BIGGEST HOTEL ON EARTH.

John Jacob Astor Will Put $8,000,00

Into a New York Tavern. It is announced that the greatest hotel on earth will be opened in New York November 1, 1897. It will surpass the Waldorf in size, and, while its interior may not be more beautiful, it will be far more imposing. This superb structure is to be erected by John Jacob Actor under the percent supervision of structure is to be erected by John Jacob Astor, under the personal supervision of George Boldt, the proprietor of the Waldorf. It is to stand upon the ground now covered by the Astor mansion, at Fifth avenue and Thirty-fourth street. Mrs. Astor and John Jacob Astor are now building a house at Fifth avenue and Sixty-fifth street, which, it is expected, will be ready for occupancy in about six months. As soon as Mrs. Astor moves the 'old homestead will be torn down and the work on the foundation of the 'new hotel will be started. torn down and the work on the foundation of the new hotel will be started. The hotel will face 100 feet on Fifth avenue, and run 360 feet on Thirty-fourth street, and will be from sixteen to twenty stories high. While it will adjoin the Waldorf, and be under the management of Mr. Boldt, it will be run entirely distinct from that hotel. Under his contracts with both the Astors, Mr. Boldt has leases for both hotels, which cover a long period of years. To a New York reporter Mr. Boldt said: "My whole aim will be to make the hotel the crowning glory of the greater New York. The rooms, of course, will be larger than the rooms in the Waldorf. The dining-room will face Fifth avenue, and will have a rooms in the Waldorf. The dining-room will face Fifth avenue, and will have a seating capacity for 1,000 people. The cafe and lounging rooms will be much larger than those of the Waldorf. On the second floor, on the Thirty-fourth street side, I intend to have a ball-room 100 feet square, without a pillar in it. Of course this is going to be a great piece of work for the architects. No high building has yet been erected where this amount of floor space has been clear. Henry J. Hardenburg, the architect of the Waldorf, will draw the plans for the new hotel. He says the ball-room can be built as I have planned. There will be assembly rooms and apartments for be assembly rooms and apartments for germans and small receptions. In short, I intended to have a hotel the capacity of which will meet the demands of our social and political life. In the new structure there may go on at one time on the same night a ball, a banquet, a lecture, and two or three assemblies without a clash. There may also be 1,000 guests in the hotel at the same time and no one be disturbed by crowding or sounds."

THOMAS MCCRAKEN

Schwartz, Dupee & Co., Chicago, wired Dixon: The wheat market to-day was irregular and unsettled. Foreign news was conflicting and rather confusing. Continental cables reported better and as bringing buying orders, while Liver-pool was reported to-day. Clear-resolution as the seaboard: Wheat and flour were 380,000 bushels. Receipts in the Northwest were again large. The principal buying to-day was for short account. The market to-morrow will be influenced by the Government report, which comes out this afternoon, and the cables in the morning. Light receipts to that of the past few days. Oats kept within 1-4c range, closing where they did Tuesday. May sold between 32 1-2c and 32 3-4c, and closed at 32 5-8c. Charters were reported for 125,000 bushels. Samples were steady. Provisions ruled lower and only fairly active. There was a rally at midday on covering of shorts and by scalepers, but the closing was again lower. Indications are for a slow, dragging market.
