

Many Women Suffer From Pains in the Back.

When the back begins to ache it is a sure sign that there is something radically wrong with the kidneys.

What you want is a kidney medicine. Doan's Kidney Pills are not a cure-all, but a medicine for the kidneys only.

Mrs. J. Melanson, Plympton, N.S., writes: "I am sending you this testimonial, telling you what a wonderful cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me. For years I had suffered so with my kidneys I could hardly do my housework. I used several kinds of pills, but none of them seemed to be doing me any good. At last I was advised to try a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. When I had taken the first box I found relief. I have used five boxes and to-day I feel like a new woman. I cannot recommend them too highly."

Doan's Kidney Pills bear the trade mark of a Maple Leaf and are put up in an oblong grey box. See that you get "Doan's" when you ask for them.

Price 50c. a box, 3 for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by THE T. MILBURN CO., LIMITED, Toronto, Ont.

When ordering direct specify "Doan's."

"I shall not begin to-day," the little one said, "for I must know a few Kings and Queens before I write about them, or I may say something foolish."

"I shall write about the pig and the pony and the white rabbit," said the brother, "but first I must think a bit. It would never do to write a book without thinking."

Then the elder sister took up the fairy story again to see how many things were left out, for those, she thought, would do to go into her book. The little one said to herself: "Really, it is no good thinking about Kings and Queens until I have known a few, so I shall wait"; and while the brother was considering about the pig and the pony and the white rabbit he fell asleep. So the book is not written yet, but when it is we shall know a great deal. —L.C.

New Year's Day in the Wood

"Do I look nice?" asked the Rabbit. "Very nice!" said the Chipmunk; "that is, for a person who has no tail to speak of. But, of course, you cannot help that."

The Rabbit looked into the looking-glass pond and saw his little white blob of a tail. "Don't you want to lend me yours, just this once?" he asked. "I would take great care of it!"

"No, I cannot do that," said the Chipmunk, "but I can lend you the tail of my late uncle. It is such a fine one that we have kept it to brush out the nest with."

well, and neither of you is either of them. Who ever heard of a long-tailed rabbit or a long-eared squirrel? Get along with you! You are frights, and probably thieves as well." And she shut the door in their faces.

The two friends walked a little way in silence; then they stopped and looked at each other.

"You said I looked fine!" said the Rabbit.

"I—I meant the tail!" said the Chipmunk. "It is a fine tail. But you said I looked splendid!"

"I was thinking of the ears!" said the Rabbit. "They are splendid ears."

They walked on until they came once more to the looking-glass pond. They looked at themselves; then they looked at each other; then, all in a minute, off came the long ears and tail.

"There!" cried the Chipmunk. "Now we look as we were meant to look; and I am bound to say, Rabbit, that it is much more becoming to you."

"So it is to you!" replied the Rabbit. "Now, shall we call on Miss Woodchuck again?"

"Come on!" said the Chipmunk.

So they went to Miss Woodchuck's house and knocked once more at the door, and Miss Woodchuck opened it. "Oh!" she cried. "Mr. Chipmunk and Mr. Rabbit, how do you do? I am so glad to see you. A happy New Year to you both!"

"The same to you, Ma'am!" said the Rabbit and the Chipmunk.

A pleasant afternoon repast

"The very thing!" said the Rabbit. So the Chipmunk brought the tail of his late uncle and tied it on to the Rabbit's stub.

"How does that look?" asked the Rabbit.

"Fine!" said the Chipmunk. "Now tell me how I look!"

"Well enough!" said the Rabbit. "Of course you would look better if you had long ears."

"Dear me!" said the Chipmunk; and he, too, looked into the looking-glass pond. "Haven't you a spare pair that you could lend me?"

"Why, yes," said the Rabbit. "There is a pair that belonged to my grandfather, hanging on the wall at home. I will get those."

So the Rabbit got the ears and tied them on to the Chipmunk's head.

"How do I look now?" asked the Chipmunk.

"Splendid!" said the Rabbit. "Now let us go and make our New Year's calls. Where shall we go first?"

"I wish to call on Miss Woodchuck!" said the Chipmunk.

"So do I," said the Rabbit. "We will go there first." And off they went.

They came to Miss Woodchuck's door and knocked, and she opened the door. "Mercy!" she cried. "Who are you, and what do you want?"

"We are Mr. Rabbit and Mr. Chipmunk," said the two friends, "and we have come to make you a New Year's call."

"More likely you have come to steal the nuts!" said the lady angrily. "I know Mr. Rabbit and Mr. Chipmunk

Robert's mother had given him some unexpected pleasure. Turning to his father, he said, "O father, I am so glad that you married a lady who likes me!"

The Fairy

Once upon a time there was a good little girl. And she asked her mother if she could go to play in the woods, and her mother said yes.

So she went to play in the woods. And she was walking along and walking along, and whom do you think she met? A fairy! And she was awfully surprised to meet a fairy, so she said to the fairy:

"Where do you come from?"

And the fairy said: "This is where I live."

And the little girl said: "I never heard about any fairies living in these woods."

And the fairy said: "No, because nobody ever saw me here before. But you are a good little girl, so I let you see me."

And the good little girl said: "How do you manage to be seen by nobody, even though they walk right past you every day?"

And the fairy said: "I lend them money."

Children suffering from worms soon show the symptoms, and any mother can detect the presence of these parasites by the writhings and fretting of the child. Until expelled and the system cleared of them, the child cannot regain its health. Miller's Worm Powders are prompt and efficient, not only for the eradication of worms, but also as a toner up for children that are run down in consequence.

Had Severe Cold ON HER LUNGS.

RAISED PHLEGM AND BLOOD.

Never neglect what at first seems to be but a slight cold. You think perhaps you are strong enough to fight it off, but colds are not so easily fought off in this northern climate, and if they are not attended to at once will sooner or later develop into some serious lung trouble such as bronchitis, pneumonia, and perhaps that dreadful disease, consumption.

Miss Kasye McDonald, Sydney Mines, N.S., writes: "Last winter I contracted a severe cold, and it settled on my lungs. I would cough and raise phlegm and blood. I had the cough for a month, and had medicine from the doctor, but it did not seem to do me any good. I really thought I had consumption."

My friends advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, which I did, and it gave me great relief. I am very glad I used 'Dr. Wood's,' and would recommend it to every one."

You can procure Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup from any druggist or dealer, but be sure and get "Dr. Wood's," when you ask for it as there are a number of imitations on the market, which some dealers may try to palm off on you as the genuine.

See that it is put up in a yellow wrap; three pine trees is the trade mark, price 25c. and 50c.
