winifred Wilton, is there, attached to the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

Women solicitors in England are not allowed to practice, though they can qualify for the profession.

Author's Friend—Does your husband use a pseudonym in his writing?

Author's Wife—He used to, but she was perfectly horrid, so I have learned to run it myself.

Then too, what about the men? I have said this before but it is something many women feel strongly about. Our men, those who for physical reasons, or because of family responsibilities are not able to take their rightful place in the firing line, how are they spending their time? They are even in the clubs and even in the closed, the places of amusement are crowded, the streets are full of men and boys. Surely there must be patriotic women who could do to save their face and make the wives, mothers, sisters and friends of the soldiers respect the man at home who at least does what he can to help. Money is a great help, but which counts even more and can be given by rich and poor alike.

MARGUERITE.

A Useful Man.

Some years ago an Englishman met a party of American settlers journeying westward, and got into conversation with the leader, an eminently practical man.

"We only brought useful people along," said the leader. "For instance, that big man over there is our blacksmith, the man next to him is our baker, and so on."

"But," said the Englishman, "that very old fellow—surely he can't be of much use to you."

"Oh, yes he is," was the reply. "That's grandfather. We shall open our new cemetery with him."

In Glasgow women doctors are being used, having replaced men doctors (now in service) on the public health board. They attend men for the army.

MARGUERITE'S WEEKLY CHAT.

The Next Thing.

Once upon a time, it seems very long ago, people used to go around wondering what they would do next. We filled our time and thought we were busy.

All this was before the war. We embroidered underclothes, spent hours at the bridge tables and an afternoon in the stores ending up with a five o'clock tea, where we enjoyed our oyster patties, ice cream and cake, did not weigh on our consciences at all.

But face to face with realities woman, almost at once took her rightful place, things gave up her amusements and began the war which has been of so much assistance. In fact we are told that it has been absolutely necessary.

Certainly in larger cities women have risen nobly to the call but when one reads in news from smaller places "Mrs. So-and-So had a bridge party of ten tables" it causes one to think. Has Mrs. So-and-So a boy in the trenches? Does he not know that if her son has not gone thousands of other mothers' boys are there? Listen to what Miss Margaret Hare, a nurse for two and a half years in a Casualty Clearing Station says: "Sometimes we have time to do nothing else but wash the poor muddy faces and put dry socks on wet feet but the socks are such a comfort and sometimes save a life."

Could you enjoy cards when you ought to be knitting socks or making hospital supplies for the man who is keeping you safe from German atrocities?

I know of a visitor who returned from a N. B. town because with a husband at the war she could not stand the gaieties which went on continually. She came back to her Red Cross work in St. John with renewed vigor feeling she had to work for those thoughtless ones as well as do her own share, for the soldiers must not suffer.

Then too, what about the men? I have said this before but it is something many women feel strongly about. Our men, those who for physical reasons, or because of family responsibilities are not able to take their rightful place in the firing line, how are they spending their time? They are even in the clubs and even in the closed, the places of amusement are crowded, the streets are full of men and boys. Surely there must be patriotic women who could do to save their face and make the wives, mothers, sisters and friends of the soldiers respect the man at home who at least does what he can to help. Money is a great help, but which counts even more and can be given by rich and poor alike.

MARGUERITE.

A Useful Man.

Some years ago an Englishman met a party of American settlers journeying westward, and got into conversation with the leader, an eminently practical man.

"We only brought useful people along," said the leader. "For instance, that big man over there is our blacksmith, the man next to him is our baker, and so on."

"But," said the Englishman, "that very old fellow—surely he can't be of much use to you."

"Oh, yes he is," was the reply. "That's grandfather. We shall open our new cemetery with him."

In Glasgow women doctors are being used, having replaced men doctors (now in service) on the public health board. They attend men for the army.

WEDDINGS.

McGuire-Hayes.

