

When Nellie scalded her arm

The tea-kettle slipped—she grabbed for it—and there was a great scald that hurt like "axty". The skin came off, too. She at once put on

Mentholatum

The pain and the burning, "drawing" sensation soon left—and the antiseptic action prevented infection where the skin was off. It was all healed gently in a few days.

The arm was smooth and white. Mentholatum is good for burns, cuts, stred feet and other "little ills".

Try Making Your Own Cough Remedy

You can cure about $2, and have a better remedy than the ready-made kind. Really done.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple, home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (30 cents worth), pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is 16 ounces of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made and save easily $2. Taste pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

RED BANK ICY BUT PURITAN

The Mayor Would Not Let the Soldiers Clean the City Streets on Sunday.

Red Bank, N. J., Feb. 20.—From the general appearance of things just now this town will not be thawed out of the snow and ice until the robin nest again or the baseball season is in full swing. If folks in New York think they are frozen in, they ought to see Red Bank. A lot of people are blaming the ironclad covering on Mayor Arthur Patterson.

Mayor Patterson might have turned Red Bank into a spotless town a week ago Sunday if he had not refused the offer of the commander of Camp Vail to send 100 soldiers here to clean up.

"No, no!" said Mayor Patterson, indignantly, "there shall be no work on Sunday in Red Bank."

The soldiers did not appear after being turned down, and no more kind offers of assistance came from the Commander, who was acting in a spirit of gratefulness, since the Red Bank Fire Department had gone to the assistance of Camp Vail, three miles away, at Little Silver, N. J., when there was a fire there.

Things got worse all last week with no soldiers volunteering and nobody else appearing for work. On Sunday the chairman of the street committee, Howard Lippincott, got desperate and tried to make a showing. The Mayor again objected to Sunday work. Mr. Lippincott explained that the Mayor was not working and asked the Mayor to take a look and see for himself.

"That's right," said the Mayor.

ing our opinion on the subject matters involved and our ruling as to the condition, so that he could have been removed sooner under the care of his friends and the physician called and received the attention which Dr. Morrison swore was required.

The Use of the Telephone.

In the future any prisoner requiring the service of a physician should be permitted to call one personally, and if not in a fit physical condition to do so the police officer on duty should go to the instance of the prisoner, or on his own motion if he feels that such attendance is reasonably required and necessary.

In this connection considerable evidence was given in respect to the use of the telephone in the guard room by prisoners, and Officer Yerxa swore that he had been instructed not to allow prisoners to use the telephone to communicate with their friends and thus convey information of their predicament. We cannot help but think that Officer Yerxa, in view of the evidence given by the Chief of Police and other officers, must have misunderstood his instructions in this regard, but if he did not and the instructions were such as he understood them to be, then such instructions should be and they are hereby cancelled and the Chief of Police is hereby directed to issue fresh instructions to the force to allow any prisoner to use the telephone to communicate with his friends or his solicitor, if physically capable of so doing, and if not physically capable of so doing then the officer in charge, upon request of such prisoner, should so communicate. This privilege, however, should not be granted into a license but should be confined to reasonable use, of which the officer in charge for the time being must be the sole judge.

Declare Chief Acted Within Reasonable Time.

With respect to the second charge, it may be observed that this charge is closely associated with the first, it is in effect that the Chief of Police showed discrimination against the prisoner in question in detaining him in confinement, although as alleged he had previously allowed other prisoners to be released under similar circumstances. We have had some difficulty in arriving at the conclusion on the question of discrimination. It is true that other prisoners have been released from time to time under similar circumstances. Having regard to the observations hereinbefore made on the question generally, we are of opinion that at first the Chief of Police did refuse to grant the request that the prisoner should be released and delivered to his friends to be taken care of upon making the usual deposit. It is not denied that the prisoner was drunk and therefore properly arrested. It was clearly established in evidence that he had given the police some difficulty earlier in the evening and that he had still earlier in the same evening on another occasion refused to call on his own and had not had time to sober off. In fact, at the time the request was made to the Chief of Police for the release of the prisoner, by the complainant, the Chief had not been advised of the prisoner's illness. He had only been locked up for about an hour and had not had time to sober off. In fact, at the time the request was made to the Chief of Police for the release of the prisoner, one of the officers on duty warned the Chief not to be "bluffed" by the prisoner. All these incidents no doubt influenced the mind of the Chief of Police in respect to the prisoner and caused him to act less quickly than he would otherwise have done, but when the Chief became fully advised of the facts, he gave permission within a reasonable time for the prisoner's removal.

