

The Canadian Magazine for September

Napoleon's Burial and Exhumation.—Interesting reminiscences of an eye witness. Edited by Dr. A. H. U. Colquhoun, Deputy-Minister of Education for Ontario. Well illustrated.

The Blot.—The third act of Arthur Stringer's fascinating drama. Drawing by J. W. Beatty.

Scientific Ghost Stories.—A consideration of attempts made by scientists to explain psychic phenomena.

Bonanzas of the Slokan.—Harold Sands contributes another stirring account of mining experiences in British Columbia.

Love's Recompense.—A fine short story by Marian Bower.

The Daughter of the Horse-Leech.—A serio-comic, short story by Peter McArthur.

Red Men of Vancouver Island.—A plea for control of lands, by Earnest McGaffey.

St. John: The City of Loyalists.—A fine account of the history of New Brunswick's Capital, by Emily P. Weaver.

The Struggle for Prince Edward Island.—Ida Burwash contributes an appreciative review of an old historical record.

THE CANADIAN MAGAZINE

TORONTO, CANADA

TO ANY ADDRESS IN GREAT BRITAIN, IRELAND AND MOST OF THE COLONIES THE
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS TWO DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS A YEAR POSTPAID