THE CONCERT.

As usual the celebration closed with a grand concert at night in the City Hall, which was so crowded that it was necessary to seat part of the audience in the old hall. About eight o'clock the members of the Society and guests filed in the building, headed by their pipers, and took seats upon the platform. Chief Maitland of course occupied the chair, and seated beside him were Messrs. J. Jenkinson, President of St. George's, J. C. Coffee, President of St. Patrick's, Societies; Mayor Chase, Ald. Brill, James Innes, M.P., and others. In rear of the stage a Union Jack appeared, the arch in front was prettily fringed with Stuart tartan, and at either side of the stage, before the footlights, was a beautiful array of flowers. Mr. Maitland, who had the direction of the concert, as well as being Chief of the Society, instead of the address for which he was set down merely welcomed and thanked the large audience who had so kindly graced the occasion with their patronage. The accompanies of the evening was Mrs. Hill, organist of St. Andrew's church, the only exception to her playing being for Mr. Walker's song when Miss Jessie Walker accompanied him. The programme comprised two parts and twenty-three numbers, and was nearly doubled in consequence of encores. It opened with a Scotch ree' by Messrs. Hedridge, Henderson, J. A. Anderson, and Fotheringham. To dispose of all the dancing at once it may be mentioned here that during the evening Mr. Moon danced the Highland fling, Mr. Munroe the sword dance, little Misses Sinclair and McIntyre and the Sinclair and Masters Sinclair and McIntyre the Lorne Reel, little Miss Sinclair the Highland Fling, and Mr. Johnston the Sailor's Hornpipe in character. The Scotch dances of course were all given in Highland coerume. Such splendid dancing, and such a Filing, and Mr. Johnston the Sailor's Hornpipe in character. The Scotch dances of course were all given in Highland costume. Such splendid dancing, and such a variety of it, has never been seen on the Guelph stage before, and every member was enthusiastically applauded. Miss Hastings was the first singer to appear.

She first gave "Doun the Burn, Davie Love," as an encore,one of the songs which suit her fine voice so well, "Oh, How Delightful," then in the 2nd part "The hay is i' the mow," for all of which he won fresh encomiums. Mr. Hugh Walker came next with "Macgregor's Gathering," for the stirring rendering of which he was recalled and gave "The Land O' the Leal" as softly and as sweetly as the other had been fiery. Miss Jennie Cotter, of Harriston, made her first appearance in ther had been hery. Miss Jennie Cotter, of Harriston, made her first appearance in Guelph. Her first number was "Jock O' Hazledean," as an encore "I will Beturn," then in the second part "I heard a Wee Bird Singing." She has a sweet voice, renders her songs in good taste, and will prove a taking singer after this for future concerts here. Next in order came Mr. Fox, of Toronto, who sang "Poor, but a Gentleman still," in character, as an encore "Miss Fogerty's cake," and as a third encore an imitation of a school boys recitation of "The charge of the Light Brigade." In the second part he gave the "Laird of Cockpen" which was probably his best effort, as an encore made a stump speech and as another encore gave a comic Brigade." In the second part he gave the "Laird of Cockpen" which was probably his best effort, as an encore made a stump speech and as another encore gave a comic recitation. The fact that whereas Mr. Fax was down for only two numbers and that the demands of the audience increased these to six shows that he was appreciated. Mr. Fax is really an excellent comic character, having a far better right to that claim than many Guelph concertigoers have seen for some time. Miss Ella Colc. of London, also made her first appearance here, singing "Caller Herrin" then for an encore "Ch, whistle and I'll come to ye," and in the second part "Oa' the Airts the windcan blaw." She is a pleasing singer, with a sweet cultivated voice and was thoroughly appreciated. Mrs. Hill gave a piano solo in the first part and she with Miss Maitland a piano duet in the second in both of which excellent fingering and much good taste were displayed. Mr. E. F. B Johnston favored the audience with a humorous, Scotch reading which created a great deal of merriment. Mr. Maitland himself comes last in mention though not least in merit. His sing "Jessie's Dream or the Relief of Lucknow," was a grand rendering and well deserved the rapturous applause it received. He next gave "Scots wha hae" with equal power and expression. The concert closed about eleven o'clock with "Auld Lang Syne" and "God save the Queen" by the company. In conclusion it only remains to be said that the management of both the games and the concert deserve credit for, and are to be congratulated upon the success of the celebratior, and none more so than the indefatigable Secretary, Mr. Wm. Stewart, who has been an ardent worker in the interests of the Society. If the Guelph Society had only been successful this year in sustaining the reputation of the games in the face of the poposition offered at Brantford hy would have done well; but they have been this and at the same time managed to draw such a crowd as will leave them with a handsome surplus on hand after paying all expenses.

Mr. John Yule, Manager of the Gas Works, has returned from the Old Coun-try looking and feeling like a new man. He enjoyed his trip greatly.

Winds mostly west and north, fine their approval of his conduct, their confidence in his honesty, their admiration of his ability and his devotion to the popular cause, and to hear the great public quastions of the day discussed. That the electors of North Weilington regard the N. E. as a mookery, a delusion, and a anare; and that they disapprove of the misgovernment extrawagance, and corruption which have brought the country to its present condition, was abundantly evident.

"It is always difficult to estimate accurately the number who take part in such a demonstration. At the place where the meeting was to be held seats were provided for six thousand. These would not have been sufficient, but the people, eager to see and hear, preferred to 'stand, crowding as close to the platform as they could get. For some hours there must have been at least seven or eight thousand persons present, and of these nearly all manifested the fullest sympathy with the Liberal leader. And he must be a captious Tory indeed who would say that they were not as enthusiastic as intellingent men could be. Every statement was listened to attentively, every argument had full weight, every hit told, expressions of assent and approval were frequent, ringing cheers was frequent, loud and heaty.
