STROLLER IN NEW ROLL

Invited Up Hunker in Capacity of Road Inspector.

Hunker Creek, Nov. 6, 91. Editor Nugget, Dawson.—Dear Sir,—Would you be kind enough to invite the "Stroller" to take a trip up this creek, say as far as 10 above, and see if he can successfully reach that point on the beautiful new government road? We have been having high jinks in these parts lately, and oh such a merry time to boot, that I am confident the Stroller would have such a real good time also, and I am sure the poor fellow wants a change of air.

MAIL COMING VERY SLOWLY

Canoe Reached Stewart at 3:00 This Afternoon.

At three o'clock this afternoon word was received that the canoe mail reported at Selwyn at noon Friday had just arrived at Stewart, having made the remarkable run of 60 miles in a little over three days. If the same extraordinary rate of speed is maintained it may be expected upon those having it in charge not losing their nerve in the condition of the river today, but little changed since Saturday, notwithstanding a fall of some 15 degrees in the thermometer. About the city the ice is probably a trifle thicker, but from up river points it received the word that the similarity

MILLERS OF HOOTCH

Must Pay Large Fines or Serve There Time.

The moonshiners, Charles Williams, John and Oscar Skaari, who pleaded guilty Thursday to having been engaged in the illicit manufacture of whisky, were up before Police Magistrate Macaulay today for sentence. Before the judgment of the court was passed, Attorney Black on behalf of the defendants made a plea for leniency on account of them being foreigners and more or less ignorant of the laws of the land.

WAS SOLEMNLY DEDICATED

St. Andrew's Church the Scene of Impressive Ceremonies

One of the Most Beautiful Edifices in the North Continent, and in the Holy Worship of God.

The recently completed St. Andrew's Presbyterian church was dedicated yesterday at the morning service by devout parishioners gathered together to participate in the beautiful and impressive religious ceremonies. Long before the organ had pealed forth the first notes of the prelude every pew was occupied, the hushed assemblage gazing in admiration at the beauties of the edifice whose construction had been made possible only by their untiring efforts.

The Skaari brothers were told that they are strangers in a foreign land and should have been more careful in the employment chosen. They were each sentenced to pay $250 and costs or serve four months at hard labor. The whisky and stills together with all other appliances seized were ordered to have been confiscated and were ordered destroyed.

so, on that account, there may be no more concerts, at least not for awhile. What the audience lacked in numbers last night it more than made up in appreciation. Every number on the program was loudly applauded and on at least two of the orchestral numbers encores were given. The vocalists were in good voice, though that of Mr. McLeod showed some evidence of fatigue, the natural result to be expected after singing three long church services. Miss Jewell, being seriously indisposed, did not appear, which left the first half of the program without a vocal number. Mr. A. R. Walcott had his orchestra under excellent control, particular attention being paid to the lights and shades and the delicate phrasing of the pianissimo movements. Mr. Stewart's fine solo, "Cavalry Charge," was the most enjoyable number. In the latter half of the program the descriptive piece, "Cavalry Charge," was excellently rendered and considered by many the gem of the evening. The playing of "Mignon," a selection from Thomas' most beautiful opera, was ragged and should have had another rehearsal, though the tempo di polacca was faultlessly played by Mr. Miller, clarinetist. Miss Krieg sang an arie maria adapted to the intermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana" with violin obligato by Mr. Walcott, responding to two beautiful, clear high soprano notes, the peer of any voice ever heard in Dawson. Mr. McLeod, the new tenor, was heard in Sullivan's "Lost Chord" and a Scotch ballad, "Mary of Argyll," his reception being so demonstrative that he was compelled to respond to a second encore, singing one verse of "Annie Laurie." Sousa's latest hit, "Hall to the Spirit of Liberty," with heavy trombone effect, ended the program.

ding at the sale that he might bid in the property for his own profit at less than the reasonable value. The complaint asked that Mr. Denny be required to pay into court for the benefit of the plaintiff the difference between $17,320 and $100,000, and $25,000 additional for certain personal property claimed by appellant. To which a quit-claim deed had been given by the corporation to said Denny. In the superior court a demurrer to the sufficiency of the facts, to constitute a cause of action was sustained by the court, and this appeal is from that judgment. The supreme court in its opinion declares that it is the duty of the directors of an insolvent corporation to encourage the sale of the corporation's property at as high a figure as possible for the benefit of its creditors, rather than to suppress the bidding for their personal profit. The latter act would render the sale voidable, but from the fact that the appellant allowed the sale to be confirmed without protest, his complaint at this time being defective in that particular. But for the reason that the complaint alleges the sale of the $25,000 in personal property to the defendant without consideration, and such sales being void on those grounds, the judgment is reversed, with instruction to the lower court to overrule the demurrer.

Hall Came in Politics.

London, Oct. 19.—Hall Cain has contended to become a candidate for Manx parliament, in behalf of the town of Ramsay. His opponent is a local lawyer, Mr. Caine's address has created consternation even among his own supporters, for he advocates sweeping changes that might well be planks in a national platform of great reform party.

The Regina hotel, under the able management of Boniface Wilson, gave its opening dinner Saturday night, and it is believed that the hostelry is being destined by the satisfaction expressed and the patronage enjoyed at the initial meal, the house has assuredly entered upon an era of great prosperity. Many flattering encomiums were tendered to the management upon the elegance of the dining room, which in point of fact is fitted up in a manner creditable to any cafe in the great cities of the east.
