

Our Bulletin Board.

OUR FIRST NUMBER.

The first number of the OCCASIONAL MAGAZINE, now lies before our readers. We believed that there was a place in Canadian homes, for a bright, interesting, literary magazine; and we have tried to fulfill these requirements. We believe that we have done so, and we hope that you do also. The price of the magazine is very small, but its value is not. If you will help us with your patronage, we will guarantee to make the magazine one which will amply satisfy all the requirements of a first class periodical.

Our Future Issues.

Our future issues will be improved in many ways. The size of the magazine will be enlarged, it will be illustrated, and many other features will be added from time to time.