His Kidney Disease and Gravel

Cured by Dodd's Kidney

Pills

Tried Many Medicines But Got No

Rosedene, Ont., July 11.—(Special)
—Mr. Samuel J. Crow, the wellknown musician of this place, relates an experience that adds to the already great popularity of Dodd's Kidney Pills in this locality.

"I suffered for years with Kidney Trouble," says Mr. Crow, "which be-came aggravated with every attack of cold and caused me much agony. The disease developed into Gravel, when I was totally unfit for any-thing.

"I tried different remedies without the desired result and was in much misery when I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills when to my astonish-ment and delight I immediately began to recover.

"After using five boxes the ailment had entirely ceased and I was again enjoying perfect vigor, all of which I owe to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

The fact that Gravel yields so readily to Dodd's Kidney Pills is good news indeed, as it does away with those terrible operations that were supposed to be the only relief from this trouble.

QUAINT DUTCH FISHES

Fisher Folk of Southwest Holland Are Noble Specimens of Physical Manhood and Womanhood-Unique and Simple Life Among Them-Do Not Like Foreigners and Especially Dislike the Average Tourist, and With Good Reason

Deeply interesting is the southwest Holland coast, with the islands that fringe it. These islands constitute a part of the Province of Zeeland. They are inhabited by a population of fisher folk that have lived almost entirely to themselves for 300 years. Fashions do not disturb them, for they have their own, which never change. Each village has its own dialect, customs and style of dress, different from those on the next island. That seemingly constitutes variety enough for these quaint folk. The islanders do not like to have foreigners come among them, especiforeigners come among them, especially the average tourist, and no wonder. The tourist is too often a provincial person, whose brain is not provincial person, whose brain is not wide enough to appreciate anything different from what he has been accustomed to in his own little earth patch. The Dutch fisher folk have seen the average tourist come among them and make sport of the dress and customs, which they regard with absolute reverence, and they want none of these shallow-pated creatures nosing around their premises.

The Zeelanders have their own world, tiny, but complete. They marry among themselves, but outside the forbidden ties of consanguinity. They live their own forbidden ties of consanguinty, They have no use for anybody from anywhere else. Yet to the tourist who goes among them quietly and courteously they open their hearts and their houses—temporarily, that is.

In their homes is found the verttable flowering out of Dutch art in blue and white, in brass and tiling. Zeeland fisher people would delight alike the soul of the artist, the physiculturist, the total abstainer and the vegetarian. They are truly a splendid race. They have blue eyes and regular features, and the women have white and respectations. have white and rose complexions of dazzling beauty. They are strong and nobly formed. The fine physique of both men and women is perhaps due to their habits of living. Eating meat among them is a happening of the rarest. Alcohol in any shape or form they never touch. Their strongest beverage is weak tea or which they drink several times day, whenever they feel inclined. Perhaps, too, their abstinence from heating, overstimulating food and drink partly accounts for the high and pure morality that prevails among them. They are as honest and clean and virtuous and gentle as an old time Quaker.

Their habits are the simplest. Like

Their habits are the simplest. Like the Japanese, they have reduced physical needs to the ultimate of refined simplicity, and there they rest, a noble, courageous people. How the world of fashion and greed would envy them if it knew enough to! They are profoundly religious too. Dwellers upon and by the sea are nearly always so. Still the angelus rings at 6 o'clock when the working day is done in those Zeeland villages whose inhabitants are Roman Catholics. At the sound of it men and women sitting in their homes and women sitting in their homes rise and stand. Men take off their caps; women lay down their work Thus standing they cross themselves and tell their beads and bow their heads a few moments in silent prayer. prayer.

heads a few moments in silent prayer.

These fine people are well-to-do. There is no real poverty among them. Their bodily wants are few and easily satisfied. Yet both the men and women are fond of ornament and showy dress on holidays. But since among them fashion never changes valuable garments, jewels and furnishings are handed down from generation to generation.

Ornaments of solid gold and silver, gold headbands, coral necklaces with great golden clasps, are much worn by the women. They are expert at needlework and construct pieces of embroidery heautiful and splendid. The men are away at sea fishing all the week, returning to their homes

Lady Stanley.

Lady Stanley.

Lady Dorothy Tennant Stanley, widow of Sir Henry M. Stanley, greatest of African explorers, has many friends all over the world. Before her marriage to Sir Henry in 1890 Dorothy Tennant had attracted much attention as an artist of considerable talent and a social light of acknowledged brilliancy. It was always said of her that she would do something out of the ordinary, which she undoubtedly did when she married the greatest explorer of the age.

Her ambition was not wholly gratified until her husband had been elected to Parliament. It was in 1895 that he became an M.P. and four years later that he was knight-

Just when the mutilation of the dead by tearing the skin from the head began will never be known, for the origin is lost in the midst of ages, the record extending back beyond even the myth-The strongest castle could be reduced by siege if the garrison could be starved out. The strongest body has to give up the fight when starvation weakens it. There are more deaths from starvation than the world dreams of. When the stomach is diseased and the food eaten is not digested and assimilated, then the strength of the body begins to fail because of lack of nutrition, and the weak body falls an easy victim to the microbes of disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. In restores physical strength in the only possible way, by enabling the assimilation of the nutrition contained in food. ical period of man's existence. In the book of Maccabees it is recorded that at the termination of one of the battles of which that bloody history is so full the victorious soldiers tore the skin from the heads of their vanquished foes. This would be evidence that the custom of scalp taking was one of the indulgences even of those people of whom we have record in the Bible.

