Washington Senators Lost a Double-Header at Windy City Saturday

By 6 to 4 and 2 to 1. Chicago, Aug. 28.-Chicago won both games of a double-header from Washington, 6 to 2 and 2 to 1, today. Grav performed the peculiar feat of holding the White Sox to one hit, but allowed them to score six runs without an error by his support.

In the second inning he gave eight bases on balls, and seven of those came in succession, forcing in five runs. The only hit was a high bounder Unglaub's head with which Dougherty opened the second.

Chicago won the second by scoring one run in each of the eighth and ninth. Killifer's fumble on Tannehill's bounder allowed Parent to score the winning run with two out in the ninth. Scores:
