VOL III SAINT JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 19, 1874 FOR DESIGN TRACES. No 307 bread and butter, which we trust that Prof. Newman will have on the table when we may happen to dine with him. Though he cuts cutlets and bolts not steak, though chops are to him a vanify, though chops are to him a vanify, though const meat is rubbish and boiled meat bitterness, and stewed meat a stumbling and offense, and fried meat folly, and minced meat a misdemeanor, yet really it does not appear that Prof. Newman is in imminent danger of starvation.

Even at the low prices above mentioned, the supply far exceeds the demand; in fact, there is no demand, as prices prove, except a merely trifling one, hardly worth noticing. Of the causes which led to a vast capital and hundreds of thousands of workmen all over the country, the most prominent is the decline of railroad building and railway busines. Many lines are in sore need of new valls, but are unable to buy them, as manufacturers will not give credit, and the railroads have no cash.
