No doubt the meeting was one of peacetal welcome and of assurance of eternal triend-ship with the Master, and of sweet happiness in the realms of God's infinite love; but yet, knowing how wonderfully holy and how im-mensely just is the alt-merciful Lord, in fond piety and in loving gratitude for the good work of the true priest, let every sincere Christian among the readers of the CATH-OLIC RECORD say an earnest and fervent De Profundis for the repose and the taking into heaven of the soul of the lamented Father Xoual. Requisecat in pace. St. Raphael's, August 11, 1895. Branch 134, St. John. The private picnic of Branch No. 134, St. John, A. He was born, as he expressed it, "reel footed," both feet turned in, and in such fashion that he walked on his ankles When grown to man's estate the weight of his body (he turns the scale now at one hundred and eighty-five pounds) made it extremely difficult for him to walk, even with crutches.

Two years ago he underwent an oper-ation at the hands of Dr. Sullivan of Kingston and Dr. MacKenzie, specialist, of Toronto. The funeral took place from her father's residence, Hill street, to St. Peter's Cathe-brated by Rev. Father McCormack. The remains, followed by a large concourse of sympathizing friends, were interred in St. Peter's cometery. May her soul rest in peace ! By means of a wooden stump fastened to his right knee and with bent leg he could move along painfully. In this condition he reached St. Anne's, where he confessed and prayed and received Holy Communion. On the afternoon of the second day, when the order

Cured at Ste. Anne. Among the Pictonians who are reported as having undergoue miraces at Ste. Anne de Beaupre are two whose cases are well known. Mrs. Hourigan, mother of Major Hourigan, fell some time ago and as a result of the in-juries thus received she lost the use of a leg. she was cured at Ste. Anne, and now has the use of the limb completely restored. A young man named Kavanagh, from Athol, has been a long sufferer. He was helpless from his waist down and had to be carried to the boat when leaving Picton on the pigrimage. He was cured, and can now walk with the assistance of a cane. Mr. Michael Tierney, clerk at the Globe henefitted by a visit to the shrine of St. Anne, although he considers his case as among the least remarkable. He was a great suffered in visit to the shrine of hear suffered in visit to the shrine he has suffered in sis sist to the shrine he has suffered in pain ; he can walk with comfort, and can ascend and descend stairs with his natural case. In short, he has had no more rheumat. Miss Gertie Lake of Rochester, N. Y records some remarkable observations recently made by Leo XIII. His Holiness had granted an audience to the Bishop of Lodi, who informed him that in one part of his diocese social committees were flourishing, but that they did not thrive in another district because the priests sometimes said that in their parishes a Catholic social movement was not possible or oppor-tune. In a decisive and solemn tone His Holiness replied: 'They don't move because they don't want to work.' (Non si muovono perche non vogliono lavorare.) And he added: 'How can a priest de-