Francis L. McGuire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin McGuire, Exmouth street, and Miss Genevieve Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hayes, of Glen Falls were married at St. Patrick's church, Montreal, on last Saturday morning at half-past seven o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Gerald McShane, rector of St. Patrick's.

The bride was attended by Miss Josephine McGuire, sister of the groom, and Leo McGuire of Golden Grove, was best man. The bride was dressed prettily in a brown broadcloth suit, with hat to match and carried a bouquet of American beauty roses. Mr. and Mrs. McGuire will reside for the present in Montreal.

Fowles-Gallagher.

Sydney, N. S., July 17.—An interesting marriage ceremony was performed in St. George's Episcopal church in Halifax July 16th at 7 p. m., the contracting parties being Percy E. Fowles, representing McCready and Son, Ltd., St. John, and Isabel M. Gallagher, of Halifax. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. W. Warner. The bride was attired becomingly in a travelling suit of grey serge with hat to match and looked charming. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Fowles left for Sydney, N. S., where for a short time they will be the guests of the groom's parents. After their honeymoon they will tour the Maritime Provinces. St. John will be their future home.

FRENCH BREAD PUDDING.

Butter small, thin slices of good bread, spread with apple jelly made from peelings; lay them loosely in a quart pudding dish, filling it half full. Pour over them one quart of boiled custard and cover with meringue. Brown in oven, serve cold.

ACADIA UNIVERSITY.

WOLFVILLE Nova Scotia.

Departments: Arts and Sciences, Applied Science, Theology.

Degrees: B.A., B.Sc., B.Th., M.A., and certificates in Engineering admitting to third year in best technical schools. One year in Medicine, Law, and Theology given as electives in Arts course.

Equipment: Largest undergraduate faculty in Maritime Provinces. Three new and splendidly equipped Science Buildings.

Expenses: Light and over $1,000 given in prizes and scholarships yearly. Send for calendar to George B. Cutler, B.A., L.D., President. Next term begins Oct. 8, 1917.

Acadia Ladies' Seminary.

WOLFVILLE Nova Scotia.

The Aim: To prepare Girls and Young Women for complete living. The Courses: Twelve, including College Matriculation, General, Music, Art, Expression, Household Science, Business, and Social Science.

The Faculty: Twenty-four Teachers of Fine Personality and Special Training. The Equipment: Modern and First Class in every respect. The Location: Unexcelled, in Evangeline Land. The Expenses: Very Moderate, from $224 up according to Course selected.

A boarding school—For Younger Pupils. Information—Write for illustrated book to Rev. E. T. DEWOLFE, B.A., Principal. Next Term opens Sept. 8th, 1917.

ACADIA COLLEGIATE AND BUSINESS ACADEMY.

WOLFVILLE Nova Scotia.

A Residential School for Boys and Young Men. Eighty-ninth Year. Courses: Collegiate, Manual Training, Business, Special Courses.

Features: Modern Residence, Good Equipment, Ideal Location, Splendid Environment, Experienced Teaching Staff, Moderate Cost. For Illustrated Catalogue of Information apply to Principal W. L. ARCHIBALD, WOLFVILLE Nova Scotia. Next Term opens Sept. 8th, 1917.

Who's Who and What's What in the Picture World and on the Stage—Favorites and What They Say and Do.

LYRIC.

The Candy Girl.

"Sweet as sugar candy" is Gladys Hulette, whimsical, pathetic, humorous and dramatic all at once, in the Thanhouse picture "The Candy Girl." It is a wholesome story picturing a girl who after marrying the man she loves finds it is for worse instead of better so she puts on a brave face and helps her husband to conquer temptation.

It tells the story of the little orphan girl who is brought up by her aunt. Having acquired a reputation for her home-made candy, the girl decides to open a shop in the city.

After a time she meets, falls in love with and marries a rich man's son. Then she learns that he is a drug fiend. Together she and his father help him to fight against the terrible thing.

