THE ENGLISH SUNDAY

The Germans Are Strenuously Opposing Its Importation.

London, Oct. 17.—Germans have no more friendly feeling towards the Eng- this effect was unanimously adopted. lish Sabbath than Britons entertain towards the Contenental Sunday. Just recently a conference was held at Frankfort, which had for its object the promotion of the observance of the Sabbath and the introduction of the rigid laws which prevail on that day throughout England. The very idea seems to have the Germans' teeth on edge, for in the same town on Tuesday a mass have caused the serious explosion in the introduction of the English Sunday into Germany. The meeting was characterized by great enthusiasm. Herr Steinbach, the principal speaker, declared that the "English Sunday" into the public-houses to drown the from 7 a.m. until 11 p.m., and leave Sabbatarian dullness in beer.
