"Sphinx" of the Federal Cabinet Succumbs to Attack of Heart Trouble.

GAVE HIS LIFE TO HELP WESTERN CANADA

Resigned Position as Chief Justice of the Territories to Become Premier of Alberta.

(Continued from page 1.) In January, 1905, he resigned from the ministry, becoming chief justice of the Northwest Territories, and after the establishment of the province of Alberta in Sept., 1906, he became chief justice of that province. He resigned on May 26, 1910, and on the same day accepted the task of forming a new provincial ministry. On October 12, 1911, he was appointed minister of public works, and became minister of customs in Sir Robert Borden's Unionist Government.

Joins Union Government.

In June, 1918, he became minister of customs and inland revenue, and was selected as a delegate to the peace conference in 1919. On Sept. 13, 1919, he was appointed minister of public works, and on Dec. 3, 1919, appointed to a position of secretary of state, which he held at the time of his death. In Jan., 1920, he was appointed a member of the Privy Council, carrying with it the title of the Right Honourable. In religion he was a Methodist.

The Premier's Tribute

Regarding the death of Hon. A. L. Sifton, the Prime Minister, Right Hon. Arthur Meighen said: "Yesterday was the first day of Mr. Sifton's illness that there was any real hope of his recovery. This morning comes the news of his death. It is impossible to say whether the members of the government will miss a very able colleague, a man of rare intellectual strength. His command of affairs and administrative capacity were exceptional; his knowledge and estimate of men equally remarkable. I never knew him to complain of the conduct of others. He determined his own course in quiet self-reliance and once decided he never doubted or varied. His services to his country have been rendered in posts of great distinction and responsibility, but without ostentation and indeed with little publicity. We have lost a valued counsellor."

Sir Robert Borden.

Sir Robert Borden, ex-premier of Canada, gave the Canadian Press the following at noon today: "With deepest regret I have learned that the Right Hon. Arthur Sifton has passed away. By his death the country loses a public servant of the highest ability and of most conspicuous patriotism."

"From the time that he entered the Union Government, more than three years ago, he has never wavered in the high purpose which he inspired him. Among his colleagues, his rare intellectual power was universally acknowledged; in questions of difficulty, there was no one in whose judgment I placed firmer reliance, while I was head of the government. As legislator, as jurist and as minister, he had a most distinguished career, which was fittingly crowned by the great part that he took at the peace conference."

Large Offer For Pacing Gelding

Cleveland, Jan. 21.—An offer of $30,000 for Prince Loretto, said to be a record for a pacing gelding, was rejected today by Captain David B. Shaw, who learned today that Prince Loretto is said to be the world's double gaited champion. His pacing mark for a mile is 2:50 and his trotting mark is 2:03 1/4. He will be raced on the Grand Circuit again this season, Captain Shaw said.

President Maxwell Addressed G.W.V.A.

Outlined Work and Objects of Association — Questions Answered.

Over two hundred returned men gathered at the G. W. V. A. rooms yesterday evening to hear the president of the Dominion Command, R. B. Maxwell, speak on matters pertaining to the welfare of returned men.

Two Incidents

Two incidents marked last night's meeting. Taking advantage of the remarks of the chairman, G. G. Corbett, vice-president of the St. John branch, to the effect that Dominion President Maxwell would gladly answer any question put forward by a returned man at the conclusion of his address, C. H. Coggins complained of the treatment which he has received since his return to Canada. The other was when James King asked Comrade Maxwell what action the Dominion Command of the G. W. V. A. had taken towards the passing of the professional soldier, who, through no fault of his own, had not gone overseas during the war. Both stated that they were not members of the association, and Mayor Schofield is interesting himself in the case of Coggins, even offering to go to Ottawa with him, providing the facts to his treatment and discharge are such as to obtain the treatment to which he is entitled.

His Endeavors

In the course of his remarks, Dominion President Maxwell stated: "I will endeavor to do as a man as possible, show what the G. W. V. A. is, what it stands for and what it proposes to do in the future; but I may first mention that I enlisted in 1914 as a full back private and Company Sergeant-Major. I became a casualty, and upon being returned to my home in Winnipeg, I interested myself in the welfare of returned men. In the early days, when the casualties began to come home to Canada, many of them felt that they wished to continue that spirit of comradeship and comradeship which was developed in the trenches. An association was formed accordingly in the city of Winnipeg, which had been formed in other parts of the Dominion. We were also faced with a big issue and felt that the treatment meted out to the men who had fought in the war was not on a par with that to the veterans of previous wars."