In our opinion the facts fall somewhat short of proving direct discrimination, although they may have a tendency that way.

We, therefore, find that, technically speaking, the charge filed in the matters involved in this investigation were not of a serious nature but a good purpose has been served in holding the investigation by clearly defining

GERMAN PROCESS ARTIFICIAL WOOL

According to L'Exportateur Belge, there is considerable interest in Germany in a patent recently taken out on a process for the manufacture of artificial wool.

In principle, the process consists of compressing wool scraps which cannot be otherwise utilized—shreds, ends, short fibres, washing wastes, etc.—and soaking them in a viscous solution of cellulose or one of its compounds with a small percentage of glue; the product thus obtained is cut into thin sheets and strips, which can be treated after the manner of paper yarn. The Germans claim that yarn thus produced possesses all the properties of real wool. It is made waterproof by treating it in the press of manufacture with compounds of chromium and later with formaldehyde and tannin, after which the product will resist the action of boiling water. The addition of glycerine gives it sufficient flexibility.

This process is now being modified by the mixture with the woolen waste of a certain percentage of paper pulp and treating the product with sulphuric acid and zinc chloride. The addition of various other compounds gives it the necessary flexibility and makes it waterproof.

watching the long drawn out movements of the alleged shovellers. "They are not working, that's sure."

"Well, they are drawing down $7.50 a day for it, whatever they are doing," said Mr. Lippincott rather testily.

"The idea of turning down those volunteers from Camp Vail a week ago, scandalous outrage!" was the sense of an indignation meeting held to see what could be done about the snow.

20 AMERICANS IN PERIL IN SYRIA

Anxiety Felt for Party Near Aleppo—Bandits Terrorizing the Country.

Constantinople, Feb. 20.—There is much uneasiness concerning the fate of 20 Americans at Marash, north of Aleppo, Turkey in Asia, where a reign of terror has existed since Jan. 21. Word was received from them on Feb. 1, when their food supply was short, and the Christian refugees were greatly alarmed. A message received Feb. 13, however, seemed to indicate all were safe.

In occupying Cilicia the French troops frequently took over American mission properties and schools, which were the best buildings and the easiest to defend. Consequently, the Americans were regarded by the Turks as Franchmen. There have been many conflicts between the French occupying the district and the Turks. The French are using Armenian and Senegalese troops, which apparently has excited hostility among the Moslem tribes.

Rustem Bey, nationalist delegate from Angora, told the correspondent that James Perry and Frank S. Johnson, representatives of the American Y. M. C. A., killed recently near Aintab, were mistaken for Frenchmen by natives, who had no grievance against Americans. He declared that Americans were not in danger in Aintab and Cilicia if properly distinguished from the French.

Rustem Bey said that the trouble at Marash started through a controversy between Armenians and Turks, eventually involving the native tribes in a siege of the town.

The American committee for relief in the near East today received a message dated Feb. 13 from its offices at Adana, Asiatic Turkey, which was construed to mean that all the Americans had escaped from Marash (north-east of Adana and north of Aleppo) southward to Islah, which is on the railroad. The message says: "Information this morning is that the personnel of 2,000 refugees retired to Islah with Col. Norman. There was extreme destitution and many were sick or wounded. There is no information from Aintab or Madj. The situation is serious."

In Siam some of the women trust their children to the care of elephant nurses, and it is said that the trust is never betrayed. The babies play about the huge feet of the elephants, who are very careful never to hurt their little charges.

JUVENILE CRIME DISTURBS ST. JOHN

St. John, Feb. 20.—The police believe they have rounded up a gang of juvenile criminals who are said to be responsible for an epidemic of purse snatching which has been prevalent here recently. Yesterday two of the gang, which are known as the "Go-Boys," among themselves, were given terms in the Reformatory, and two more who were arrested last night are said to have confessed to a long list of bag snatching and pocket picking escapades. The lads' ages range from nine to thirteen. The record of their misdeeds totals an amount exceeding $200, the police say, and covers a period of about five years.
