FROM BEHIND THE DESK

Permit the Editor, with a courtly bow, to introduce this first issue of the Alexander College edition of the Brunswickan. It was decided to put it out in its present size owing to the lack of time on the part of the staff. As everybody knows, we have a full eight hour day five and a half days a week plus additional lectures at night which are badly needed. This, of course, precludes the publication of a paper of any size near that of the regular Brunswickan, but as only five issues of this Edition are being published it will at least serve to leave a record of Alexander College in the literary files of the University.

It was hoped that the President of the University would grace our first effort with a message of encouragement, but unfortunately he is away at the present time so we will have to wait a while for this pleasure.....

It is obvious to the students here at Alexander College that the extremely capable faculty "up the Hill" are greatly interested in our progress and welfare, and are really exercising all their teaching art to impress on our somewhat dulled minds the importance of their subjects. However, while all praise is due their worthy efforts, it is sometimes felt that they fail, at times, to realize that the majority of students are, by several years, older than the general run of freshmen. While this undoubtedly means that they are steadier and more reliable, it also means that it is anywhere from four to ten years since they obtained their college entrance. It might be pointed out that four, five and six years of knocking about in the armed forces is not conducive to retaining a fresh impression of chemistry and physics in one's mind and there are many students who find themselves having to dig back through their High School texts and notes — usually not available — before they can arrive at any conception of the subject. The fact that this is a condensed term through the hottest part of the year does not make things any easier for either professors or students.....

There was great excitement among students upon reading the notice of the University's intentions regarding the converting of the C. W. A. C. quarters and the Officers' quarters into apartments for the married men. There are many who are not able to have their wives near owing to lack of accommodation in town, and this should enable them to enjoy a measure of homelife. Their work should improve accordingly.....

Congratulations are in order to the Kitchen Staff of the College, for the great work they are doing in feeding nearly 200 students. One might point out, however, that the enjoyment of a meal comes from two factors, one, that of eating well cooked food, and two, being able to eat it in comfort. The dish-washing department of the kitchen is a little noisy at times, students eating being unable to hear themselves talk without having to shout. It is observed that our good friend the caterer sticks a little closely to hours, as in the case of a student who was refused the second half of his breakfast — he had finished his cereal — because he arrived at the counter a half minute after closing time, though this did not prevent him from giving two other students a second helping. His generosity is appreciated.....

SNOOP

In this, the first Alexander edition of the Brunswickan, enough pretty introductory speeches have been made by others to make any repetition of the theme in this column superfluous. All Snoop wishes to do by way of introduction is to say that our object during this term will be keep Alexander's Indians posted on some of the more interesting activities of their fellow inmates, and to ask anyone with "gen" to impart to drop it into the Snoop Box, which is being placed in the lobby of the Memorial Hall.

We know this isn't a scoop, but in case the odd dumb bunny was studying chemistry the night of the Encaenia dance, Isobel Johnson and Don Learmonth have announced matrimonial intentions. Snoop's congratulations, kids. We hope that love's bright young dream is all that it's cracked up to be.

One of the most encouraging signs of Spring so far observed is the emergence of Gardiner, Kirby, and Hunt from winter hibernation quarters in the far end of 105. They've been seen at recent Rodents Rodeos, yawning sleepily. Snoop noted their eyes shone in the dark — wondered if the sight of Fredericton's femmes fatales had anything to do with it. That long period of seclusion, must have been quite a strain.....

We wonder who is the lucky guy responsible for a certain blonde co-ed's tardy appearance in classes these mornings. Or are we to believe that the first two periods aren't worth attending anyway? It's a thought.....

Conflicting rumours regarding the date on which Jerry May plans to make the big leap are floating around, but Jerry will contribute nothing toward dispelling the confusion. Some doubt is being expressed as to whether the end of the term will find him a free man. Too bad, he was a nice guy, too.....

It's been observed that Robbie has been seen awake in chemistry lectures recently, and one wonders whether Kay Lyons departure from the campus could have any bearing on the case. Or is it just a flash in the pan?

Let's give Snoop a hand to keep this column a regular feature. The box is in the Lobby of the Memorial Hall. — Ed.

PLAY BALL

June 3rd. will find Iake Goss on at Queen's Square when Alexander first hardball of the season. The composed of teams from Fredericton and Devon, and Alexander will stiff competition in all their gameing to all accounts the quality of played in this league is of a high. This hasn't worried the team though players have showed great practice sessions to date. Once couple of games under their belt measured the strength of the opponents they should have no trouble in up in the league standing.
