THE CURE OF RINGWORM

Disagreeable, Contagious Disease of Farm Animals.

The Symptoms Carefully Described—Treatment Carefully Applied—Usually Successful—A Fly Spray—September Notes.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)
Ringworm is a contagious disease to which all classes of animals, including man, are subject.
Calves and young cattle appear to be more susceptible to the trouble than other animals, but no age renders an animal immune. It is purely a skin disease, and is due to the presence of a vegetable parasite, which is readily capable of being conveyed from one animal to another by direct contact, the hands of the attendant, pails, stable utensils, clothing, harness, saddles, blankets, the contact of one animal with the stalls, etc., of affected animals, etc.
In like manner, curry-combs, brushes, rubbing cloths, etc., that are used on affected animals of any class, if used on other animals, become a fertile cause of infection.
Symptoms.
While any part of the animal may be the seat of the disease, the skin around the eyes and on the face, and on the neck and back, appears to be the favorite seat. The first symptom shown is usually an itchesness, which is followed by a slight form of eruption, which soon assumes the appearance of little yellowish scabs of a circular shape, the mass scales forming a circular space; hence the term "ringworm." A variable number of these circular patches may be noticed on different parts of the body. They are of a yellowish color when fresh, but become lighter in color as they grow older; the hairs become bristly, some break off, and some become split. When the disease is not checked the affected areas become more numerous and the patient apparently suffers acutely from itchesness, and sometimes rubs against solid objects with such force as to cause bleeding. If a scale be removed and the under surface examined by a magnifying glass, the parasite can be seen.
Treatment.
In order that the spread of the disease may be checked, it is necessary that great care be taken to avoid the conveyance of the virus from the diseased to healthy animals. Where practicable, it is well to remove all non-infected animals to non-infected premises. If this cannot be done, the diseased animals should be isolated, and the premises in which they had been kept should be disinfected by thoroughly sweeping and dusting, and then giving a thorough coat of an insecticide, as a hot 10 per cent. of one of the coal tar antiseptics or carbolic acid, or a coat of hot lime wash with 5 per cent. carbolic acid. This precaution is desirable on account of the virus lodging in stalls, bedding, etc., and infecting other animals.
Local treatment consist in moistening the scales with warm water and soap, or sweet oil, removing them in order to expose the unprotected surfaces of the affected areas. It is good practice to burn these scales. An insecticide, as tincture of iodine, or an ointment made of two drams white hellebore mixed with an ounce of vaseline, or, in fact, any reliable non-irritant insecticide, once or twice daily until cured.—J. H. Reed, V.S., O. A. College, Guelph.

A Fly Spray.

A good fly spray can be made from 4 1/2 quarts coal tar dip, 4 1/2 quarts fish oil, 3 quarts coal oil, 3 quarts whale oil, and 1 1/2 quarts of tar. Dissolve 3 lbs. laundry soap in water, add the ingredients of the spray and bring the whole up to 30 gallons with lukewarm soft water. This spray will keep off the flies and prevent the coats of the animals from becoming harsh.
The cows should be sprayed twice a day—in the morning after milking and in the afternoon when in the barn for silage of green feed. Thirty gallons of mixture will spray 40 cows twice a day for ten days.

September Notes.

Pecies should be divided and re-set during September or October. Do not forget to lift some of the geraniums, salvia, asters, or other plants in the yard or garden. They will bloom in the window this winter.
A drain tile set over each plant is a good method of blanching celery. Celery for winter storage should not be blanched before putting in the cellar.
Plant tulips in the garden or border the last of September or early October. Tulips, narcissus, daffodils and hyacinths planted now in pots or boxes and put in a cool place will give good flowers next spring.
Place squash on shelves in a dry room near the furnace or in a warm attic room. They must not be in a damp or frosty place. They will stand a great deal of heat and dry air, but little moisture. If you want squash or pumpkins to keep well, handle them carefully so they are not bruised.
Dahlias, cannas, gladioli, etc., should be dug and stored after the foliage has been killed by frost. The first part of October is usually the time.
Try to arrange a change of pasture for the sheep. Changing the pasture as frequently as possible minimizes losses through parasitic diseases.
Green tomatoes may be put under cover when frosty nights come and many will ripen.
Onions keep best in an airy, dry place. A moist cellar is not a good place. They decay quickly.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee.