Became Active

There were returned men hobnobbing around as best they could manage, one or perhaps two of their legs, and others were consulting from other wounds. We became active and enlisted the support of the Daughters of the Empire, and in the fall of 1916 twenty-five returned soldiers organized a provincial charter for a club to be known as the G. W. V. A. But although I am not responsible for the passing of the bill, I feel that it is my duty to say that my work and my life has been associated with the caring of my comrades, and I feel so much bound up with the cause that I have sacrificed my own time and energy in the service of the G. W. V. A. and the service rendered in the past have been entirely unselfish. When the association was first formed in Winnipeg, we had a motto: "Widows and Orphans First," and many maimed and crippled soldiers carrying banners through the streets of Winnipeg, carrying such a motto. The G. W. V. A. has taken the word "Service" as their motto, and have foregone their own claims partly when going to the Federal and Provincial Parliaments in the interests of the widows and orphans.

Widows and Orphans

Our work consisted of looking after widows and orphans, and their dependents. We also did everything we could to remedy conditions in the front line in the way of recruiting. We were also faced with a big issue, obtaining shorter rations for the men in the trenches and to alleviate their sufferings. When the Conscription Bill was introduced we came out daily in favor of the bill, and the government in power that would help our comrades in the trenches. There are those of course, who are not so overzealous, and yet render good yeoman service at home. They sacrificed everything they had unselfishly, and we cannot help but pay tribute to them.

In the fall of 1917 returned men from the various parts of Canada met in Winnipeg, and at that meeting the G. W. V. A. of Canada was formed. Aims and objects were decided upon, and then they still hold good. It was to perpetuate the ties and comradeship that existed in the great war, and to maintain and stand and honor of returned soldiers. Another was that we are to continue as soldiers of Canada with the same ideals which sent us to the war, and I challenge anyone to show that the grants and concessions to returned men were not obtained through the efforts of the G. W. V. A. We obtained many benefits, including increased pensions, war service gratuity, the passing of the Soldiers' Settlement Act and other measures of a beneficial nature.

The Gratuity

At the Dominion convention which we held in Montreal we passed a resolution asking for war service gratuity of $1 per day for every day of service for those who had seen service in France, and an equal sum to those who saw service in England and Canada; but this was refused by the Government. However, in regard to the $5,000 gratuity for those who served in France, $1,000 for those who served in England, and $1,500 for those who served in Canada, this would cost Canada an approximate amount of one million and one hundred thousand dollars. This gratuity, however, cannot be paid to any man, and we should be reasonable. On the other hand, the returns of the G. W. V. A. would mean an expenditure of one million and one hundred thousand dollars, and a million and one hundred thousand dollars more for the men who served on the front, and we

Mrs. Lillian Taylor Tells How Cuticura Healed Her Baby

"My baby was two weeks old when his face became very red and terribly itchy, and he was fairly easy to soothe and scratching all the skin broke and bled. He could not sleep, and did nothing but cry. I tried everything as though he might be diseased for the skin."

"I thought I would give Cuticura Soap and ointment a trial. I used the free sample so good that I bought more and two boxes of Cuticura Soap and a fifty cent box of Cuticura Ointment. (Signed) Mrs. Lillian M. Taylor, Box 98, Brantford, Ontario, Dec. 30, '18. Cuticura Soap to clean and purify, Cuticura Ointment to soothe and perfume are ideal for daily toilet use."

Think that the equivalent should be granted to the men living in the cities by way of the passing of housing and other schemes. We have a great work to do in Canada, and may it be granted to us that the dark clouds of pessimism and doubt will blow away and prosperity will bless our country? At the conclusion of Dominion President Maxwell's address, the two incidents already referred to occurred.

Questions Asked

James King asked Comrade Maxwell what action, if any, the G. W. V. A. had taken to obtain assistance for the professional soldier who had not seen overseas service through no fault of his own. In reply, Comrade Maxwell stated that this matter had referred the consideration of the Dominion Council, and if the committee would collect all data in his particular case and forward it through the local secretary, his case would receive attention. C. H. Coggins then stated that he was disgraced how some returned men had been treated by the military authorities. He had volunteered and had seen service. He had lost his family, suffered casualties and was now a total wreck. No consideration, however, had been given to him by the military authorities, and he was now in a bad condition physically and financially.

Comrade Maxwell in Reply

Comrade Maxwell in reply told him that he could take his case up through the G. W. V. A. and thereby obtain more consideration than through individual action only. He also asked that he prepare a statement of all facts and furnish same to the local secretary and his case would be thoroughly investigated.