Thinking they are going to look him up, the boy runs away. Officer Quinn, the policeman on the beat, finds him. "He is not a fit husband for a little angel like you," he tells the girl. "I'm not an angel, I'm just his wife and I love him," is the answer.

Then the light begins over again and now because the boy believes he can win, he does.

The picture contains many scenes taken in the Candy store. In order to get this part correctly Miss Hulette haunted candy stores until she did obtain the right method. The fudge scenes at the last, look most natural, and one wonders if that property was passed round after the camera stopped grinding. There are many charming children and animals in the cast of the play, and it is a very delightful picture.

William Parks, Jr., again plays opposite Miss Hulette. Others in the important cast are J. H. Gilmour, Thomas A. Curran, Ethyle Cooke, Carey Hastings, Arthur Banner, George Barnes, William Bowers, Cecilia Clay.

STAR TODAY.

JUNE CAPRICE.

In the Bright Comedy-Drama "The Mischief Maker."

As Edie Marchand, Miss Caprice performs many amusing antics at boarding school. Of course a clever love story runs through the feature.

A Really Delightful Picture.

"PATHE NEWS"

IMPERIAL DISPENSES SUMMER PEP TODAY!

Handsome William Desmond in "PADDY O'HARA"

A Triangle-Ince War Play.

SURE HE PUTS ZIP INTO THE EUROPEAN WAR and captures the beautiful Princess Maryska right out of the claws of the Huns. Vim, dash and deviltry with a royal romance thrown in for good measure. Paddy O'Hara is a London newspaper correspondent who knows nothing of fear, scoops his rivals on all the big battle news and makes a grand clean-up all round. The story is brought to the sub-titles.

Sparkling With Irish Wit and Humor.

GREAT LAUGH Those Rip-Roaring Keystone Comedians in "HIS SIMPLY AWFUL CAREER"

Join the Happy Throng in Our Cool Refreshing Theatre.

OPERA HOUSE.

JEANETTE LaFARLON & CO. Novelty Illusion Feature.

JENNINGS & DORMAN Comedy Singing and Good Dancing.

HALL & WELLINGTON Singers and Whistlers.

BILLIE BURKE in Gloria's Romance.

JAMIE KELLY.

The Man Who Built the Subway.

THE McCARVERS Fashion Plates of Modern Minstrelsy.

CHAPTER 7.

LYRIC TODAY UNIQUE.

WHO LIKES FUDGE? A Real Story from Life, Presented by Thanhouse Star Cast.

"THE CANDY GIRL" Featuring Gladys Hulette Star and Story Sweet as the Name Implies.

FUN AND CLEVERNESS DeCAMO AND HIS DOGS A VAUDEVILLE TREAT.

Thurs-Fri-Sat. "Mystery of the Double Cross" Jackman & Florence—Novel Frolic Artistic.

Only One Performance Wednesday Evening Theatre Given Over to Great War Veterans' Association.

The Finish! Lots of Excitement and Sensation! Grand Climax Mrs. Vernon Castle Serial.

"PATRIA" How Does It End? A Surprise in Store For You.

PATHE NEWS Particularly Interesting This Week.

Eddie Lyons, Lee Moran, in the Comedy "A Burglar by Request"

Coming—Thurs-Fri-Sat—Charlie Chaplin, in His Very Latest Comedy Act, "The Immigrant"

Next Mon-Tues-Wed—Start of special New Serial, "The American Girl"

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
Mothers Know That Genuine Castoria Always Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Hatheway In Use For Over Thirty Years CASTORIA
THE CASTORIA COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Bringing Up Father

MR. JONES: YOU'LL BE SURPRISED TO HEAR I'M ENGAGED!
OH NO! NOTHIN' SURPRISES ME ANY MORE!
I'M JUST TWENTY AND I'M SO SHY!
YES—ABOUT TWENTY YEARS
AND YOU CAN'T GUESS WHO IT IS—IT'S MR. JONES!
I'M GLAD TO HEAR IT—
I HATE THAT GUY!