DUNMUNS

the proceedings, half hour caucus' are called to allow delegates to go around lobbying their position. Also, there is much informal coaxing in the form of taking members out for drinks or dinner. This allows us to get to know the other delegates both in a professional and social situation. It should be quite a challenge."

Another challenge was the groups efforts to get funding. In the past, the Department of External Affairs has funded at least 50 per cent of the societies expenses, but this year it did not extend the same generosity. DUNMUNS, therefore spent much of its time organising fundraising events such as bake sales and the Valentines Day flower sale. This took away from time which could have been spent researching and perfecting their debating skills but as one member said, "We may not have the same privileges as the Harvard representatives, who do not have to bother with fundraising, but we are going and we will put in a great performance." This in great part is due to the efforts of PHD student Rob Huebert, who has led the delegation to New York for the last 6 years.

We wish DUNMUNS the best of luck in New York.

ANOTHER MYTH SHATTERED

"LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON"

Like their fathers before them, many men will experience hair loss ... if they allow it to happen. New medically approved treatments now available are actually effective in retarding future hair loss in many men. In fact, some men have experienced hair regrowth. So if you've already spotted signs of hair loss, you can do something about it. Hair Loss: It doesn't have to happen to you.