Mayor Schofield

Mayor Schofield asked Coggins if he believed by this city, and the latter replied that he did and had listed here. His Worship then advised him to take the matter up in the local secretary, and he had lost his well, and he also made the offer already referred to.

The voice of thanks was moved by J. Dryden, and seconded by J. Dryden, and among others who spoke were: Judge Ritchie, W. J. Brown, president of the St. John Branch, who had been unavailingly detained, and Commissioner Bullock.

Praises of A Well Satisfied People

ARE WHAT GIVES DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS POPULARITY.

W. A. Shannon writes the sentiment that has given Dodd's Kidney Pills their standing in all parts of Canada. "I am well satisfied with the results I have got from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. They were perfectly satisfactory as I have had no trouble since using them. I want other sufferers to know what they did for me." This is the statement of W. A. Shannon, a well-known and highly respected citizen here. And in these few words W. A. Shannon gives the reason why Dodd's Kidney Pills are so popular in all parts of Canada. They do what is claimed for them. Dodd's Kidney Pills are purely a kidney remedy. They tone up and strengthen weak kidneys and put them in condition to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood. Strong healthy kidneys are absolutely necessary if the blood is to be kept pure and the body healthy. Pure blood, coming through the body carries to the different organs the nutriment they need, keeps them sound and enables them to throw off disease of different kinds. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make strong healthy kidneys.

Out-of-Works Reject Offer to Shovel Snow at 32 1/2 Cents Per Hour.

Montreal, Jan. 21.—Two hundred out-of-work ex-service men this morning stormed Walton's restaurant on St. Catharines street, director of the food. The manager gave the men a list after they promised to behave in an orderly fashion. The next morning in the streets, their demonstration gathered adherents until it had attained considerable proportions. This afternoon a handful of demonstrators, led by the ex-service men's branch of the Children's restaurant, broke through a strong guard of police around the establishment. They quietly dispersed when informed that no free lunches were being distributed today.

Raids Not Recognized

J. Thompson, the chairman of the ex-service men's unemployment association, admitted today that the demonstrators and the raids on restaurants were not officially recognized.

The men are dissatisfied with the attitude of officials towards them. The objection is to the practice of Colonel Gaudet, director of public safety, in sending uniformed men to investigate causes of relief.

The police are holding forces of men in readiness for emergencies, but so far no arrests have been made in connection with raids on restaurants. Chairman Decary, of the administrative commission, announced today, following a meeting with the ex-service men's association, St. James street, that the city will find work for all the men, paying them nightly for their labor.

While about two hundred unemployed men were present, the city's restaurant this morning, Col. Gaudet, of the public safety department, visited the ex-service men's association with a view to their snow at 32 1/2 cents a man, there were only a few men present, the colonel's visit was not very successful. His offer was accepted by the few men there, and they were sent up to shovel snow at 32 1/2 cents a man.

Dislike the Offer

When the main party arrived back at the association's rooms, after having received a free meal at Walton's, a vigorous indignation meeting was held, some of the men protesting vehemently against Col. Gaudet's offer, saying that while it might supply them with a few hours' work, they would have spent all they could possibly earn by tomorrow.

What they wanted was work that would keep them and their families from starvation. The indignation meeting was searching for foreigners for weapons.

The outcome was that the majority of the men, with the intention of compelling the few who had accepted Col. Gaudet's offer to stop shovelling the snow and join forces with them in demanding steady employment.

Free Meals Ready

Announcement that the real unemployed and needy of the city would be given meals at a city refuge any time of day or night, and that the city would be ready to receive them, was made this afternoon by E. R. Decary, chairman of the civic administrative commission.

Philadelphia, Jan. 21.—Jay Gould, national amateur and open court tennis champion, today successfully defended his open championship title defeating Jack Souder, of the Philadelphia section club, 6-0, 6-3. The match was for the best of nine sets. Gould won three out of four sets on Wednesday and required only two sets today to win.

United Farmers of Alberta have been a most wonderful organization for the advancement of the farmer's interests, and has helped the co-operative movement. In fact a vast amount of good has resulted from this union.

"I received the papers lately and noted the marked copy. I always like to get such papers and particularly those that refer to the political activities of the Farmers' Party, of which I am not a member. I believe that the farmers as an organized body is a splendid idea, but the farmers as a political body is a fraud and a delusion."

Farmers of Alberta.

"The United Farmers of Alberta have been a most wonderful organization for the advancement of the farmer's interests, and has helped the co-operative movement. In fact a vast amount of good has resulted from this union. If the United Farmers of Alberta go into politics I firmly believe that such action will cause dissension and splits among them, and in a very short time they will cease to exist as a body of farmers, eventually become a football for a few who wish for power for more selfish ends than that of the old line party."