Be it as it may, it is an established fact that the custom is a universal one so far as savage man is concerned. Whether ethnologists can build a theory of a common origin of man from this or not, or whether this can be taken as an evidence that the Indians are the descendants of the lost Israelite tribes because of their habit of securing nementos of hair from their fallen ention of the nutrition contained in food.

"I was sick for over three years with a complication of stomach troubles," writes Mr. John H. Castona, residing at 2942 Arch St. Chicago, Ollinois. "Had tried every good physican I knew of, as well as many patent medicines, but received only temporary relief. One day a friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I immediately procured some and began its use. Commenced to gain the first week, and after I had taken only one bottle I could eat as well as any one without experiencing ill effects. I look five bottles, and to-day am happy to aunounce that I am as well and healthy as any one could be. I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

The selection of the selecti emies, is something time alone will develop. Be that as it may, it is a fact that all Indian tribes, to a certain extent, scalp their enemies who have fallen in battle.—London Globe.

An incident which will be interest ing to naturalists is told in a recent number of the Scotsman. One of the foresters in the employ of the Marquis of Lothian was returning from his work when he noticed a wild duck fly ng from a larch tree. On close examination he observed a common brown owl looking down from what appeared to be a nest in the cleft of the tree about thirty feet from the ground and apparently near the place from which the duck had flown. Curiosity prompted him to climb to the place, which he did with great difficulty. The owl on his approach flew off, and to his surprise he found in the nest two eggsan owl's and a wild duck's. It is not uncommon for both owls and ducks to build their nests high up on trees, but it is unheard of for one nest to be appropriated by both birds.

A Clever Minister.

"To the town of Norridgewock, in Maine," said a clergyman, " a strange chelonophagi of the Red sea, say that they utilized the shells of the turtles minister once came to preach. He preached duly, and after the sermon was over he mingled with the congre gation, expecting that some one would invite him to dinner. One by one, however, the congregation departed, offer ing the hungry minister no hospitality ing so strongly flavored with musk as to be almost uneatable. This peculiarand he began to feel anxious. Where was he to eat? As the last deacon was ity would seem to point to a diet of squid since these mollusca are exceed-ingly musky. But it may not be out of leaving the church the minister rushed up to him and shook him warmly by the hand. place to remark here that turtle flesh, even of the best sorts, is not nice. As

"'About thirty miles from here.' "The deacon reddened. 'Oh, you come and dine with me instead? he said."

A Gypay Prophecy. one can get a heaped plate of turtle steak with bread or jams or sweet po-tatoes ad lib. But I never knew even An English magazine relates a curi ous instance of gypsy prophecy. The third Earl of Malmesbury, as Lord Fitzharris, was riding to a yeomanry review near Christchurch, when his or ness. The fact is that in the cult of turtle soup we are following (a long way off, it is true) the example set by derly, some distance in front, ordered a gypsy woman to open a gate. The gypsy woman quietly waited till Lord Fitzharris and his staff rode up, when she addressed them, saying, "Oh, you think you are a lot of fine fellows now, of the sea swallows, the holothuria, or sea slug, and the sharks' fins because of their gelatinous qualities.—Frank but I can tell you that one day your bones will whiten in that field." Lord Fitzharris laughed and asked her whether she thought they were going to have a battle, adding it was not very likely in that case they would choose such a spot. More than forty years later the field was turned into a ceme-IS DELIGHTED

A Country of Linguists. Almost every native of Iceland, even the peasants and fishermen, can speak at least one foreign language besides his local Danish dialect. Some years ago it became a fad to study languages, a person speaking only tongue is looked down upon as ex tremely ignorant. English leads; then come German and French. Papers in these three languages are read extensively in Iceland and may be found in all the village reading rooms.

The Head and Feet. The connection between the head and feet is well known. A hot head is ordinarily relieved by a hot footbath. So cold feet tend to congest the brain and other internal organs. Sometimes cold feet are caused by tight lacing or tight fitting shoes. But it is as much a suicidal act to hasten death by com-pressing the lungs or the feet as by compressing the neck with a rope.

CHOICE LOTS FOR SALE

CHOICE LOTS FOR SALE

The lots still left in the Athletic Ground Survey are undoubtedly the best value offered in the city at the present time. Why is it that you can buy certain properties in the city to day for about one-half of the original cost? Simply because some person was foolish enough to select a lot in an undesirable locality because it was cheap, and then build a good house on it. Such properties must be sacrificed when put on the market in order to affect a sale. Be Wise, Get n a Good Location The best residence property is always the cheapest When you want to sel you will have scores of purchasers.

The man who would build a good house on this property worth from $1,500 to $3,500 could readily dispose of it before it would be ready for occupancy, at an advance of $500 to $500, and still give the purchaser good value, as the actual value of these lots is certainly double what is asked for them.
