Mr. St. George. It expressed the very sessence of scorn.

"What are you saying sir? That the engagement will never be fulfilled?"

Mr. St. George mit the viscount's anger equally. He was a plain-specking, right-unided man, and had loss rev-rence for rank (as rank alone) in his whole body than Mr. Str. George had in his little fliger. It was with the senior pyther that Lord Temple had hitherto consulted. But now that Mr. St. George had got face to face, and broken turough the official trammels of lawyer and client, the social trammels due to rank, he was determined to speak out his mind.

"My lord, I am saying nothing that the facts of the case will not justify. How can the enagement ever be furfilled when you are daily putting it more and more out of your power to do se? When you were first enaged to Miss Dane-bury, years ago, you were in a better position to marry then you are new."

"The Good Cld Days."

TRENION, N. J., Nov. 22.—The presentment of the Mercer county grand jury recommending the establishment of the whipping-post as a punishment for wife-beaters has caused considerable talk in this city. Newspapers in many of the largerities of this State have taken up the theme and urge that such a law be enacted by the next Legislature. There are some, however, who are of the opinion that it would be a return to barbarism. But those who compose the grand jury have taken the matter in hand, and it is probable that one of the Mercer county members of the Legislature will introduce a bill early in the session. In Delaware and Maryland such a law exists, and wifebating has greatly decreased since the advent of the whipping-posts. Men prominent in political law and business in this city have been interviewed upon the labil abundance in the whipping-posts, and all agree that the increase in this city have been interviewed upon the later that the increase in this city have been interviewed upon the later that the increase in this city have been interviewed upon the later that the increase in this city have been interviewed upon the later that the increase in the lat And the six of the second of t