New Progressive Party.

"This new Progressive Party with its free trade platform is really an odd spectacle. It advocates letting down the tariff, and the United States farmers advocate a sky-high tariff on the same articles generally."

Fred Patchell further says that Alberta has had a great winter so far, and the stock is in excellent condition. He states also that there is plenty of food in the West for feeding the cattle, and indications bowing an early spring are excellent.

Some five hundred Knights of Pythias and their ladies attended the concert, dance and banquet held last evening in the new Castle of which this organization is so justly proud. #### Welcoming Speech

James Moulson was chairman for the concert and in his welcoming speech stated that as the order was above all things patriotic, asked for the Singing of God Save the King. He said that last evening's gathering was among the first it was hoped of many social entertainments in which the Knights and their friends would participate.

The programme included solos by Miss Parlee, Thomas Guy, C. A. Munro and Norman Magnusson, readings by Verla Roberts and Norman Magnusson, and selections by Jones' Orchestra. All performers were encored and all responded.

Supper and Dance

Supper was served by Caterer Bond in the large room downstairs. The table looked very pretty indeed, ruses of spring flowers being placed at intervals, while the central table bore a willow vase with a beautiful bouquet of pink and white carnations.

A programme of seven dances, beginning with the sociable Dan Tucker and including some of the good old dances, was carried out. The committee in charge last evening was W. C. Clark, chairman; B. L. Shepherd, secretary; John Kelly, W. B. Harvey, William Dennings, J. D. Cameron, P. L. Gerson, W. C. Peters, P. A. Kinneer, George Curry, L. N. Brennan, P. A. #### First Real Test

With the outbreak of war there came the first real test to the Scout Movement. Would the training the boy, now grown into manhood, had received as a Scout, increase his value to the Army at a time of great national danger? We never had any doubt about this, and the history of the past five years has more than justified our confidence in the result.

The outstanding ability of our great Generals in planning those operations which ultimately reduced the invincible German Army into what was a defeated, demoralized, but fairly orderly mob, would not have been possible but for the adaptability of both officers and men of the attacking forces in meeting and overcoming unforeseen and unprovided for local difficulties. Adaptability is the greatest asset any man can have if he wishes to make a success of life, and in no profession is its value so great as in the Army. It is inevitably and unconsciously acquired by the boy who contemplates a course of training as a Scout. It is the motto, "Be Prepared," absorbed into the consciousness and character of a boy. He is prepared for all emergencies; he automatically does the right thing at the right time and in the right place, and usually his mind will be clear and people are thinking about it. He has acquired by his training a quality in his character which many men have only acquired by a lifetime of experience. In action, not only the success of the operation, but a man's own life, and the lives of many others of men under his command, depends frequently upon his ability to adapt himself speedily to the immediate needs of the situation. The truth of the saying, "He who hesitates is lost," is never more apparent than on the battlefield. The value of a Scout Training is easily appreciated.

If adaptability is the perfection of training in a Scout, the specialized training he receives in the acquirement of this perfection is of special value to him in the Army. "Keen observation, physical fitness, a trained sense of direction, a readiness to submit to discipline and a due sense of honor, were the requisites of a good Scout in the Army, and these were invariably found in the trained product of the Boy Scout Movement. The Scout in war carries a responsibility far greater than his rank would indicate, and he is the trusted servant of his Commanding Officer to a remarkable degree.

Next week will appear a report of how Captain McKean won the Victoria Cross, Captain McKean was Scoutmaster of the Robertson Freyberian Troop, Alberta, and went overseas with the 1st Battalion, Canadian Infantry.

Favor Brief Relief For 'Phone Company

Counsel for Various Parties Involved Declare Higher Rates Not Permanent.

Ottawa, Jan. 21.—Hopes of doing the Bell Telephone rates inquiry this week was abandoned, this afternoon and it was decided to adjourn until Monday. Glyn Oyster, K. C., closed the case for the application, Mr. Oyster told the railway board that it was facing a heavy responsibility in giving a decision, because if the company were not put in a position to proceed with necessary development work the public cannot be given the service it requires. Mr. Lovett, for the attorney general of Ontario, said he was particularly impressed on the probable effect of the proposed increase in the rates of telephone service. He was willing that the company should be given the increases in long distance tolls asked for, but only during the present year. Mr. Oyster's counsel for the Ottawa board of trade, was willing to leave the matter of increased rates in the hands of the railway board, but he objected to the proposal to introduce a seasonal rate system on the ground that it would involve discrimination amongst some subscribers.
